Cancers Cured!

OR NO CHARGE.

DR. KINGSLEY,
OF ROME, N. Y.,

Has discovered a perfect cure for Cancers without the use of the knife. Thousands of cases cured can testify to the efficacy of this plan of treatment. This preparation will destroy the specific nature of most Cancers in from ten to sixty minutes. Even in those large Cancerous affections of the breast, from which so many females die annually, my specific is equally as effectual as in those smaller surface Cancers. Ninety-nine out of a hundred of all those persons who have died from Cancer, could easily have been cured. Cancer has been considered from time immemorial the greatest scourge of the human race; but the time will come when all shall see that it is as remediable as any other disease. At the same time remedies are given to purify the blood and fortify the system against a renewed attack. In all cases, if the Cancer is not too far advanced, a perfect cure is warranted, or no charge.

Most persons are greatly deceived in regard to the first symptoms and appearance of Cancer, considering it very painful from the commencement. This is a sad mistake, (causing the death of thousands,) there being but little or no pain until the Cancer is far advanced. The only symptoms for months, and in some cases even for years, is occasionally either a stinging, itching, smarting, burning, creeping or shooting sensation, and in some cases not even any of these. Nearly all of those kernels or lumps that occur in the female breast, and also those unnatural appearances in the form of crusts or warty excrescence, which appear in either sex on the face, lips, nose, eye lids, or any other part of the surface, are cancers. Cancer is very easily cured in its early stage, consequently it is of the very greatest importance that all thus afflicted should have immediate treatment; as thousands of very valuable lives have been lost from pure neglect, having been misguidedly by physicians having no knowledge of the disease, who, by calling it Scrofula, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum or some other non-terrifying disease, lull this unfortunate class in the cradle of ignorance, until upon the very verge of death, when, to hide such ignorance, the physician tells the patient that it has finally turned to Cancer, and cannot be cured. There is no such thing as turning to Cancer. Whatever ends in Cancer, began in Cancer. Be no longer deceived. If you have the slightest suspicion of trouble, seek immediate relief and thereby preserve life.

Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, Heart Disease, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Fits, St. Vitus' Dance, Neuralgia, Scald Head, Piles, Tape Worms, or Worms of any kind, all Diseases of the Skin, Pimples, Scrofula or King's Evil, Fever Sores, Spinal Diseases, Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsy, Diabetes, Kidney Diseases, Gravel, and all Diseases peculiar to Males or Females, successfully treated.

Warts, Corns, Bunions, Moles, Wens, Birth-Marks, Tumors &c., removed. Especial attention given to the treatment of Crooked Feet, Legs, Arms, Spine, Neck, and all other deformities. Cross Eyes straightened, Hare-Lips cured by an entirely new plan of operating. Operations for Stone in the Bladder, Polypus, Strangulated Hernia, Fistula, or the cure of False and Crooked Joints, and all deformities of the Eye Lids, Nose, Lips, Neck &c., resulting from Burns or Wounds, performed upon the most scientific principles. All Diseases of the Eye and Ear treated with very great success.

Especial attention given to the treatment of all diseases originating from the errors of misguided Youth.

Patients from a distance, except in Surgical and Cancer cases, by sending a full description of their symptoms, can have medicines sent by Mail or Express, and be treated at home.

All letters promptly answered, and medicines ordered, immediately forwarded.

The Doctor is a graduate with an experience of over fourteen years in the practice of medicine, twelve of which have been spent in Rome.

N. B.—All persons troubled with Asthma should send for Dr. Kingsley's ASTHMA SPECIFIC, which is warranted to relieve any case or money refunded.

Send for DR. KINGSLEY'S AGUE SPECIFIC, which is purely vegetable and never fails to cure.

All troubled with a Cough of any kind should be sure to send for DR. KINGSLEY'S COUGH BALSAM, which cures as by magic.

For Further Particulars, Write the Doctor.

THE REYNOLDS

Mower & Reaper KNIVES,

MANUFACTURED EXCLUSIVELY BY US, UNDER REYNOLDS' PATENTS for Tempering Steel without the aid of any liquids, received the only award at the Great National Implement Trial, held at Auburn, in 1866. They possess the following superior qualities:

1. They are made with a fine Cutlery Temper at the edges.
2. They hold only a Spring Temper at the center and at the heel.
3. They are warranted perfectly uniform, every knife being exactly alike in temper.
4. We warrant they can be ground from 8 to 10 times without losing their cutting edge.
5. Finally, we will warrant them to cut from 40 to 50 acres of grain or grass without being once ground.

We are the sole Manufacturers of these Knives in the United States.

INTRODUCTION.

In presenting to the public the initial number of the "Gazetteer and Directory of Rensselaer County," the publisher desires to return his sincere thanks to all who have so kindly assisted in obtaining the valuable information which it contains, and without whose aid it would have been impossible to collect it in the brief space of time in which it is essential that all such works should be completed. Especially are our thanks due to the several editors of The Troy Times, Troy Whig, Troy Press and Lansingburgh Gazette, for the uniform kindness which has been evinced in calling public attention to the author's efforts; and to the following persons, viz., E. W. Greenman, County Clerk, G. Robertson, Jr., Assessor Internal Revenue, Troy; W. L. Cottrell, School Commissioner, Poestenkill; F. H. Stevens, Librarian of Troy Young Men's Association; S. V. R. Miller, Mechanicsville; J. F. Knickerbocker, Schaghticoke; Rev. A. H. Brush, Nassau; and to many others in various parts of the County who have kindly volunteered their aid.

The following works were consulted in its preparation: "French's Gazetteer of the State of New York;" "Geological Report;" "Documentary History of New York;" "History of Rensselaerwyck;" "Pictorial Field Book of the Revolution;" "Reminiscences of Troy;" "New York State Census Reports of 1865," and many other works.

That errors may have occurred in so great a number of names and dates as are here given, is probable, and that names have been omitted that should have been inserted is quite certain. We can only say that we have exercised more than ordinary diligence and care in this difficult and complicated feature of book-making. Of such as feel aggrieved in consequence of error or omission, we beg pardon, and ask the indulgence of the reader in marking such as were observed in the subsequent reading of the proofs, and which are noted in the Errata, following the Introduction.

The Map of the County was engraved with great care by Messrs. "Weed, Parsons & Co.," of Albany, and, it is believed, will prove a valuable acquisition to the work.

The Advertisers represent some of the leading business men and firms of the County, and also many enterprising and reliable dealers in other parts of the State. We most cheerfully commend them all to the patronage of those under whose observation these pages may come.

With thanks to friends generally, we leave our work to secure the favor which earnest endeavor ever wins from a discriminating business public.

HAMILTON CHILD.

ADDITIONS AND CORRECTIONS.

GAZETTEER.

Berlin.—Berlin, (p. v.) situated on Little Hoosick River, contains two hotels, two churches, several stores, two shoe shops, one cigar store, two blacksmith shops, one grist mill, one manufactory of felloes and shafts, one foundry, two shirt factories, one harness shop, one livery stable and about 300 inhabitants.

Brunswick.—Potatoes are extensively raised in this town.

Cropseyville (p. v.) contains a grist mill, saw mill, cider mill, vinegar manufactory, a woolen mill, one store, one harness shop, one wagon shop and a blacksmith shop.

Haymerville (p. v.) contains a store, blacksmith shop, shoe shop, school house, cider mill and about a dozen houses.

Millville, (Eagle Mills p. o.) on the Poesten Kil, contains two stores, two churches, M. E. and Disciples, one hoe manufactory, (Planter's Hoe Co., capital $50,000,) one wrench manufactory, one foundry, one hotel, one wagon shop, four blacksmith shops, one saw mill, one shoe shop, one school house and about 500 inhabitants.

Clum's Corners, one mile west of Cropseyville, contains one hotel, one wagon shop, one blacksmith shop, a school house and 9 dwelling houses.

Center Brunswick (p. v.) contains one paint shop, one blacksmith shop, one shoe shop, a school house and fifteen or twenty houses. There is an M. E. church about half a mile east of the village, and a Lutheran church about a mile east, on stone road.

East Brunswick Cotton Factory, for the manufacture of yarns, warps and twines, has a capital of $3,000.

East Brunswick Paper Mill, one mile north of Cropseyville, on the Quacken Kil, has a working capital of from $2,000 to $3,000. The estimated value of the buildings and machinery is $25,000.

John Fonda came from Albany Co. to this town about 1750. He took up 500 acres of land on the Van Rensselaer Tract. Mr. Fonda was robbed by the Tories during the Revolution. Some of these Tories were executed, and Mr. Fonda took from one of them a pair of silver knee buckles, which had been previously stolen from him by this Tory. Jenett Fonda, daughter of John Fonda, married Samuel I. McChesney, the first Assemblyman from the town of Brunswick. She was one of three who first attended school in Troy. She died in this town January 26th, 1870, aged 90 years.

Hiram Derrick owns a part of the farm given to Major Banker for services in the Revolution. Major Banker was the first Supervisor of the town of Brunswick. He built the house in which Mr. Derrick now lives. It is supposed to be the oldest house in the County and is still in good condition. The house is a large one, with fire-places in each room, in one of which is to be seen the China tile, ornamenting the fire-place, the only house in the County where this is to be found. There are eight good sized rooms on the ground floor.

Henry Dater moved on the farm where his son, Henry, now lives, 100 years ago. A barn standing on the premises was the first frame barn erected in the town. All the small timbers, braces, and everything but the boards and shingles, were hewn.

The first auger factory in Brunswick was started by Major Joseph H. Allen, Eagle Mills. The first grist mill was built by — Cross, in 1772, with no tools but an ax, saw and auger. The man who tended this mill, it is said, would put the grain in the hopper, start the mill, and go outside while it was grinding, for fear of the mill falling down.

East Greenbush.—The house in East Greenbush, now occupied by S. B. Sleight, is 150 years old. The brick of which its walls are built, were brought from Holland.

Greenbush.—The Convent of Mercy was opened in September 1863. The original cost of the building was $20,000. It is in charge of twelve Sisters. Connected with it are parish select and industrial schools, with accommodations for 50 pupils. The present number is 25.

Nassau.—The Reformed Church, at Nassau, was organized in the fall of 1803, by Rev. Jacob Sickles, of Kinderhook. The petition for organization was signed by sixty families, and presented July 19, 1803. The Consistory were as follows: Elders Dennis Harder, Henry Goes, Nicholas Smith and Abram Welch; Deacons, George Melius, Michael T. Smith, Wm. Jacoby and Nicholas T. Smith. Rev. Christian Bork was the first pastor. The first house of worship was erected in 1803; the present one was erected in 1819, and finished in 1820. The present number of members is 289. The present pastor is Rev. Alfred H. Brush. The original cost of the Church edifice was $3,500; the present value of the same is $12,000. The present house will comfortably seat about 600.

North Nassau (p. o.) is a hamlet.

Schodack.—East Schodack, (p. v.) in the north-east part, contains a saw mill, hotel, barber shop, harness shop, two shoe shops, two blacksmith shops, a carriage factory and about 100 inhabitants.

Schodack Center (p. o.) is a hamlet, and contains two hotels, a blacksmith and carriage shop.

Troy City.—Troy Catholic Male Orphan Asylum was founded in 1851. It was then known as St. Mary's Male Orphan Asylum. The building of the present edifice was commenced in 1865, and will cost, when completed, $110,000. It is 164 feet in length, and 72 in width. The Troy Catholic Male Orphan Asylum Association consists of one representative from each of the Catholic parishes of the city of Troy and the village of Lansingburgh; were organized as a Board of Trustees in 1863, and incorporated January 5th, 1864, under the general "Act for the incorporation of Benevolent, Charitable, Scientific and Missionary societies," (passed May 12, 1848.) Since that time, regular annual reports have been made to the State Comptroller. The Asylum is under the immediate control of Peter Gadory, the Treasurer of the Board. The average number of orphans during the year 1869 was 135. Orphans are admitted between the ages of 1 and 12 years, and all over the age of 12 are put to trades, or placed in situations. The orphans chiefly consist of children of the working class and of the deceased soldiers.

In connection with the Orphan Asylum, it is proposed to open an Asylum for deaf and dumb boys, to be under the charge of Brothers who have received an education for the special end of teaching and taking charge of Mutes.

The Convent of the Sisters of St. Joseph Society was formed in 1861. The objects of the institution are education and relief. The present edifice was commenced in 1867, and will cost when finished $32,000. The society has 20 members. The common school employs six teachers and has 500 pupils. The select school has 75 pupils. The Free Day Home has an average attendance of 150 per day. The Convent is under the supervision of St. Joseph's Church.

Charles H. Gardner, Merchant Tailor, No. 34 Fourth Street, Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 266. He keeps a choice selection of goods of Foreign and Domestic manufacture, and makes them up to order in a manner to suit customers. Though dress does not make the man, he looks a great deal better when well dressed. Let all interested parties call at Gardner's.

Richard H. Reille, Solicitor of Patents, Designer and Draughtsman, Room 2, corner of River and Fourth Streets, Troy, N. Y., publishes a card on page 266. Mr. Reille will prepare Drawings and Specifications in the best manner and do all other work usually expected of a first-class Draughtsman. Give him a call.

William Fleming, Plumber, Steam and Gas Fitter, 12, 14 and 16 Congress Street, Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 274. Mr. Fleming has an excellent assortment of Pumps of various kinds, as well as Pipes, and everything usually found in a first-class establishment. He will attend promptly to all orders and execute all work to the satisfaction of his patrons.

The Lansingburgh Gazette, published by Alex. Kirkpatrick, Lansingburgh, N. Y., was established in 1798. It is one of the oldest newspapers north of New York, and has for many years been a welcome messenger to the homes of many in this and adjoining counties. It has a large circulation and is a valuable advertising medium. The Job Printing department is furnished with all the facilities for first-class work. See advertisement on page 258.

Lyon & Dolan, manufacturers of Iron Railings, Doors, Shutters &c., No. 507 River Street, Troy, N. Y., advertise on page 250. Those in want of any style of Iron Gratings or anything else in this line, will find no better stock to select from than that kept by Lyon & Dolan. We commend them to the patronage of the public, feeling assured that their customers will find them honorable and fair dealing men, and their work as good as the best. Give them a call.

Buell & Austin, Insurance and Real Estate Agents, No. 251 River Street, Troy, N. Y., advertise on page 294. They represent Fire Insurance Companies whose assets amount to more than $15,000,000. They are prepared to insure in first-class companies upon as low terms as is consistent with security. The Equitable Life Assurance Society, which they represent, has assets to the amount of $12,000,000. Those who have Real Estate to sell or those who wish to buy will find it for their advantage to confer with Messrs. Buell & Austin, who will give them any desired information.

Mortimer Hull, proprietor of Center Berlin Hotel, advertises on page 316. He also deals in Dry Goods, Groceries and all articles usually kept in a country store.—Our readers will find him gentlemanly in his department, and ever ready to supply their wants at reasonable rates.

Thomas H. O'Brien, importer of Brandies, Wines and other Liquors, Duffey's Block, No. 458 River Street, Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 276. Mr. O'Brien deals extensively in Liquors, and will supply the trade at reasonable rates.

Troy Bell Foundry.—The old established and popular Troy Bell Foundry of JONES & CO., is one of the numerous successful enterprises in Troy, N. Y., which have made it famous in the annals of industry and ingenious works of art, one of the most important of which is the manufacture of Bells. The Troy Foundry is one of the oldest in the country, and is complete in all its appointments for the founding of bells of all sizes, which have, perhaps, been more admired for their beauty of finish and perfectness of sound (in this lies the main utility of the bell) than any in the United States. Long experience and natural genius in this direction are brought to bear here to excel in the production of this instrument; the establishment exercises great care, and makes use of thorough and infallible tests, to produce none but perfect bells—indeed, they warrant every one they make. They have done much to reduce this business to scientific principles, and bell foundryers are indebted to them for many of the most important and useful improvements in the processes and principles of casting bells. We could not fail to notice, during our visit to this foundry, that in the proportions of metals used, the shape and general make of these bells, uniform care was exercised with each, and all made in accordance with the most approved principles of science; each instrument made to produce that uniformly smooth, soft, and melodious sound for which the Troy Bell is famous—nothing of that harshness and roughness which characterizes bells made of poor metal, and in disregard of all principles of science governing their manufacture. The size, thickness, weight and tone of every bell is regulated and tested by a diapason or scale, and each set to a certain key or pitch. The larger bells made by this firm all have that clear, far-reaching, and pleasing tone, so much admired in church bells, and which have made the name of these manufacturers so familiar and the bells so popular throughout the country. Our readers will be glad to know something of the history and extent of this foundry.

This foundry was established in 1852, by Jones & Hitchcock, who commenced the manufacture of bells. Both had had many years' experience in the founding business, and believed they could succeed in the establishing of a foundry for this purpose, and set out with the determination to excel, and have been successful in an eminent degree. The first bell founded was for the Fire Department in New York City, weighing 12,000 pounds, which gave entire satisfaction, and was regarded one of the best bells ever cast. They entered upon the manufacture of bells of all sizes, weighing from 15 to 14,000 pounds, and their business the first year amounted to over $50,000. Their bells attained a great popularity, and have maintained it since. They commenced in a small building, but, in 1854, their business had increased to such dimensions as to demand more room for operations, and to meet this demand they erected a large three-story building, with foundry and shops. In August, 1854, it was burned down at the great fire in that year. It was a total loss to them, but they were not discouraged, and immediately commenced the erection of the buildings which they now occupy, and in two weeks from the time of the fire cast a bell in the new foundry which, as if by magic, had risen from the ashes of the old, for New York City, weighing 12,000 pounds, and since have cast bells for that city, each weighing from 10,000 to 12,000 pounds.—They made the large fire-alarm bell for Chicago, weighing 11,000 pounds, and have made them for almost every large city in the United States.

The first complete chime of bells ever made in this country and placed in a church tower, were cast at this establishment for St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia. It consisted of nine bells, largest 2838—total weight, 12,798 pounds; a large chime for the First Evangelist Church at Lancaster, Pa., consisting of eight bells, total weight, 8144; a chime of eleven bells for Christ's Church, Detroit; a chime of eleven bells for First Evang. Luth. Church, Harrisburgh, Pa.; also a large number of others for churches in the United States and Canada. They have also manufactured a number of peals, consisting of from two to six bells. They have made all the large fire-alarm bells for New York City, which fact of itself constitutes a strong evidence of the superiority of their bells.

The business is now in the hands of Octavous and Marcus R. Jones, the former having charge of the mechanical department, having been educated in the business, and fully acquainted with all its minutiae; the latter, of the books and outside management, which is conducted with no less ability. Indeed, they had charge of the business previous to the death of their father, Eber Jones, (so well known as an iron founder, and who in connection with Mr. Hitchcock, established these works in 1852,) and will continue to maintain the high reputation of the foundry. They have inherited all the enterprise, genius, and skill of the father, and are, in every respect, worthy successors.

In proof of the superiority of the bell manufactured here, we have only to cite the fact that it has borne off the first prize at the fairs where it has been in competition with the bells from all parts of the world. It took the first premium at the Crystal Palace Fair, in New York, in 1854, receiving a gold medal at the Fair of the American Institute, held in Castle Garden, N. Y., in 1855; at several State Fairs, in various States of the Union, whenever it has been in competition. The prizes were awarded for best Church, Academy, Fire-Alarm, Locomotive, and other Bells; for best Chime and best Peal of Bells. They have testimonials of the excellence of their Bells from those who have purchased and used them. We saw these and a number of gold and silver prize medals.

Hildreth's Rotary Yoke.—This establishment purchased the exclusive use of this celebrated Rotary Yoke, a patented improvement in the hanging of bells, that has decided merits. This method of hanging bells, consisting of a solid tapering shank, in place of the rods formerly used, screwed tightly into the socket made to receive it in the yoke, adds materially to its durability and strength, and increases and improves its tone. This valuable improvement is used exclusively by this firm.

The bells made here are of the purest metal, and excel in depth and richness of tone on this account. The proprietors have been educated in this business, and pride themselves in the excellence of their workmanship and giving satisfaction to customers. For beauty of finish, sweetness of tone, and musical accord, we believe these bells are unexcelled. Purchasers may rest assured they will be dealt with here honorably and fairly, receiving the best articles at the most reasonable rates.—Chicago Tribune. See advertisement on page 268.

E. S. Randall, Merchant Tailor, 22 Third Street, Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 262. He keeps a large stock of the most fashionable goods and makes them up in the most substantial and stylish manner. Those who are in want of an elegant suit of clothes will be furnished at short notice by calling at Randall's. The Cutting department is under the supervision of the most experienced and skillful workmen, and every garment is warranted to fit. Give him a call.

P. C. Mixer, Architect, Carpenter and Millwright, advertises on page 347. He is doing quite an extensive business, employing more men than all others in the town. The character of his work is not surpassed by any, as he uses good materials and employs skilled workmen. He is located about one mile south of West Sand Lake. Let those who propose to build give him a call.

The Reynold's Steel Tempering Works, Reynolds, Barber & Co., Proprietors, at Auburn, are largely engaged in the manufacture of Reaper and Mower Knives, Plane Irons, Chisels &c. The process by which they temper steel is a peculiar one, and as patented by Mr. Reynolds, is the result of over forty years labor. This gentleman always worked on the plan that tempering steel was simply changing it from a fibrous to a granular state. He certainly has succeeded in producing a finer granulation (temper) than has ever before been produced. Messrs.
Reynolds, Barber & Co. control the patents for these processes, and are applying them successfully in all their manufactures.—
Their establishment is capable of turning out an immense amount of work, yet their orders are now, and have been for some months, accumulating far in advance of their present ability to supply; a circumstance which they will not long allow to be the case. We predict that the time is not far distant when all Mower and Reaper Factories and farmers will use their improved sections. See their advertisement on page 6.

Howe's Never-Failing Ague Cure and Tonic Bitters, and Howe's Concentrated Syrup, are prepared under the personal supervision of
Dr. C. B. Howe, the proprietor, at Seneca Falls, N. Y., for ague and fever, and all periodic diseases, rheumatism, paralysis, etc. The "Ague Cure" has produced wonderful cures. The "Syrup," for the blood, liver, skin, digestive and uterine organs, has cured many cases of scrofula, cancer, tumors, goiter, salt rheum, scaldhead, and many other diseases too numerous to mention in this place. See card, page 20.

Nutting, Hull & Co's Agricultural
Warehouse at 357 and 359 River Street,
Troy, N. Y., is well supplied with Farm Implements for all seasons. Among them may be found the Buckeye Mower and Self Raking Reaper, whose good qualities are known and appreciated throughout the country, and Cahoon's Broadcast Seed Sower, which supplies another want long felt by the farmers. A great variety of Garden and Field Seeds, Fertilizers &c., are always on hand. See advertisement on page 326.

The Northern Budget, published by C. L. Mac Arthur, No. 1 First Street, Troy, N. Y., is issued every Sunday morning and sent out by mail and horse cars to the surrounding towns. The paper has a large circulation. It contains the latest telegraph and local news and a large amount of interesting reading matter.—Those who wish for a good family paper will find this worthy of their patronage. See advertisement on page 278.

The Buckeye Mowing and Reaping Machine.—When the great U. S. Trial of Mowers and Reapers was held at Auburn in 1857, this admirable machine, which had just been brought out, surprised every body by its novelty and many excellencies, and won the highest awards. At that time the valuable patents under which it was built were secured for several States by the enterprising firm which now continues its manufacture, Adriance, Platt & Co. At the second great trial of Mowers and Reapers, made by the N. Y. State Agricultural Society in 1866, the Buckeye again carried off the highest honors, showing that in the years' intervening it had not gone backward in the race for superiority. Every new suggestion is thoroughly weighed, improvements only are adopted. The verdict of the people is nearly as unanimous as that of the learned and practical committees who made these awards, for its sales far exceed those of any other machine in the sections supplied by Adriance, Platt & Co. In fact they increase so fast, that the demand is almost always in excess of the supply. The Self-Raking Attachment on the Buckeye Machine has met with a success corresponding to that of the Mower, and has surpassed all others in the perfection of its operation. One great secret of the success of Adriance Platt & Co., as manufacturers, has been in the conscientious manner in which they have built their machines, and the great durability of the Buckeye machine has been largely due to the excellence of the material used and the mechanical perfection of the workmanship. See advertisement on Map.

Winne & Clark, dealers in Staple and Fancy Dry Goods, 306 and 308 River Street and 322 Fulton Street, Troy, N. Y., advertise on colored page 69. We take pleasure in calling the attention of our patrons to the advertisement of this firm. Being an old established house they are enabled in many ways to take advantage of the market and give their customers the exclusive benefit of their experience and position. Their store is large and finely lighted, while the assortment of Dry Goods which they constantly offer to their customers is always complete, varied and in price defying competition. Those giving them a call will, without doubt, be more than satisfied with their manner of conducting business. Call and see.

This is a reliable firm and we commend them to our patrons. Their advertisements appear on pages 250 and 266.

Dodge & Lord, manufacturers of Melodeons and Reed Organs, at Ithaca, N. Y., were formerly connected with Syracuse manufactories. They have since moved their business where lumber is cheap, and expenses less than in the larger cities, like New York, Boston, Albany or Syracuse. The styles of their organs are particularly their own, possessing all modern improvements, and some unknown to other manufacturers. They have found market for their instruments in every county of the State, and in Northern Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and have an increasing trade with the West, in all of which places they are brought into successful competition with the first Eastern manufacturers. They are both practical men, and have secured workmen of long experience and tried abilities. Situated midway between the Erie and N. Y. C. Railways, they can ship conveniently to all parts of the country. See card, page 20.

THE STATES,

THEIR SETTLEMENT, ADMITTANCE TO THE UNION, POPULATION, SUFFRAGE LAWS, ETC.

ALABAMA was settled near Mobile, in 1702, by the French; was formed into a Territory by act of Congress, approved March 3, 1817, from the eastern portion of the Territory of Mississippi; framed a Constitution August 2, 1819, and was admitted into the Union December 14 of the same year. Area 50,722 square miles, or 32,462,080 acres.—Population in 1860, 964,201, of whom 435,080 were slaves. It is the chief cotton growing State of the Union. White male citizens who have resided one year in the State and three months in the county, are entitled to vote. An election for a Convention was held December 24, 1860, and a majority of over 50,000 votes cast for secession; the Convention met January 7, 1861, and on the 11th passed the ordinance of secession, by a vote of 61 to 39, which was followed on the 21st by the resignation of its members of Congress.

ARKANSAS was settled at Arkansas Post in 1685, by the French, and was part of the Louisiana purchase ceded by France to the United States, April 30, 1803. It was formed into a Territory by act of Congress, March 2, 1819, from the southern part of the Territory of Missouri; its western boundary was settled May 26, 1824, and its southern, May 19, 1828. Having adopted a Constitution, a memorial was presented in Congress, March 1, 1836, and an act for its admission into the Union passed June 15 of the same year. Area 52,198 square miles, or 33,406,720 acres. In 1860 its population was 435,450, of whom 111,115 were slaves. It is an agricultural State, its staples being corn and cotton.—Citizenship and residence in the State for six months, qualify voters in the county and district where they reside. January 16, 1861, its Legislature ordered a State Convention, which assembled, and on May 6, voted to secede, 69 to 1. January 4, 1864, a Convention assembled in Little Rock, which adopted a new Constitution, the principle feature of which consisted in a clause abolishing slavery. The Convention adjourned January 22. This body also inaugurated a Provisional Government. The Constitution was submitted to the people, and 12,177 votes cast for it, to 226 against it. The State was re-organized under the plan contained in the Amnesty Proclamation of President LINCOLN, in pursuance of which an election was held March 14, 1864. The vote required under the Proclamation was 5,405. About 16,000 votes were cast.

CALIFORNIA was settled at Diego in 1768, by Spaniards, and was part of the territory ceded to the United States by Mexico, by the treaty concluded at Guadaloupe Hidalgo, February 22, 1848. After several ineffectual attempts to organize it as a Territory or admit it as a State, a law was passed by Congress for the latter purpose, which was approved September 9, 1850. Area 188,981 square miles, or 120,947,784 acres. Population in 1860, 305,439. It is the most productive gold mining region on the continent, and also abounds in many other minerals.— White male citizens of the United States, and those of Mexico who may choose to comply with the provisions of the treaty of Queretaro, of May 30, 1848, who have resided in the State six months and in the county or district thirty days, are entitled to vote.

CONNECTICUT was settled at Windsor, in 1633, by English Puritans from Massachusetts, and continued under the jurisdiction of that Province until April 23, 1662, when a separate charter was granted, which continued in force until a Constitution was formed, September 15, 1818. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution, January 9, 1788. Area 4,674 square miles, or 2,991,360 acres. Population in 1860, 460,147. It is one of the most densely populated and principal manufacturing States in the Union. Residence for six months, or military duty for a year, or payment of State tax, or a freehold of the yearly value of seven dollars, gives the right to vote.

DELAWARE was settled at Wilmington, early in 1638, by Swedes and Finns; was granted to William Penn, in 1682, and continued under the government of Pennsylvania until the adoption of a Constitution, September 20, 1776; a new one was formed June 12, 1792. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution, December 7, 1787. Area 2,120 square miles, or 1,356,800 acres.— Population, in 1860, 112,216, of whom 1,798 were slaves. It is a grain and fruit growing State, with some extensive manufactories. Residence in the State one year, and ten days in the election district, with payment of a State or county tax assessed ten days prior to an election, gives the right to vote, except that citizens between twenty-one and twenty-two years of age need not have paid the tax.

FLORIDA was settled at St. Augustine, in 1565, by Spaniards; was formed from part of the territory ceded by Spain to the United States by treaty of February 22, 1819; an act to authorize the President to establish a temporary government was passed March 3, 1819; articles of surrender of East Florida were framed July 10, and of West Florida, July 17, 1821, and it was then taken possession of by General Jackson as Governor. An act for the establishment of a Territorial Government was passed March 30, 1822, and by act of March 3, 1823, East and West Florida were constituted one Territory. Acts to establish its boundary line between Georgia and Alabama were passed May 4, 1826, and March 2, 1831. After several ineffectual attempts to organize it into two Territories, or into a State and Territory, an act for its admission into the Union was passed March 3, 1845. Area 59,268 square miles, or 37,930,520 acres. Population, in 1860, 140,425, of whom 61,745 were slaves. It is an agricultural State, tropical in its climate and products. Every free white male citizen, who has resided in the State two years and in the county six months, and has been enrolled in the militia (unless exempt by law,) is qualified to vote; but no soldier, seaman or marine can vote unless qualified before enlistment. Its Legislature called a Convention, December 1, 1860, which met January 3, 1861, and passed a secession ordinance on the 10th by a vote of 62 to 7.

GEORGIA was settled at Savannah, in 1733, by the English under General Oglethorpe. It was chartered June 9, 1732; formed a Constitution February 5, 1777; a second in 1785 and a third May 30, 1798.—It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution January 2, 1788. Area 58,000 square miles, or 37,120,000 acres. Population, in 1860, 1,057,286, of whom 462,198 were slaves. It is a large cotton and rice growing State. Citizens of the State, six months resident of the county where voting, who have paid taxes the year preceding the election, are entitled to vote. November 18, 1860, its Legislature ordered an election for a State Convention, which assembled and passed a secession ordinance January 19, 1861, by a vote of 208 to 89, and on the 23d of the same month its members of Congress resigned.

ILLINOIS was settled at Kaskaskia, in 1683, by the French, and formed part of the northwestern territory ceded by Virginia to the United States. An act for dividing the Indiana Territory and organizing the Territory of Illinois, was passed by Congress, February 3, 1809; and an act to enable it to form a State Constitution, Government, &c., was passed April 18, 1818; a Constitution was framed August 26, and it was admitted into the Union December 23 of the same year. Area 54,405 square miles, or 64,819,200 acres. Population, in 1860, 1,711,951. It is the chief "prairie" State, and the largest grain growing and second largest cattle raising State in the Union. All white male inhabitants, who have resided in the State one year and election district sixty days, can vote in the district where actually residing.

INDIANA was settled at Vincennes, in 1690, by the French, and formed part of the northwestern territory ceded by Virginia to the United States. It was organized into a Territory May 7, 1800, from which the Territory of Michigan was set off in 1805, and Illinois in 1809. An act was passed to empower it to form a State Constitution, Government, &c., April 19, 1816, and it was admitted into the Union December 11 of the same year. Area 33,809 square miles, or 21,637,760 acres. Population, in 1860, 1,350,428. It is an agricultural State, chiefly devoted to grain growing and cattle raising. A residence of one year in the State entitles males of 21 years of age to vote in the county of their residence.

IOWA was first settled at Burlington by emigrants from the Northern and Eastern States. It was part of the region purchased from France; was set off from the Territory of Wisconsin and organized as a separate Territory June 12, 1838; an act for its admission as a State was passed and approved March 3, 1845, to which the assent of its inhabitants was to be given to be announced by Proclamation of the President, and on December 28, 1846, another act for its admission was passed. Area 50,914 square miles or 32,584,960 acres. Population, in 1860, 674,913. It is an agricultural State, resembling Illinois, and contains important lead mines. White male citizens of the United States, having resided in the State six months and county twenty days, are entitled to vote.

KANSAS was formed out of the original Louisiana purchase, and organized into a Territory by act of Congress, May 30, 1854, and after several ineffectual attempts was finally admitted into the Union in January, 1861. Area 78,418 square miles, or 50,187,520 acres. Population, in 1860, 107,206. It is an agricultural State, with a soil of rich and deep black loam, except the central portion, which is partly a desert. The western portion is a fine grazing country, well wooded. Residence in the State six months, and in the township or ward thirty days, confers the right of suffrage on white male citizens. It also abounds in minerals.

KENTUCKY was settled in 1775, by Virginians; formed into a Territory by act of the Virginia Legislature, December 18, 1789, and admitted into the Union June 1, 1792, by virtue of an act of Congress passed February 4, 1791. Area 37,680 square miles, or 24,115,200 acres.—Population in 1860, 1,155,684, of whom 225,483 were slaves. It is an agricultural State, raising more flax and hemp than any other. Loyalty, a residence of two years in the State and one in the county are the requirements to vote. "Any citizen of this State who shall enter the service of the so-called Confederate States, in either a civil or military capacity; or into the service of the so-called Provisional Government of Kentucky, in either a civil or military capacity; or having heretofore entered such service of either the Confederate States or Provisional Government, shall continue in such service after this act takes effect, (March 11, 1862,) or shall take up or continue in arms against the military forces of the United States or State of Kentucky, or shall give voluntary aid and assistance to those in arms against said forces, shall be deemed to have expatriated himself, and shall no longer be a citizen, except by permission of the Legislature by a general or special statute."

LOUISIANA was settled at Iberville, in 1699, by the French, and comprised a part of the territory ceded by France to the United States, by treaty of April 30, 1803, which purchase was erected into two Territories by act of Congress March 26, 1804, one called the Territory of Orleans, the other the District of Louisiana, afterwards changed to that of Missouri.—Congress, March 2, 1806, authorized the inhabitants of Orleans Territory to form a State Constitution and Government when their population should amount to 60,000; a Constitution was adopted January 23, 1812, and the State admitted into the Union April 8 of the same year, under the name of Louisiana. Area 41,255 square miles, or 26,403,200 acres. Population in 1860, 708,002, of whom 331,726 were slaves. It is the chief sugar producing State of the Union. Two years' residence in the State and one in the parish are the qualifications of voters. December 10, 1860, the Legislature ordered a State Convention to be held, which assembled and passed an ordinance of secession January 26, 1861, by a vote of 113 to 17. The people voted on the question, and on March 28 the following was announced as the result: For, 20,448; against, 17,296; a majority of 3,152. The Convention ratified the 'Confederate' Constitution March 11, 1861, by a vote of 107 to 7, and refused to submit it to the people by 94 to 10. On the 11th day of January, 1864, Maj. Gen. Banks issued a Proclamation for an election of State officers and delegates to a Constitutional Convention, for the purpose of affecting a reconstruction of the State Government under the plan suggested in the Amnesty Proclamation of President Lincoln. The election was held on the 22d day of February, 1864. The officers thus elected were installed March 4. The total vote cast was 10,725. The vote requisite under the Proclamation was 5,051. The Convention amended the Constitution so as to abolish slavery. The new Constitution was adopted by the people by a vote of 6,836 for, to 1,566 against.

MAINE was settled at York, in 1623, by the English, and was formerly under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts. October 29, 1819, the inhabitants of the District of Maine framed a Constitution; applied for admission December 8, 1819. Congress passed an act March 3, 1820, and it was admitted as a State March 15, of the same year. Area 31,766 square miles, or 20,330,240 acres. Population, in 1860, 628,279. It is largely engaged in the lumber trade and ship building. Citizens of the United States, except paupers and persons under guardianship, who have resided in the State for three months next preceding the election, are entitled to vote.

MARYLAND was settled at St. Mary, in 1634, by Irish Roman Catholics, having been chartered June 20, 1632. It was one of the original thirteen States; formed a Constitution August 14, 1776, and ratified the Constitution of the United States April 28, 1788. Area 11,124 square miles, or 7,119,260 acres. Population in 1860, 687,049, of whom 87,189 were slaves. It is mainly an agricultural State, producing grain and tobacco. A residence of one year in the State, and six months in the county, gives the right to vote to every white male citizen who takes the oath of allegiance prescribed in the Constitution. January 28, 1864, a bill passed the Legislature submitting to the people the question of a Convention to revise the Constitution of the State. The popular vote on the question was as follows: For Convention, 32,203; against, 18,337. The Convention assembled and adopted a Constitution abolishing slavery, which was submitted to and adopted by the people; and in accordance with its provisions, on the 29th of October, 1864, the Governor issued his Proclamation declaring the slaves in that State free from the 1st day of November.

MASSACHUSETTS was settled at Plymouth, November 3, 1620, by English Puritans, and Charters were granted March 4, 1629, January 13, 1630, August 20, 1726, and October 7, 1731. It was one of the original 13 States; adopted a Constitution March 2, 1780, which was amended November 3, 1820, and ratified the Constitution of the United States February 6, 1788. Area 7,800 square miles, or 4,992,000 acres. Population in 1860, 1,231,066. It is a largely commercial, the chief manufacturing and most densely populated State in the Union. A residence of one year in the State, and payment of State or county tax, gives the right to vote to male citizens of 21 years and upward, except paupers and persons under guardianship.

MICHIGAN was settled at Detroit in 1670, by the French, and was part of the territory ceded to the United States by Virginia. It was set off from the territory of Indiana, and erected into a separate Territory January 11, 1805; an act to attach to it all the territory of the United States west of the Mississippi river, and north of the State of Missouri, was passed June 28, 1834. Wisconsin was organized from it April 30, 1836. In June of the same year an act was passed to provide for the admission of the State of Michigan into the Union, and a Constitution having been adopted, it was admitted January 26, 1837. Area 56,243 square miles, or 35,995,552 acres. Population in 1860, 749,113. It is a grain growing and cattle rearing State, with rich and extensive mines of copper and iron in the Northern Peninsula. A residence in the State of six months preceding the election, entitles white male citizens to vote.

MINNESOTA was settled about 1846, chiefly by emigrants from the Northern and Western States. It was organized as a Territory by act of Congress approved March 3, 1849, and admitted into the Union February 26, 1857. Area 95,274 square miles, or 60,975,536 acres. Population in 1860, 172,123 whites, and about 25,000 Indians, many of the tribes being of a warlike character. It is an agricultural State, chiefly devoted to Northern grains. The right to vote is extended to male persons of 21 years of age, of the following classes, if they have resided in the United States one year, the State four months, and the election district ten days: White citizens of the United States, and those of foreign birth who have declared their intention to become citizens; persons of mixed white and Indian blood who have adopted the customs of civilization, and those of pure Indian blood who have been pronounced capable by any district court of the State.

MISSISSIPPI was settled at Natchez, in 1716, by the French, and was formed out of part of the territory ceded to the United States by South Carolina in 1787, and Georgia in 1802. It was organized as a Territory by act of Congress, April 7, 1789, and enlarged on the north March 27, 1804, and on the south May 14, 1812. After several unsuccessful attempts to enter the Union, Congress finally passed an act March 1, 1817, enabling the people of the western part of the Territory to form a State Constitution and Government, which being complied with August 15, it was admitted December 10 of the same year. Area 47,156 square miles, or 30,179,840 acres. Population in 1860, 791,305, of whom 436,631 were slaves. It is the second cotton growing State of the Union. Citizens who have resided one year in the State, and four months in the county, and having performed military duty or paid taxes, are entitled to vote. A Convention met January 7, 1861, and on the 9th passed an ordinance of secession by a vote of 84 to 15.

MISSOURI was settled at Genevieve in 1763, by the French, and was part of the territory ceded by France by treaty of April 30, 1803. It was created under the name of the District of Louisiana, by an act approved March 26, 1804, and placed under the direction of the officers of the Indiana Territory, and was organized into a separate Territory June 4, 1812, its name being changed to that of Missouri; and was divided March 2, 1819, the Territory of Arkansas being then created. An act authorizing it to form a State Constitution and Government was passed March 6, 1820, and it was admitted into the Union December 14, 1821. Area 67,330 square miles, or 43,123,200 acres. Population in 1860, 1,182,012, of whom 114,931 were slaves. An act of gradual emancipation was passed July 1, 1863, by a vote of 51 to 30. On the 6th of January, 1865, a Constitutional Convention assembled in St. Louis, and on the 8th of April adopted a new Constitution, declaring the State free, prohibiting compensation for slaves, and adopting many other radical changes. On the 6th of June the Constitution was adopted by the people by a vote of 43,670 to 41,808, and pursuant to a Proclamation issued on the 1st of July, the Constitution went into effect July 4, 1865. It is an agricultural and mining State. Citizens of the United States who have resided in the State one year, and county three months, are entitled to vote. By an act passed by the Legislature of 1863, voting by ballot was adopted, and the viva voce system abolished.

NEBRASKA was settled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States, and was formed out of a part of the territory ceded by France, April 30, 1803. Attempts to organize it were made in 1844 and 1848, but it was not accomplished until May 30, 1854. Area 75,955 square miles, or 44,796,160 acres. Population 28,841, besides a few roving tribes of Indians. A Convention adopted a State Constitution February 9, 1866, which was submitted to the people on the 22d of June, and adopted by a vote of 3,938 for, to 3,838 against, and State officers were elected. A bill was passed by Congress, July 27th, admitting the State, but the President withheld his signature. In February, 1867, Congress passed an act imposing certain conditions to admission, which were promptly accepted, and the territory became a State. It is an agricultural region, its prairies affording boundless pasture lands.

NEVADA was organized as a Territory March 2, 1861. Its name signifies snowy, and is derived from the Spanish word nieve (snow.) It comprises 81,539 square miles, or 52,184,960 acres, lying mostly within the Great Basin of the Pacific coast. Congress, at its session in 1864, passed an act which was approved March 21, to enable the people of the Territory to form a Constitution and State Government, in pursuance of which a Government was organized and the Territory admitted as a State by Proclamation of the President, October 31, 1864. At the time of its organization the Territory possessed a population of 6,857 white settlers. The development of her mineral resources was rapid and almost without parallel, and attracted a constant stream of immigration to the Territory. As the population has not been subject to the fluctuations from which other Territories have suffered, the growth of Nevada has been rapid and steady. At the general convention election of 1863, 10,934 votes were cast. During 1864 great accessions to the population were made. It is probably the richest State in the Union in respect to mineral resources. No region in the world is richer in argentiferous leads. It also contains an immense basin of salt, five miles square. Quartz mills are a very important feature in mining operations. The State is barren for agricultural purposes, and is remarkably healthy.

NEW HAMPSHIRE was settled at Dover, in 1623, by English Puritans, and continued under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts until September 18, 1679, when a separate charter was granted. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution June 21, 1788; its State Constitution was framed January 5, 1776, and amended in 1784 and 1792. Area 9,280 square miles, or 5,939,200 acres. Population in 1860, 326,073. It is a grazing and manufacturing State. All male citizens, except paupers, are allowed to vote.

NEW JERSEY was settled at Bergen, in 1624, by the Dutch and Danes; was conquered by the Dutch in 1655, and submitted to the English in 1664, being held thereafter under the same grants as New York, until it was surrendered to the Crown in 1702. It was one of the original thirteen States, adopted a State Constitution July 2, 1776, and ratified the United States Constitution December 18, 1787. Area 8,320 square miles, or 5,324,800 acres. Population in 1860, 672,035. It is a grain and fruit growing region, its orchard and market products being relatively greater than those of any other State. A residence of one year in the State gives the right to vote, except to paupers, &c.

NEW YORK was settled at Manhattan, in 1614, by the Dutch; was ceded to the English by grants to the Duke of York, March 20, April 26, and June 24, 1664; was retaken by the Dutch in 1673, and surrendered again by them to the English, February 9, 1674. It was one of the original thirteen States; ratified the United States Constitution July 26, 1788; framed a Constitution April 20, 1777, which was amended October 27, 1801, and November 10, 1821; a new one was adopted November 3, 1846. Area 47,000 square miles, or 30,080,000 acres. Population in 1865, 3,831,777. It is the most populous, wealthy and commercial of the States. White male citizens of the United States, who have resided in the State one year, in the county four months, and election district thirty days, are entitled to vote; and all men of color who have resided in the State three years, and own and pay taxes on a freehold assessed at $250.

NORTH CAROLINA was settled at Albemarle, in 1650, by the English, and was chartered March 20, 1663. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution, November 21, 1789; its State Constitution was adopted December 18, 1776, and amended in 1835. Area 50,704 square miles, or 32,450,560 acres. Population in 1860, 992,622, of whom 331,059 were slaves. It is an agricultural State, with some mines and extensive pine forests. Every freeman of 21 years of age, having resided one year in any county in the State, may vote for a member of the House of Commons, but must own fifty acres of land to vote for a Senator. A State Convention passed an ordinance of secession May 21, 1861. An election for delegates to a State Convention took place September 21, 1865. The Convention assembled October 2. On the 2d of October it passed an ordinance forever prohibiting slavery. The Legislature ratified the Constitutional amendment December 1. An election was held on the first Thursday of November, for Governor, Members of Congress and the Legislature.

OHIO was settled at Marietta, in 1788, by emigrants from Virginia and New England; was ceded by Virginia to the United States October 20, 1783; accepted by the latter March 1, 1784, and admitted into the Union April 30, 1802. Area 39,964 square miles, or 25,576,960 acres. Population in 1860, 2,339,511. It is the most populous and wealthy of the agricultural States, devoted principally to wool growing, grain and live stock. A male of 21 years of age, who has resided in the State one year, and has paid or been charged with a State or county tax, is eligible to vote.

OREGON, although it had previously been seen by various navigators, was first taken possession of by Capt. Robert Gray, who entered the mouth of its principal river May 7, 1792, naming it after his vessel, the Columbia, of Boston. Exploring expeditions soon followed, and fur companies sent their trappers and traders into the region. In 1811 a trading post was established at the mouth of the Columbia river by the American Fur Company, who named it Astoria. For some time a Provisional Territorial Government existed, but the boundary remained unsettled until the treaty with Great Britain in 1846, when the 49th parallel was adopted. It was formally organized as a Territory August 14, 1848; was divided March 2, 1853, on the 46th parallel, the northern portion being called Washington and the southern Oregon. November 9, 1857, a State Constitution was adopted, under which it was admitted February 14, 1859, about one-third of it on the east being added to Washington Territory, its northern boundary following the Columbia river until its intersection with latitude 46° north. Area 102,606 square miles, or 65,667,840 acres. Population in 1860, 52,465. It is an agricultural State, possessed of a fertile soil, extensive pastures, genial climate, and is well wooded. Gold and other precious metals are found in considerable abundance.

PENNSYLVANIA was settled at Philadelphia, in 1681, by English Quakers, and was chartered February 28 of the same year. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution December 12, 1787; adopted a State Constitution September 28, 1776, and amended it September 2, 1790. Area 46,000 square miles, or 29,440,000 acres. Population in 1860, 2,906,115. It is the second State in wealth and population, and the principal coal and iron mining region in the Union. Residence in the State one year, and ten days in the election district, with payment of a State or county tax assessed ten days prior to an election, gives the right to vote; except that citizens between 21 and 22 years of age need not have paid the tax.

RHODE ISLAND was settled at Providence in 1636, by the English from Massachusetts, under Roger Williams. It was under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts until July 8, 1662, when a separate charter was granted, which continued in force until the formation of a Constitution in September, 1842. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution May 29, 1790. Area 1,306 square miles, or 835,840 acres. Population in 1860, 174,620. It is largely engaged in manufactures. A freehold possession of $13; or, if in reversion, renting for $7, together with a residence of one year in the State and six months in the town; or, if no freehold, then a residence of two years in the State and six months in the town, and payment of $1 tax or military service instead, are the qualifications of voters.

SOUTH CAROLINA was settled at Port Royal, in 1670, by the English, and continued under the charter of Carolina, or North Carolina, until they were separated in 1729. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution May 23, 1798; it framed a State Constitution March 26, 1776, which was amended March 19, 1778, and June 3, 1790. Area 29,385 square miles, or 18,806,400 acres. Population in 1860, 703,708, of whom 402,406 were slaves, an excess of 101,270 over the whites. It is the principal rice-growing State. Whites, who have resided in the State two years and district six months, and have a freehold of fifty acres of land, or have paid a State tax, are entitled to vote. December 17, 1860, a Convention assembled in Columbia, adjourned to Charleston, and on the 24th unanimously adopted an ordinance of secession, which was followed the next day by a Declaration of Causes claimed to be sufficient to justify the act. An election for delegates to a State Convention was held September 4, 1865. The Convention assembled September 13, and adjourned on the 28th. It repealed the ordinance of secession, abolished slavery, equalized the representation of the Senate and taxation throughout the State, giving the election of Governor and Presidential electors to the people, ordered voting in the Legislature by viva voce, endorsed the Administration unanimously, and directed a commission to submit a code to the Legislature for the protection of the colored population. The Legislature ratified the Constitutional Amendment November 13, 1865.

TENNESSEE was settled at Fort Donelson, in 1756, by emigrants from Virginia and North Carolina; was ceded to the United States by North Carolina, December, 1789, conveyed by the Senators of that State February 25, 1790, and accepted by act of Congress April 2 of the same year; it adopted a Constitution Feb. 6, 1796, and was admitted into the Union the 1st of June following. Area 45,600 square miles, or 29,184,000 acres. Population in 1860, 1,109,601, of whom 275,179 were slaves. It is a mining and agricultural State, and is largely productive of live stock. Citizens of the United States who have resided six months in the county are entitled to vote. A military league was formed between the Governor, Isham G. Harris, and the rebel States, May 7, 1861, ratified the same day by the Senate by a vote of 14 to 6, and a Declaration of Independence submitted to the people, the election to be held June 8, the result of which was declared by the Governor, June 24, to be 104,913 for, and 47,238 against. This movement not being acceptable to the people of East Tennessee, which had declared against separation by a vote of 32,923 to 14,780, they, in a Convention held at Greenville, June 18-21, repudiated it. Andrew Johnson, Provisional Governor of the State, called a State Convention to be held in Nashville the second Monday in January. Delegates were elected, the Convention met, declared slavery forever abolished, prohibited compensation to owners of slaves, and abrogated the secession ordinances. These amendments of the Constitution were submitted to the people 22d of February, 1865, with the following result: For ratification, 22,197; rejection, 63. The United States Constitutional Amendment was ratified April 5, 1865.

TEXAS was first settled at Bexar, in 1694, by Spaniards; formed a part of Mexico until 1836, when she revolted from that Republic and instituted a separate Government, under which she existed until admitted into the Union by a joint resolution approved March 1st, 1845, imposing certain conditions, which were accepted, and a Constitution formed July 4 of the same year, and another joint resolution adopted by Congress, consummating the annexation, was approved December 29, 1845. Area 237,504 square miles, or 152,002,500 acres. Population in 1860, 604,215, of whom 182,566 were slaves. It is an agricultural region, principally devoted to grain, cotton and tropical fruits. Free white male citizens of 21 years of age, who have resided in the State one year and district six months are entitled to vote. A Convention assembled at Galveston January 28, 1861, and on February 1 passed an ordinance of secession, by a vote of 166 to 7, to be submitted to the people February 23, and on March 4 they declared the State out of the Union, and Gov. Houston issued a Proclamation to that effect.

VERMONT was settled in 1734, by Englishmen from Connecticut, chiefly under grants from New Hampshire; was formed from a part of the territory of New York, by act of its Legislature March 6, 1769; framed a Constitution December 25, 1777, and was admitted into the Union March 4, 1791, by virtue of an act of Congress passed February 18 of the same year. Area 10,212 square miles, or 6,535,680 acres. Population in 1860, 315,098. It is a grazing region, producing more wool, live stock, maple sugar, butter, cheese and hay, in proportion to its population, than any other State. Any citizen of the United States who has resided in the State one year, and will take the oath of allegiance, is entitled to vote.

VIRGINIA was settled at Jamestown, in 1607, by the English, and was chartered April 10, 1606, May 23, 1609, and March 12, 1612. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution June 25, 1788; it framed a State Constitution July 5, 1776, which was amended January 15, 1830. The State was divided in 1863. Present area 37,352 square miles. Population in 1860, 1,314,532, of whom 481,410 were slaves. It is a large corn producing, and the chief tobacco growing State. Every white male citizen of the age of 21 years, who has been a resident of the State for one year, and of the county, city or town where he offers to vote for six months next preceding an election, and has paid all taxes assessed to him, after the adoption of the Constitution, under the laws of the Commonwealth after the re-organization of the county, city or town where he offers to vote, is qualified to vote for members of the General Assembly and all officers elective by the people. A Convention sitting in Richmond on the 17th of April, 1861, passed an ordinance of secession, by a vote of 88 to 55, which was submitted to the people at an election held May 23, the result of which was announced June 25 to be 128,824 for, and 32,134 against. The State Government was re-organized by a Convention which met at Wheeling, May 11, 1861. Upon the division of the State in 1863, the seat of Government was removed to Alexandria. A State Constitutional Convention, March 10, 1864, adopted a section abolishing slavery.

WEST VIRGINIA.—On the passage of the ordinance of secession by the Virginia Convention, a Convention of the western and other loyal counties of the State was held at Wheeling, which assembled May 11, 1861, and on the 17th unanimously deposed the then State officers and organized a Provisional Government. On the 26th of November, 1861, a Convention representing the western counties assembled in Wheeling and framed a Constitution for West Virginia, which was submitted to the people on the 3d of May, 1862, and adopted by them by a nearly unanimous vote. The division of the State was sanctioned by the Legislature May 13, 1862, and ratified by Congress by an act approved December 31, 1862, conditioned on the adoption of an amendment to the Constitution providing for the gradual abolition of slavery, which was done on the 24th of March, 1863, by a vote of the qualified electors of the proposed State, 28,318 voting in favor of the amendment, and 572 against it. In pursuance of the act of Congress, the President issued a Proclamation, April 20, 1863, admitting the State sixty days from the date thereof, and on the 20th of June the new State Government was formally inaugurated. Area 24,000 square miles. Population in 1860, 350,599, of whom 12,754 were slaves. It is a large corn producing State, and abounds in coal and other minerals. The Alexandria Legislature adopted the United States Constitutional Amendment February 9, 1865. White male citizens, residents of the State one year and county thirty days, unless disqualified by rebellion, are entitled to vote.

WISCONSIN was settled at Green Bay, in 1669, by the French; was a part of the territory ceded by Virginia, and was set off from Michigan December 24, 1834, and was organized into a Territory April 30, 1836. Iowa was set off from it June 12, 1838, and acts were passed at various times setting its boundaries. March 3, 1847, an act for its admission into the Union was passed, to take effect on the issuing of a Proclamation by the President, and by act of May 29, 1848, it was admitted into the Union. Area 53,924 square miles, or 34,511,360 acres. Population in 1860, 775,881. It is an agricultural State, chiefly engaged in grain raising and wool growing. Both white and colored citizens of the United States, or white foreigners who have declared their intention to become citizens, are entitled to vote. Colored citizens were admitted to the franchise, by a decision of the Supreme Court, rendered the 27th day of March, 1866, holding that, whereas an election was held in 1849, under the provisions of chapter 137, of that year, at which election 5,265 votes were cast in favor of the extension of the right of suffrage to colored men, and 4,075 against such extension, therefore, the section of said law conferring such right had been constitutionally adopted and is the law of the land.

THE TERRITORIES,

THEIR BOUNDARIES, AREA, PHYSICAL FEATURES, ETC.

ALASKA, our new territory, recently purchased of Russia, comprehends all the north-west coast on the Pacific, and the adjacent islands north of the parallel of 50 degrees 40 minutes north, and the portion of the mainland west of the meridian (about 140° west) of Mount St. Elias. The area is computed at 481,276 square miles. The climate, although warmer than in the same latitude on the eastern coast, is too rigorous to admit of successful agricultural operations, and the chief value of the country and adjacent seas is derived from their fisheries and hunting grounds. The southern and central portions are mountainous; the northern portion along the Arctic ocean is quite flat, nowhere rising more than fifteen or twenty feet above the sea. The population is estimated at about 80,000, mostly Esquimaux.

ARIZONA was organized by the Thirty-Seventh Congress, in the winter of 1863, out of the western half of New Mexico, the boundary between the two Territories being the 109th meridian (32d west from Washington,) and includes the greater portions of the valleys of Colorado and Gila, which two rivers drain its entire surface, with parts of Utah, New Mexico and Nevada, and yet convey, it is reported, a less volume of water to the sea than the Hudson at Albany. The fertile Messilla Valley was left with New Mexico. The Territory forms a block nearly square, and contains 126,141 square miles, or 80,730,240 acres. Its white population is probably considerably less than 10,000. For agricultural purposes it is probably the most worthless on the Continent, owing to the absence of rains, but it is reputed to abound in silver mines.

COLORADO was organized March 2, 1861, from parts of Kansas, Nebraska and Utah, and is situated on each side of the Rocky Mountains, between latitude 37° and 41°, and longitude 25° and 32° west from Washington. Area 104,500 square miles, or 66,880,000 acres. Population 50,000, besides numerous tribes of Indians. By an enabling act passed March 21, 1864, the people of the Territory were authorized to frame a State Constitution and organize a State Government, and a Convention accordingly met in 1865, and on the 12th of August adopted a Constitution, which was submitted to and adopted by the people September 5, and State officers elected November 14. A bill to admit the Territory as a State passed Congress, but was vetoed May 25, 1866. It is said to be a superior grazing and cattle producing region, with a healthy climate and rich soil. An extensive coal bed, and also gold, iron and other minerals abound.

DAKOTA was first settled by employees of the Hudson Bay Company, but is now being peopled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States. It was set off from the western portion of Minnesota when that Territory became a State in 1857, and was organized March 2, 1861. Area 148,932 square miles, or 95,316,480 acres. Population 2,576 whites, and 2,261 Indians, besides the roving tribes.

IDAHO was organized by the Thirty-Seventh Congress, at its second session, in the winter of 1863. Its name means 'Bead of the Mountains,' and it embraces the whole breadth of the Rocky Mountain region, and has within its bounds the head waters of nearly all the great rivers that flow down its either slope, but the greater portion lies east of the mountains. Its southern boundary is the 41st, its northern the 46th parallel of latitude. It extends from the 104th meridian on the east to the 110th on the west. Area 326,373 square miles, or 208,870,720 acres. For agricultural purposes it is comparatively worthless, but abounds in gold and other valuable mines.

MONTANA was settled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States. Organized in 1864, with the following boundaries: Commencing at a point formed by the intersection of the 27th L. W. from Washington with the 45th N. L.; thence due west on said 45th degree to a point formed by its intersection with the 34th degree W. from Washington; thence due south along said 34th degree of longitude to its intersection with the 44th degree and 30 minutes of N. L.; thence due west along said 44th degree and 30 minutes of N. L. to a point formed by its intersection with the crest of the Rocky Mountains; thence following the crest of the Rocky Mountains northward till its intersection with the Bitter Root Mountains; thence northward along the crest of said Bitter Root Mountains to its intersection with the 39th degree of longitude W. from Washington; thence along said 39th degree of longitude northward to the boundary line of the British possessions; thence eastward along said boundary to the 27th degree of longitude W. from Washington; thence southward along said 27th degree to the place of beginning. This makes it the northernmost Territory next the States east of the Missouri Valley. It is a good mining and agricultural region. The total population is put down at 15,822. Large accessions have been made since the census was taken.

NEW MEXICO was formed from a part of the territory ceded to the United States by Mexico, by the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, February 2, 1848, and was organized into a Territory September 9, 1850.—Area 121,201 square miles, or 77,568,640 acres. Population 83,000, besides large tribes of warlike Indians. The principal resource of the country is its minerals.

UTAH was settled by the Mormons, and was formed from a part of the territory ceded to the United States by Mexico, by the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, February 2, 1848, and was organized into a Territory, September 9, 1850. Area, 106,382 square miles, or 68,084,480 acres. Population, 40,273, of whom 29 were slaves. Brine, sulphureous and chalybeate springs abound; limestone, granite, sandstone and marble are found in large quantities; iron is abundant, and gold, silver, copper, lead and zinc have been found. Not one-fiftieth part of the soil is fit for tillage, but on that which is, abundant crops of grain and considerable cotton are raised. A Convention was held at Great Salt Lake City, January 22, 1862, and a State Constitution formed, but it has not been acted on by Congress.

WASHINGTON was settled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States, and was organized into a Territory, March 2, 1853, from the northern portion of Oregon, to which was added another portion from the eastern part when the latter Territory was admitted as a State, February 14, 1859. Area 69,994 square miles, or 48,636,800 acres. Population 11,168, besides numerous tribes of Indians.

WYOMING was organized in July 1868. It lies between the 27th and 34th meridians of longitude west from Washington, and between the 41st and 45th parallels of latitude. The Territory is rich in mineral wealth, having large quantities of iron, coal, gypsum and building stone, besides vast quantities of gold, silver and copper. Salt springs of great value are found within its limits. The western portion of the Territory embraces what is generally known as the "Sweet Water Mines." The climate is healthy, and the Territory is rapidly filling up with an enterprising and hardy population. The act of Congress organizing the Territory, provides that "There shall be no denial of the elective franchise or any other right, on account of color or race, and all persons shall be equal before the law."

CANCELLATION.

In all cases where an adhesive stamp is used for denoting the stamp duty upon an instrument, the person using or affixing the same must write or imprint thereupon in ink the initials of his name, and the date (the year, month, and day) on which the same is attached or used. Each stamp should be separately cancelled. When stamps are printed upon checks, &c., so that in filling up the instrument, the face of the stamp is and must necessarily be written across, no other cancellation will be required.

All cancellation must be distinct and legible, and except in the case of proprietary stamps from private dies, no method of cancellation which differs from that above described can be recognized as legal and sufficient.

PENALTIES.

A penalty of fifty dollars is imposed upon every person who makes, signs, or issues, or who causes to be made, signed, or issued, any paper of any kind or description whatever, or who accepts, negotiates, or pays, or causes to be accepted, negotiated, or paid, any bill of exchange, draft, or order, or promissory note, for the payment of money, without the same being duly stamped, or having thereupon an adhesive stamp for denoting the tax chargeable thereon, cancelled in the manner required by law, with intent to evade the provisions of the revenue act.

A penalty of two hundred dollars is imposed upon every person who pays, negotiates, or offers in payment, or receives or takes in payment, any bill of exchange or order for the payment of any sum of money drawn or purporting to be drawn in a foreign country, but payable in the United States, until the proper stamp has been affixed thereto.

A penalty of fifty dollars is imposed upon every person who fraudulently makes use of an adhesive stamp to denote the duty required by the revenue act, without effectually cancelling and obliterating the same in the manner required by law.

Attention is particularly called to the following extract from section 155, of the act of June 30, 1864, as amended by the act of July 13, 1866 :

"If any person shall wilfully remove or cause to be removed, alter or cause to be altered, the cancelling or defacing marks on any adhesive stamp, with intent to use the same, or to cause the use of the same, after it shall have been used once, or shall knowingly or wilfully sell or buy such washed or restored stamps, or offer the same for sale, or give or expose the same to any person for use, or knowingly use the same or prepare the same with intent for the further use thereof, or if any person shall knowingly and without lawful excuse (the proof whereof shall lie on the person accused) have in his possession any washed, restored, or altered stamps, which have been removed from any vellum, parchment, paper, instrument or writing; then, and in every such case, every person so offending, and every person knowingly and wilfully aiding, abetting, or assisting in committing any such offence as aforesaid, shall, on conviction thereof, * * * be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment and confinement to hard labor not exceeding five years, or both, at the discretion of the court."

It is not lawful to record any instrument, document, or paper required by law to be stamped, or any copy thereof, unless a stamp or stamps of the proper amount have been affixed and cancelled in the manner required by law; and such instrument or copy and the record thereof are utterly null and void, and cannot be used or admitted as evidence in any court until the defect has been cured as provided in section 158.

All willful violations of the law should be reported to the United States District Attorney within and for the district where they are committed.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B, except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

The law does not designate which of the parties to an instrument shall furnish the necessary stamp, nor does the Commissioner of Internal Revenue assume to determine that it shall be supplied by one party rather than by another; but if an instrument subject to stamp duty is issued without having the necessary stamps affixed thereto, it cannot be recorded, or admitted, or used in evidence, in any court, until a legal stamp or stamps, denoting the amount of tax, shall have been affixed as prescribed by law, and the person who thus issues it is liable to a penalty, if he omits the stamps with an intent to evade the provisions of the internal revenue act.

The first act imposing a stamp tax upon certain specified instruments took effect, so far as said tax is concerned, October 1, 1862. The impression which seems to prevail to some extent, that no stamps are required upon any instruments issued in the States lately in insurrection, prior to the surrender, or prior to the establishment of collection districts there, is erroneous.

Instruments issued in those States since October 1, 1862, are subject to the same taxes as similar ones issued at the same time in the other States.

No stamp is necessary upon an instrument executed prior to October 1, 1862, to make it admissible in evidence, or to entitle it to record.

Certificates of loan in which there shall appear any written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand, or at a time designated, are subject to stamp duty as "promissory notes."

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamp to which the instrument is liable under the law, may be affixed and cancelled by either of them; and "when more than one signature is affixed to the same paper, one or more stamps may be affixed thereto, representing the whole amount of the stamp required for such signatures."

No stamp is required on any warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note, when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required; and, whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers—such stamp duty being the highest rate required for such instruments, or either of them. In such case a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgement of the instrument which is not stamped.

Particular attention is called to the change in section 154, by striking out the words "or used;" the exemption thereunder is thus restricted to documents, &c., issued by the officers therein named. Also to the changes in sections 152 and 158, by inserting the words "and cancelled in the manner required by law."

The acceptor or acceptors of any bill of exchange, or order for the payment of any sum of money, drawn or purporting to be drawn in any foreign country, but payable in the United States, must, before paying or accepting the same, place thereupon a stamp indicating the duty.

It is only upon conveyances of realty sold that conveyance stamps are necessary. A deed of real estate made without valuable consideration need not be stamped as a conveyance; but if it contains covenants, such, for instance, as a covenant to warrant and defend the title, it should be stamped as an agreement or contract.

When a deed purporting to be a conveyance of realty sold, and stamped accordingly, is inoperative, a deed of confirmation, made simply to cure the defect, requires no stamp. In such case, the second deed should contain a recital of the facts, and should show the reasons for its execution.

Partition deeds between tenants in common, need not be stamped as conveyances, inasmuch as there is no sale of realty, but merely a marking out, or a defining, of the boundaries of the part belonging to each; but where money or other valuable consideration is paid by one co-tenant to another for equality of partition, there is a sale to the extent of such consideration, and the conveyance, by the party receiving it, should be stamped accordingly.

A conveyance of lands sold for unpaid taxes, issued since August 1, 1866, by the officers of any county, town, or other mu-municipal corporation in the discharge of their strictly official duties, is exempt from stamp tax.

A conveyance of realty sold, subject to a mortgage, should be stamped according to the consideration, or the value of the property unencumbered. The consideration in such case is to be found by adding the amount paid for the equity of redemption to the mortgage debt. The fact that one part of the consideration is paid to the mortgagor and the other part to the mortgagee does not change the liability of the conveyance.

The stamp tax upon a mortgage is based upon the amount it is given to secure. The fact that the value of the property mortgaged is less than that amount, and that consequently the security is only partial, does not change the liability of the instrument. When, therefore, a second mortgage is given to secure the payment of a sum of money partially secured by a prior mortgage upon other property, or when two mortgages upon separate property are given at the same time to secure the payment of the same sum, each should be stamped as though it were the only one.

A mortgage given to secure a surety from loss, or given for any purpose whatever, other than as security for the payment of a definite and certain sum of money, is taxable only as an agreement or contract.

The stamp duty upon a lease, agreement, memorandum, or contract for the hire, use, or rent of any land, tenement, or portion thereof, is based upon the annual rent or rental value of the property leased, and the duty is the same whether the lease be for one year, for a term of years, or for the fractional part of a year only.

Upon every assignment or transfer of a mortgage, a stamp tax is required equal to that imposed upon a mortgage for the amount remaining unpaid; this tax is required upon every such transfer in writing, whether there is a sale of the mortgage or not; but no stamp is necessary upon the endorsement of a negotiable instrument, even though the legal effect of such indorsement is to transfer a mortgage by which the instrument is secured.

An assignment of a lease within the meaning and intent of Schedule B, is an assignment of the leasehold, or of some portion thereof, by the lessee, or by some person claiming by, from, or under him; such an assignment as subrogates the assignee to the rights, or some portion of the rights, of the lessee, or of the person standing in his place. A transfer by the lessor of his part of a lease, neither giving nor purporting to give a claim to the leasehold, or to any part thereof, but simply a right to the rents, &c., is subject to stamp tax as a contract or agreement only.

The stamp tax upon a fire insurance policy is based upon the premium.

Deposit notes taken by a mutual fire insurance company, not as payment of premium nor as evidence of indebtedness therefor, but to be used simply as a basis upon which to make rateable assessments to meet the losses incurred by the company, should not be reckoned as premium in determining the amount of stamp taxes upon the policies.

When a policy of insurance properly stamped has been issued and lost, no stamp is necessary upon another issued by the same company to the same party, covering the same property, time, &c., and designed simply to supply the loss. The second policy should recite the loss of the first.

An instrument which operates as the renewal of a policy of insurance, is subject to the same stamp tax as the policy.

When a policy of insurance is issued for a certain time, whether it be for one year only or for a term of years, a receipt for premium, or any other instrument which has the legal effect to continue the contract and extend its operation beyond that time, requires the same amount of revenue stamps as the policy itself; but such a receipt as is usually given for the payment of the monthly, quarterly, or annual premium, is not a renewal within the meaning of the statute. The payment simply prevents the policy from expiring, by reason of non-performance of its conditions; a receipt given for such a payment requires a two-cent stamp, if the amount received exceeds twenty dollars, and a two-cent stamp only. When, however, the time of payment has passed, and a tender of the premium is not sufficient to bind the company, but a new policy or a new contract in some form, with the mutuality essential to every contract, becomes necessary between the insurer and the insured, the same amount of stamps should be used as that required upon the original policy.

A permit issued by a life insurance company changing the terms of a policy as to travel, residence, occupation, &c., should be stamped as a contract or agreement.

A bill single or a bill obligatory, i. e., an instrument in the form of a promissory note, under seal, is subject to stamp duty as written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand or at a time designated, at the rate of five cents for each one hundred dollars or fractional part thereof.

A waiver of protest, or of demand and notice, written upon negotiable paper and signed by the indorser, is an agreement, and requires a five-cent stamp.

A stamp duty of twenty-five cents is imposed upon the "protest of every note, bill of exchange, check or draft," and upon every marine protest. If several notes, bills of exchange, drafts, &c., are protested at the same time and all attached to one and the same certificate, stamps should be affixed to the amount of twenty-five cents for each note, bill, draft, &c., thus protested.

When, as is generally the case, the caption to a deposition contains other certificates in addition to the jurat to the affidavit of the deponent, such as a certificate that the parties were or were not notified, that they did or did not appear, that they did or did not object, &c., it is subject to a stamp duty of five cents.

When an attested copy of a writ or other process is used by a sheriff or other person in making personal service, or in attaching property, a five-cent stamp should be affixed to the certificate of attestation.

A marriage certificate issued by the officiating clergyman or magistrate, to be returned to any officer of a State, county, city, town, or other municipal corporation, to constitute part of a public record, requires no stamp; but if it is to be retained by the parties, a five-cent stamp should be affixed.

The stamp tax upon a bill of sale, by which any ship or vessel, or any part thereof, is conveyed to or vested in any other person or persons, is at the same rate as that imposed upon conveyances of realty sold; a bill of sale of any other personal property should be stamped as a contract or agreement.

An assignment of real or personal property, or of both, for the benefit of creditors, should be stamped as an agreement or contract.

Written or printed assignments of agreements; bonds, notes not negotiable, and of all other instruments the assignments of which are not particularly specified in the foregoing schedule, should be stamped as agreements.

No stamp is necessary upon the registry of a judgment, even though the registry is such in its legal effect as to create a lien which operates as a mortgage upon the property of the judgment debtor.

When a "power of attorney or proxy for voting at any election for officers of any incorporated company or society, except religious, charitable, or literary societies, or public cemeteries," is signed by several stockholders, owning separate and distinct shares, it is, in its legal effect, the separate instrument of each, and requires stamps to the amount of ten cents for each and every signature; one or more stamps may be used representing the whole amount required.

A notice from landlord to tenant to quit possession of premises requires no stamp.

A stamp tax is imposed upon every "manifest for custom-house entry or clearance of the cargo of any ship, vessel, or steamer for a foreign port." The amount of this tax in each case depends upon the registered tonnage of the vessel.

If a vessel clears in ballast and has no cargo whatever, no stamp is necessary; but if she has any, however small the amount—a stamp should be used.

A bond to convey real estate requires stamps to the amount of twenty-five cents.

The stamp duty upon the probate of a will, or upon letters of administration, is based upon the sworn or declared value of all the estate and effects, real, personal, and mixed, undiminished by the debts of the estate for or in respect of which such probate or letters are applied for.

When the property belonging to the estate of a person deceased, lies under different jurisdictions and it becomes necessary to take out letters in two or more places, the letters should be stamped according to the value of all the property, real, personal, and mixed, for or in respect of which the particular letters in each case are issued.

Letters de bonis non should be stamped according to the amount of property remaining to be administered upon thereunder, regardless of the stamps upon the original letters.

A mere copy of an instrument is not subject to stamp duty unless it is a certified one, in which case a five-cent stamp should be affixed to the certificate of the person attesting it; but when the instrument is executed and issued in duplicate, triplicate, &c., as in the case of a lease of two or more parts, each part has the same legal effect as the other, and each should be stamped as an original.

POSTAL RATES AND REGULATIONS.

LETTERS.—The law requires postage on all letters (including those to foreign countries when prepaid), excepting those written to the President or Vice President, or members of Congress, or (on official business) to the chiefs of the executive departments of the Government, and the heads of bureaux and chief clerks, and others invested with the franking privilege, to be prepaid by stamps or stamped envelopes, prepayment in money being prohibited.

All drop-letters must be prepaid. The rate of postage on drop-letters, at offices where free delivery by carrier is established, is two cents per half ounce or fraction of a half ounce; at offices where such free delivery is not established the rate is one cent.

The single rate of postage on all domestic mail letters throughout the United States, is three cents per half ounce, with an additional rate of three cents for each additional half ounce or fraction of a half ounce. The ten cent (Pacific) rate is abolished.

NEWSPAPERS, ETC.—Letter postage is to be charged on all handbills, circulars, or other printed matter which shall contain any manuscript writing whatever.

Daguerreotypes, when sent in the mail, are to be charged with letter postage by weight.

Photographs on cards, paper, and other flexible material, (not in cases), can be sent at the same rate as miscellaneous printed matter, viz., two cents for each four ounces or fraction thereof.

Photograph Albums are chargeable with book postage—four cents for each four ounces or fraction thereof.

NEWSPAPER POSTAGE.—Postage on daily papers to subscribers when prepaid quarterly or yearly in advance, either at the mailing office or office of delivery, per quarter (three months), 35 cts.; six times per week, per quarter 30 cts.; for tri-weekly, per quarter 15 cts.; for semi-weekly, per quarter 10 cts.; for weekly, per quarter 5 cents.

Weekly newspapers (one copy only) sent by the publisher to actual subscribers within the county where printed and published, FREE.

Postage per quarter (to be paid quarterly or yearly in advance) on newspapers and periodicals issued less frequently than once a week, sent to actual subscribers in any part of the United States: Semi-monthly, not over 4 oz., 6 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 12 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 18 cts.; monthly, not over 4 oz., 3 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 6 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 9 cts.; quarterly, not over 4 oz., 1 cent; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 2 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 3 cts.

TRANSIENT MATTER.—Books not over 4 oz. in weight, to one address, 4 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 8 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 12 cts.; over 12 oz. and not over 16 oz., 16 cts.

Circulars not exceeding three in number to one address, 2 cts.; over 3 and not over 6, 4 cts.; over 6 and not over 9, 6 cts.; over 9 and not exceeding 12, 8 cts.

On miscellaneous mailable matter, (embracing all pamphlets, occasional publications, transient newspapers, hand-bills and posters, book manuscripts and proof-sheets, whether corrected or not, maps, prints, engravings, sheet music, blanks, flexible patterns, samples, and sample cards, photographic paper, letter envelopes, postal envelopes or wrappers, cards, paper, plain or ornamental, photographic representations of different types, seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots and scions,) the postage to be pre-paid by stamps, is on one package, to one address, not over 4 oz. in weight, 2 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 4 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 6 cts.; over 12 oz. and not over 16 oz., 8 cts. The weight of packages of seeds, cuttings, roots and scions, to be franked, is limited to thirty-two ounces.

Any word or communication, whether by printing, writing, marks or signs, upon the cover or wrapper of a newspaper, pamphlet, magazine, or other printed matter, other than the name or address of the person to whom it is to be sent, and the date when the subscription expires, subjects the package to letter postage.

The recent postal treaty with Great Britain provides that besides letters and newspapers, "book packets," and "packets of patterns and samples," may be sent. Such packets—

1. Must contain no writing.
2. Must be fully prepaid (6 cents per 4 ounces from the U. S., or 3 pence sterling from Great Britain.)
3. Must be open at the ends to allow inspection.

Samples of merchandise must not be of intrinsic value.

Dutiable articles—books, music, &c., sent from Great Britain to the United States, must, in addition to the postage, pay the regular duties, which are—On books and engravings, 25 per cent.; music and photographs, 20 per cent.

If letters or articles sent to Italy are not prepaid, or are insufficiently paid, they will be charged with deficient postage, and subject to fine, on arrival at their destination.

Infallible Rules for Detecting Counterfeit or Spurious Bank Notes.

RULE 1st.—Examine the shading of the letters in title of Bank called LATHEWORK, which in genuine notes presents an even, straight, light and silky appearance, generally so fine and smooth as to appear to be all in one solid, pale body. In the counterfeit the lines are coarse and irregular, and in many of the longer lines breaks will be perceived, thus presenting a very inferior finish in comparison to genuine work.

2d.—Observe the dies, circles and ovals in the genuine; they are composed of a network of lines, which, by crossing each other at certain angles, produce an endless variety of figures; SEE THE ONE CENT STAMP ATTACHED. The fine line alone is the unit which enables you to detect spurious work. In the counterfeit, the REPRESENTED whitelines are coarse, irregular, and cross each other in a confused, irregular manner, thus producing blurred and imperfect figures.

3d.—Examine the form and features of all human figures on the note. In the genuine, the texture of the skin is represented by fine dots and lines intermixed. In the eyes, the pupil is distinctly visible, and the white clearly seen; the nose, mouth and chin, well formed, natural and expressive; the lips are slightly pouting, and the chin well thrown out; and the delicate shading of the neck perfectly harmonizes with the rest of the figure. Observe the fingers and toes; they should be clearly and accurately defined. The hair of the head should show the fine strands and present a natural appearance. The folds of the drapery of human figures should lay natural and present a fine, finished appearance. In the counterfeit the female figure does not bear the natural prominence in outlines; observe, the eyes and shading surrounding does not present the lifelike appearance it should. The fingers and toes are not properly and proportionately defined; the hair does not bear that soft and finished appearance as in the genuine.

4th.—Examine the imprint or engraver's names in the evenness and shape of the fine letters. Counterfeits never bear the imprint perfect. This rule should be strictly observed, as it is infallible in detecting counterfeits.

5th.—In the genuine note the landscapes are well finished; trees and shrubs are neatly drawn; the limbs well proportioned, and the foliage presenting a fine natural appearance; clear sky is formed of fine parallel lines, and when clouds or heavy skies appear, they cross each other, and bear a soft, smooth and natural appearance. The perspective, showing a view of the surrounding country, is always clear and distinct. The small figures in the background are always plainly seen, and their outlines and general character recognized. Ships are well defined and the canvass has a clear texture; railroad cars are very accurately delineated; in examining a train observe carefully the car most distant. In the counterfeit the landscape is usually poorly executed; the leaves of trees poorly and unnaturally defined.—The lines representing still water are scratchy rather than parallel, the sky is represented generally in like manner, and where rolling clouds are to be seen, the unnatural effect is obvious. Domestic animals are generally poorly executed, particularly the head and limbs; the eyes are seldom clearly defined. Ships are poorly drawn, the texture of the canvass coarse and inferior in style of workmanship, thus giving an artificial appearance. Railroad cars are also poorly executed; the car farthest from the eye is usually the most imperfect. The perspective is always imperfect, the figures in the background can seldom be recognized.

6th.—Bills altered from a smaller to a higher denomination, can readily be detected by a close observer, in consequence of the striking difference between the parts which have been extracted and the rest of the note. This difference is readily perceived in the lack of color, body and finish of the dye; we have seen bills where the surrounding shading in altered dies was too dark, but from the back or finish of the white lines you have a sure test. Again observe particularly the words "Five" or "Ten Dollars" as the case may be, denoting the denomination of the note; the parallel outlines and shading (if any) are coarse and imperfect. Alterations are frequently made by pasting a greater denomination over a smaller, but by holding the bill up to the light, the fraud will be perceived. Another method resorted to is to cut out the figures in the dies as well as the words one dollar, or the words two or three as the case may be, and with a sharp eraser, scrape down the ends and also the edges of the pieces to be inserted; when the pieces thus prepared are affixed they are hardly perceivable; but by passing the note through the hand, so as to feel the die both with the finger and thumb at the same time, the fraud will be detected by the stiffness of the outer edges, "occasioned by the gum or method adopted" in affixing the parts. The letter S should always be examined, as in many alterations it is pasted or stamped at the end of the word "dollar," and even when stamped there, the carrying out of the outlines for its shading will readily show the fraud. Bills of broken banks are frequently altered by extracting the name of bank, state and town; they may readily be detected by observing first the state, second the title or name of the bank, third the town or location.

GENERAL REMARKS IN REFERENCE TO COUNTERFEITS.—The paper on which they are printed is generally of a very inferior quality, with less body, finish and toughness than bank note paper has. The ink generally lacks the rich luster of the genuine; the red letters and figures are generally imperfect, and the ink does not present the vermilion hue as it should. The printing is generally inferior, usually exhibiting specks of white in the most prominent letters. The date and filling up, and the President's and Cashier's names are generally written by the same person, although in many instances they present a different appearance. There are bills in circulation bearing either genuine dies or vignettes; but upon close examination you will be enabled to detect any spurious bill, whether counterfeit or altered, by the instructions here given, if persevered in for a short time. We beg to suggest, if time will admit, the learner should examine minutely every bill he receives. A powerful pocket magnifying glass, which can be purchased for from fifty cents to one dollar at any of the opticians, will greatly enable you to see and comprehend the difference between genuine and spurious work

HOW TO SUCCEED IN BUSINESS.

What will my readers give to know how to get rich? Now, I will not vouch that the following rules will enable every person who may read them to acquire wealth; but this I will answer for, that if ever a man does grow rich by honest means, and retains his wealth for any length of time, he must practice upon the principles laid down in the following essay. The remarks are not original with me, but I strongly commend them to the attention of every young man, at least as affording the true secret of success in attaining wealth. A single perusal of such an essay at an impressive moment, has sometimes a very wonderful effect upon the disposition and character.

Fortune, they say, is a fickle dame—full of her freaks and caprices; who blindly distributes her favors without the slightest discrimination. So inconstant, so wavering is she represented, that her most faithful votaries can place no reliance on her promises. Disappointment, they tell us, is the lot of those who make offerings at her shrine. Now, all this is a vile slander upon the dear blind lady.

Although wealth often appears the result of mere accident, or a fortunate concurrence of favorable circumstances without any exertion of skill or foresight, yet any man of sound health and unimpaired mind may become wealthy, if he takes the proper steps.

Foremost in the list of requisites are honesty and strict integrity in every transaction of life. Let a man have the reputation of being fair and upright in his dealings, and he will possess the confidence of all who know him. Without these qualities every other merit will prove unavailing. Ask concerning a man, "Is he active and capable?" Yes. "Industrious, temperate and regular in his habits?"—Oh yes. "Is he honest? Is he trustworthy?" Why, as to that, I am sorry to say that he is not to be trusted; he needs watching; he is a little tricky, and will take an undue advantage, if he can. "Then I will have nothing to do with him," will be the invariable reply. Why, then, is honesty the best policy? Because, without it, you will get a bad name, and everybody will shun you.

A character for knavery will prove an insurmountable obstacle to success in almost every undertaking. It will be found that the straight line is, in business, as in geometry, the shortest. In a word, it is almost impossible for a dishonest man to acquire wealth by a regular process of business, because he is shunned as a depredator upon society.

Needy men are apt to deviate from the rule of integrity, under the plea that necessity knows no law; they might as well add that it knows no shame. The course is suicidal, and by destroying all confidence, ever keeps them immured in poverty, although they may possess every other quality for success in the world.

Punctuality, which is said to be the soul of business, is another important element in the art of money getting. The man known to be scrupulously exact in the fulfillment of his engagements, gains the confidence of all, and may command all the means he can use with advantage; whereas, a man careless and regardless of his promises in money matters will have every purse closed against him. Therefore be prompt in your payments.

Next, let us consider the advantages of a cautious circumspection in our intercourse with the world. Slowness of belief and a proper distrust are essential to success. The credulous and confiding are ever the dupes of knaves and impostors. Ask those who have lost their property how it happened, and you will find in most cases that it has been owing to misplaced confidence. One has lost by endorsing, another by crediting, another by false representations; all of which a little more foresight and a little more distrust would have prevented. In the affairs of this world men are not saved by faith, but by the want of it.

Judge of men by what they do, not by what they say. Believe in looks rather than words. Observe all their movements. Ascertain their motives and their ends. Notice what they say or do in their unguarded moments, when under the influence of excitement. The passions have been compared to tortures which force men to reveal their secrets. Before trusting a man, before putting it in his power to cause you a loss, possess yourself of every available information relative to him. Learn his history, his habits, inclinations and propensities; his reputation for honor, industry, frugality and punctuality; his prospects, resources, supports, advantages and disadvantages; his intentions and motives of action; who are his friends and enemies, and what are his good or bad qualities. You may learn a man's good qualities and advantages from his friends—his bad qualities and disadvantages from his enemies. Make due allowance for exaggeration in both. Finally, examine carefully before engaging in anything, and act with energy afterwards. Have the hundred eyes of Argus beforehand, and the hundred hands of Briarius afterwards.

Order and system in the management of business must not be neglected. Nothing contributes more to dispatch. Have a place for everything and everything in its place; a time for everything, and everything in its time. Do first what presses most, and having determined what is to be done, and how it is to be done, lose no time in doing it. Without this method all is hurry and confusion, little or nothing is accomplished, and business is attended to with neither pleasure nor profit.

A polite, affable deportment is recommended. Agreeable manners contribute powerfully to a man's success. Take two men, possessing equal advantages in every other respect, but let one be gentlemanly, kind, obliging and conciliating in his manners; the other harsh, rude and disobliging; and the one will become rich, while the other will starve.

We are now to consider a very important principle in the business of money-getting, namely—Industry—persevering, indefatigable attention to business. Persevering diligence is the Philosopher's stone, which turns everything to gold. Constant, regular, habitual and systematic application to business, must in time, if properly directed, produce great results. It must lead to wealth, with the same certainty that poverty follows in the train of idleness and inattention. It has been truly remarked that he who follows his amusements instead of his business, will, in a short time, have no business to follow.

The art of money-saving is an important part of the art of money-getting. Without frugality no one can become rich; with it, few would be poor. Those who consume as fast as they produce, are on the road to ruin. As most of the poverty we meet with grows out of idleness and extravagance, so most large fortunes have been the result of habitual industry and frugality. The practice of economy is as necessary in the expenditure of time as of money. They say if "we take care of the pence the pounds will take care of themselves." So, if we take care of the minutes, the days will take care of themselves.

The acquisition of wealth demands as much self-denial, and as many sacrifices of present gratification, as the practice of virtue itself. Vice and poverty proceed, in some degree, from the same sources, namely—the disposition to sacrifice the future to the present; the inability to forego a small present pleasure for great future advantages. Men fail of fortune in this world, as they fail of happiness in the world to come, simply because they are unwilling to deny themselves momentary enjoyments for the sake of permanent future happiness.

Every large city is filled with persons, who, in order to support the appearance of wealth, constantly live beyond their income, and make up the deficiency by contracting debts which are never paid. Others, there are, the mere drones of society, who pass their days in idleness, and subsist by pirating on the hives of the industrious. Many who run a short-lived career of splendid beggary, could they be but persuaded to adopt a system of rigid economy for a few years, might pass the remainder of their days in affluence. But no! They must keep up appearances, they must live like other folks.

Their debts accumulate; their credit fails; they are harassed by duns, and besieged by constables and sheriff. In this extremity, as a last resort, they submit to a shameful dependence, or engage in criminal practices which entail hopeless wretchedness and infamy on themselves and families.

Stick to the business in which you are regularly employed. Let speculators make thousands in a year or a day; mind your own regular trade, never turning from it to the right hand or to the left. If you are a merchant, a professional man, or a mechanic, never buy lots or stocks, unless you have surplus money which you wish to invest. Your own business you understand as well as other men; but other people's business you do not understand. Let your business be some one which is useful to the community. All such occupations possess the elements of profit in themselves.

How to Secure the Public Lands,

OR THE ENTRY OF THE SAME UNDER THE PRE-EMPTION AND HOMESTEAD LAWS.

The following circular gives all necessary information as to the procedure necessary in purchasing and securing the public lands:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, }
GEN'L LAND OFFICE, July 19, 1865. }

Numerous questions having arisen as to the mode of procedure to purchase public lands, or acquire title to the same by bounty land locations, by pre-emptions or by homestead, this circular is communicated for the information of all concerned.

In order to acquire title to public lands the following steps must be taken:

1. Application must be made to the Register of the district land office in which the land desired may be situated.

A list of all the land offices in the United States is furnished by the Department, with the seats of the different offices, where it is the duty of the Register and Receiver to be in attendance, and give proper facilities and information to persons desirous of obtaining lands.

The minimum price of ordinary public lands is $1.25 per acre. The even or reserved sections falling within railroad grants are increased to double the minimum price, being $2.50 per acre.

Lands once offered at public sale, and not afterwards kept out of market by reservation, or otherwise, so as to prevent free competition, may be entered or located.

2. By the applicant filing with the Register his written application describing the tract, with its area; the Register will then certify to the receiver whether the land is vacant, with its price; and when found to be so, the applicant must pay that price per acre, or may locate the same with land warrant, and thereafter the Receiver will give him a "duplicate receipt," which he is required to surrender previous to the delivery to him of the patent, which may be had either by application for it to the Register or to the General Land Office.

3. If the tract has not been offered at public sale it is not liable to ordinary private entry, but may be secured by a party legally qualified, upon his compliance with the requirements of the pre-emption laws of 4th September, 1841, and 3d March, 1843; and after such party shall have made actual settlement for such a length of time as will show he designs it for his permanent home, and is acting in good faith, building a house and residing therein, he may proceed to the district land office, establish his pre-emption claim according to law, by proving his actual residence and cultivation, and showing that he is otherwise within the purview of these acts.— Then he can enter the land at $1.25, either in cash or with bounty land warrant, unless the premises should be $2.50 acre lands. In that case the whole purchase-money can be paid in cash, or one-half in cash, the residue with a bounty land warrant.

4. But if parties legally qualified desire to obtain title under the Homestead Act of 20th May, 1862, they can do so on complying with the Department Circular, dated 30th October, 1862.

5. The law confines Homestead entries to surveyed lands; and although, in certain States and Territories noted in the sub-joined list, pre-emptors may go on land before survey, yet they can only establish their claim after return of survey, but must file their pre-emption declaration within three months after receipt of official plat, at the local land-office where the settlement was made before survey. Where, however, it was made after survey, the claimant must file within three months after date of settlement; and where actual residence and cultivation have been long enough to show that the claimant has made the land his permanent home, he can establish his claim and pay for the same at any time before the date of the public sale of lands within the range in which his settlement may fall.

6. All unoffered surveyed lands not acquired under pre-emption, homestead, or otherwise, under express legal sanction, must be offered at public sale under the President's Proclamation, and struck off to the highest bidder, as required by act of April 24, 1820.

J. M. EDMUNDS,
Commissioner General Land Office.

LAW MAXIMS.

1. A promise of a debtor to give "satisfactory security" for the payment of a portion of his debt, is a sufficient consideration for a release of the residue by his creditor.

2. Administrators are liable to account for interest on funds in their hands, although no profit shall have been made upon them, unless the exigencies of the estate rendered it prudent that they should hold the funds thus uninvested.

3. Any person who voluntarily becomes an agent for another, and in that capacity obtains information to which as a stranger he could have had no access, is bound in subsequent dealing with his principal, as purchaser of the property that formed the subject of his agency, to communicate such information.

4. When a house is rendered untenable in consequence of improvements made on the adjoining lot, the owner of such cannot recover damages, because it is presumed that he had knowledge of the approaching danger in time to protect himself from it.

5. When a merchant ship is abandoned by order of the master, for the purpose of saving life, and a part of the crew subsequently meet the vessel so abandoned and bring her safe into port, they will be entitled to salvage.

6. A person who has been led to sell goods by means of false pretenses, cannot recover them from one who has purchased them in good faith from the fraudulent vendor.

7. An agreement by the holder of a note to give the principal debtor time for payment, without depriving himself of the right to sue, does not discharge the surety.

8. A seller of goods who accepts, at the time of sale, the note of a third party, not endorsed by the buyer, in payment, cannot in case the note is not paid, hold the buyer responsible for the value of the goods.

9. A day-book copied from a "blotter" in which charges are first made, will not be received in evidence as a book of original entries.

10. Common carriers are not liable for extraordinary results of negligence that could not have been foreseen by ordinary skill and foresight.

11. A bidder at a Sheriff's sale may retract his bid at any time before the property is knocked down to him, whatever may be the conditions of the sale.

12. Acknowledgment of debt to a stranger does not preclude the operation of the statute.

13. The fruits and grass on the farm or garden of an intestate descend to the heir.

14. Agents are solely liable to their principals.

15. A deposit of money in bank by a husband, in the name of his wife, survives to her.

16. Money paid on Sunday contracts may be recovered.
17. A debtor may give preference to one creditor over another, unless fraud or special legislation can be proved.
18. A court cannot give judgment for a larger sum than that specified in the verdict.
19. Imbecility on the part of either husband or wife, invalidates the marriage.
20. An action for malicious prosecution will lie, though nothing further was done than suing out warrants.
21. An agreement not to continue the practice of a profession or business in any specified town, if the party so agreeing has received a consideration for the same, is valid.
22. When A consigns goods to B to sell on commission, and B delivers them to C, in payment of his own antecedent debts, A can recover their value.
23. A finder of property is compelled to make diligent inquiry for the owner thereof, and to restore the same. If, on finding such property, he attempts to conceal such fact, he may be prosecuted for larceny.
24. A private person may obtain an injunction to prevent a public mischief by which he is affected in common with others.
25. Any person interested may obtain an injunction to restrain the State or a municipal corporation from maintaining a nuisance on its lands.
26. A discharge under the insolvent laws of one State will not discharge the insolvent from a contract made with a citizen of another State.
27. To prosecute a party with any other motive than to bring him to justice, is malicious prosecution, and actionable as such.
28. Ministers of the gospel, residing in any incorporated town, are not exempt from jury, military, or fire service.
29. When a person contracts to build a house, and is prevented by sickness from finishing it, he can recover for the part performed, if such part is beneficial to the other party.
30. In a suit for enticing away a man's wife, actual proof of the marriage is not necessary. Cohabitation, reputation, and the admission of marriage by the parties, are sufficient.
31. Permanent erections and fixtures, made by a mortgagor after the execution of the mortgage upon land conveyed by it, become a part of the mortgaged premises.
32. When a marriage is denied, and plaintiff has given sufficient evidence to establish it, the defendant cannot examine the wife to disprove the marriage.
33. The amount of an express debt cannot be enlarged by application.
34. Contracts for advertisements in Sunday newspapers cannot be enforced.
35. A seller of goods, chattels, or other property, commits no fraud, in law, when he neglects to tell the purchaser of any flaws, defects, or unsoundness in the same.
36. The opinions of witnesses, as to the value of a dog that has been killed, are not admissible in evidence. The value of the animal is to be decided by the jury.
37. If any person puts a fence on or plows the land of another, he is liable for trespass whether the owner has sustained injury or not.
38. If a person, who is unable from illness to sign his will, has his hand guided in making his mark, the signature is valid.
39. When land trespassed upon is occupied by a tenant, he alone can bring the action.
40. To say of a person, "If he does not come and make terms with me, I will make a bankrupt of him and ruin him," or any such threatening language, is actionable, without proof of special damage.
41. In an action for slander, the party making the complaint must prove the words alleged; other words of like meaning will not suffice.
42. In a suit of damages for seduction, proof of pregnancy, and the birth of a child, is not essential. It is sufficient if the illness of the girl, whereby she was unable to labor, was produced by shame for the seduction; and this is such a loss of service as will sustain the action.
43. Addressing to a wife a letter containing matter defamatory to the character of her husband is a publication, and renders the writer amenable to damages.
44. A parent cannot sustain an action for any wrong done to a child, unless he has incurred some direct pecuniary injury therefrom in consequence of some loss of service or expenses necessarily consequent thereupon.
45. A master is responsible for an injury resulting from the negligence of his servant, whilst driving his cart or carriage, provided the servant is at the time engaged in his master's business, even though the accident happens in a place to which his master's business does not call him; but if the journey of a servant be solely for a purpose of his own, and undertaken without the knowledge and consent of his master, the latter is not responsible.
46. An emigrant depot is not a nuisance in law.
47. A railroad track through the streets is not a nuisance in law.

48. If an agreement upon which a party relies be oral only, it must be proved by evidence. But if the contract be reduced to writing, it proves itself; and now no evidence whatever is receivable for the purpose of varying the contract or affecting its obligations. The reasons are obvious. The law prefers written to oral evidence, from its greater precision and certainty, and because it is less open to fraud. And where parties have closed a negotiation and reduced the result to writing, it is presumed that they have written all they intended to agree to, and therefore, that what is omitted was finally rejected by them.—[PARSONS.]

49. Delivery of a husband's goods by a wife to her adulterer, he having knowledge that she has taken them without her husband's authority, is sufficient to sustain an indictment for larceny against the adulterer.

50. The fact that the insurer was not informed of the existence of impending litigation, affecting the premises insured, at the time the insurance was effected, does not vitiate the policy.

51. The liability of an innkeeper is not confined to personal baggage, but extends to all the property of the guest that he consents to receive.

52. When a minor executes a contract, and pays money, or delivers property on the same, he cannot afterwards disaffirm such contract and recover the money, or property, unless he restores to the other party the consideration received from him for such money or property.

53. When a person has, by legal inquisition been found an habitual drunkard, he cannot, even in his sober intervals, make contracts to bind himself or his property, until the inquisition is removed.

54. Any person dealing with the representative of a deceased person, is presumed, in law, to be fully apprized of the extent of such representative's authority to act in behalf of such estate.

55. In an action against a railroad company, by a passenger, to recover damages for injuries sustained on the road, it is not compulsory upon the plaintiff to prove actual negligence in the defendants; but it is obligatory on the part of the latter to prove that the injury was not owing to any fault or negligence of theirs.

56. A guest is a competent witness, in an action between himself and an inn-keeper, to prove the character and value of lost personal baggage. Money in a trunk, not exceeding the amount reasonably required by the traveler to defray the expenses of the journey which he has undertaken, is a part of his baggage; and in case of its loss, while at any inn, the plaintiff may prove its amount by his own testimony.

57. The deed of a minor is not absolutely void. The court is authorized to judge, from the instrument, whether it is void or not, according to its terms being favorable or unfavorable to the interests of the minor.

58. A married woman can neither sue nor be sued on any contract made by her during her marriage, except in an action relating to her individual property. The action must be commenced either by or against her husband. It is only when an action is brought on a contract made by her before her marriage, that she is to be joined as a co-plaintiff, or defendant, with her husband.

59. Any contract made with a person judicially declared a lunatic is void.

60. Money paid voluntarily in any transaction, with a knowledge of the facts, cannot be recovered.

61. In all cases of special contract for services, except in the case of a minor, the plaintiff can recover only the amount stipulated in the contract.

62. A wife is a competent witness with her husband, to prove the contents of a lost trunk, or when a party.

63. A wife cannot be convicted of receiving stolen goods when she received them of her husband.

64. Insurance against fire, by lightning or otherwise, does not cover loss by lightning when there is no combustion.

65. Failure to prove plea of justification, in a case of slander, aggravates the offence.

66. It is the agreement of the parties to sell by sample that constitutes a sale by sample, not the mere exhibition of a specimen of the goods.

67. An agent is liable to his principals for loss caused by his misstatements, tho' unintentional.

68. Makers of promissory notes given in advance for premiums on policies of insurance, thereafter to be taken, are liable thereon.

69. An agreement to pay for procuring an appointment to office is void.

70. An attorney may plead the statute of limitations, when sued by a client for money which he has collected and failed to pay over.

71. Testimony given by a deceased witness on first trial, is not required to be repeated verbatim on the second.

72. A person entitling himself to a reward offered for lost property, has a lien upon the property for the reward; but only when a definite reward is offered.

73. Confession by a prisoner must be voluntarily made, to constitute evidence against him.

74. The defendant in a suit must be served with process; but service of such process upon his wife, even in his absence from the State, is not, in the absence of statutory provisions, sufficient.

75. The measure of damages in trespass for cutting timber, is its value as a chattel on the land where it was felled, and not the market price of the lumber manufactured.

76. To support an indictment for malicious mischief in killing an animal, malice towards its owner must be shown, not merely passion excited against the animal itself.

77. No action can be maintained against a sheriff for omitting to account for money obtained upon an execution within a reasonable time. He has till the return day to render such account.

78. An interest in the profits of an enterprise, as profits, renders the party holding it a partner in the enterprise, and makes him presumptively liable to share any loss.

79. Males can marry at fourteen, and females at twelve years of age.

80. All cattle found at large upon any public road, can be driven by any person to the public pound.

81. Any dog chasing, barking, or otherwise threatening a passer-by in any street, lane, road, or other public thoroughfare, may be lawfully killed for the same.

82. A written promise for the payment of such amount as may come into the hands of the promisor, is held to be an instrument in writing for the payment of money.

83. The declaration of an agent is not admissible to establish the fact of agency.—But when other proper evidence is given, tending to establish the fact of agency, it is not error to admit the declarations of the agent, accompanying acts, though tending to show the capacity in which he acted. When evidence is competent in one respect and incompetent in another, it is the duty of the court to admit it, and control its effects by suitable instructions to the jury.

84. The court has a general power to remove or suspend an attorney for such immoral conduct as rendered him unworthy of confidence in his official capacity.

85. Bankruptcy is pleadable in bar to all actions and in all courts, and this bar may be avoided whenever it is interposed, by showing fraud in the procurement of the discharge, or a violation of any of the provisions of the bankrupt act.

86. An instrument in the form of a deed, but limited to take effect at the termination of the grantor's natural life, is held to be a deed, not a will.

87. A sale will not be set aside as fraudulent, simply because the buyer was at the time unable to make the payment agreed upon, and knew his inability, and did not intend to pay.

88. No man is under an obligation to make known his circumstances when he is buying goods.

89. Contracting parties are bound to disclose material facts known to each, but of which either supposes the other to be ignorant, only when they stand in some special relation of trust and confidence in relation to the subject matter of the contract. But neither will be protected if he does anything, however slight, to mislead or deceive the other.

90. A contract negotiated by mail is formed when notice of acceptance of the offer is duly deposited in the post-office, properly addressed. This rule applies, although the party making the offer expressly requires that if it is accepted, speedy notice of acceptance shall be given him.

91. The date of an instrument is so far a material part of it, that an alteration of the date by the holder after execution, makes the instrument void.

92. A corporation may maintain an action for libel, for words published of them and relating to its trade or business, by which it has incurred special damages.

93. It is unprofessional for a lawyer who has abandoned his case without trying it, a term or two before trial, to claim a fee conditional upon the success of his client, although his client was successful.

94. Although a party obtaining damages for injuries received through the default of another, was himself guilty of negligence, yet that will not defeat his recovery, unless his negligence contributed to cause the injury.

95. A person may contract to labor for another during life, in consideration of receiving his support; but his creditors have the right to inquire into the intention with which such arrangement is made, and it will be set aside if entered into to deprive them of his future earnings.

96. A grantor may by express terms exclude the bed of a river, or a highway, mentioned as boundary; but if without language of exclusion a line is described as 'along,' or 'upon,' or as 'running to' the highway or river, or as 'by,' or 'running to the bank of' the river; these expressions carry the grantee to the center of the highway or river.

97. The court will take pains to construe the words used in a deed in such a way as to effect the intention of the parties, however unskillfully the instrument may be drawn. But a court of law cannot exchange an intelligible word plainly employed in a deed for another, however evident it may be that the word used was used by mistake for another.

98. One who has lost his memory and understanding is entitled to legal protection, whether such loss is occasioned by his own misconduct or by an act of Providence.

99. When a wife leaves her husband voluntarily, it must be shown, in order to make him liable for necessaries furnished to her, that she could not stay with safety. Personal violence, either threatened or inflicted, will be sufficient cause for such separation.

100. Necessaries of dress furnished to a discarded wife must correspond with the pecuniary circumstances of the husband, and be such articles as the wife, if prudent, would expect, and the husband should furnish, if the parties lived harmoniously together.

101. A fugitive from justice from one of the United States to another, may be arrested and detained in order to his surrender by authority of the latter, without a previous demand for his surrender by the executive of the State whence he fled.

102. A watch will not pass under a bequest of "wearing apparel," nor of "household furniture and articles for family use."

103. Money paid for the purpose of settling or compounding a prosecution for a supposed felony, cannot be recovered back by a party paying it.

104. An innkeeper is liable for the death of an animal in his possession, but may free himself from liability by showing that the death was not occasioned by negligence on his part.

105. Notice to the agent of a company is notice to the company.

106. An employer is not liable to one of his employees for an injury sustained by the latter in consequence of the neglect of others of his employees engaged in the same general business.

107. Where a purchaser at a Sheriff's sale has bid the full price of property under the erroneous belief that the sale would divest the property of all liens, it is the duty of the court to give relief by setting aside the sale.

108. When notice of protest is properly sent by mail, it may be sent by the mail of the day of the dishonor; if not, it must be mailed for the mail of the next day; except that if there is none, or it closes at an unseasonably early hour, then notice must be mailed in season for the next possible mail.

109. A powder-house located in a populous part of a city, and containing large quantities of gunpowder, is a nuisance.

110. When the seller of goods accepts at the time of the sale, the note of a third person, unindorsed by the purchaser, in payment, the presumption is that the payment was intended to be absolute; and though the note should be dishonored, the purchaser will not be liable for the value of the goods.

111. A man charged with crime before a committing magistrate, but discharged on his own recognizance, is not privileged from arrest on civil process while returning from the magistrate's office.

112. When one has been induced to sell goods by means of false pretences, he cannot recover them from one who has bona fide purchased and obtained possession of them from the fraudulent vendor.

113. If the circumstances attendant upon a sale and delivery of personal property are such as usually and naturally accompany such a transaction, it cannot be declared a legal fraud upon creditors.

114. A stamp impressed upon an instrument by way of seal, is good as a seal, if it creates a durable impression in the texture of the paper.

115. If a party bound to make a payment use due diligence to make a tender, but through the payee's absence from home is unable to find him or any agent authorized to take payment for him, no forfeiture will be incurred through his failure to make a tender.

Government Land Measure.

A township, 36 sections, each a mile square.

A section, 640 acres.

A quarter section, half a mile square, 160 acres.

An eighth section, half a mile long, north and south, and a quarter of a mile wide, 80 acres.

A sixteenth section, a quarter of a mile square, 40 acres.

The sections are numbered from one to thirty-six, commencing at the northeast corner, thus:

6	5	4	3	2	n	w	n	e
					s	w	s	e
7	8	9	10	11	12
18	17	16	15	14	13
19	20	21	22	23	24
30	29	28	27	26	25
31	32	33	34	35	36

The sections are all divided in quarters, which are named by the cardinal points, as in section one. The quarters are divided in the same way. The description of a 40 acre lot would read: The south half of the west half of the southwest quarter of section 1 in township 21, north of range 7 west, or as the case might be; and sometimes will fall short, and sometimes overrun the number of acres it is supposed to contain.

THE DECIMAL SYSTEM OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

As Authorized by Act of Congress--Approved July 28, 1866.

STANDARDS.

In every system of Weights and Measures it is necessary to have what are called "Standards," as the pound, yard, gallon, &c., to be divided and multiplied into smaller and larger parts and denominations. The definition and construction of these Standards involve philosophical and scientific principles of a somewhat abstruse character, and are made and procured by the legislative department of the government. The nominal Standards in the new system are the METER, the ARE, the LITER, and the GRAM. The only real Standard, the one by which all the other standards are measured, and from which the system derives its name of "Metric," is the METER.

THE METER

Is used for all measures of length, distance, breadth, depth, height, &c., and was intended to be, and is very nearly, one ten-millionth of the distance on the earth's surface from the equator to the pole. It is about $39\frac{3}{8}$ inches, or 3 feet, 3 inches and 3 eighths, and is to be substituted for the yard.

THE ARE

Is a surface whose side is ten Meters, and is equal to 100 square Meters or about 4 square rods.

THE LITER

Is the unit for measuring solids and capacity, and is equal to the contents of a cube whose edge is one-tenth of a meter. It is about equal to 1 quart, and is a standard in cubic, dry and liquid measures.

D

 A cubic Meter (or Kiloliter) is called a stere, and is also used as a standard in certain cubic measures.

THE GRAM

Is the Unit of weight, and is the weight of a cube of pure water, each edge of the cube being one one-hundredth of a Meter. It is about equal to $15\frac{1}{2}$ grains. It is intended as the Standard in all weights, and with its divisions and multiples, to supersede the use of what are now called Avoirdupois, Apothecaries and Troy Weights.

Each of the foregoing Standards is divided decimally, and larger units are also formed by multiples of 10, 100, &c. The successive subordinate parts are designated by the prefixes Deci, Centi and Milli; the successive multiples by Dekka, Hecto, Kilo and Myria; each having its own numerical signification, as will be more clearly seen in the tables hereinafter given.

The terms used may, at first sight, have a formidable appearance, seem difficult to pronounce, and to retain in memory, and to be, therefore, objectionable; but with a little attention and use, the apprehended difficulty will be found more apparent than real, as has been abundantly proved by experience. The importance, also, of conformity in the use of commercial terms, on the part of the United States, with the practice of the many nations in which the system, with its present nomenclature, has already been adopted, must greatly overbalance the comparatively slight objection alluded to.

Acts and Resolutions of Congress.

PUBLIC—No. 183.

AN ACT to authorize the use of the metric system of weights and measures.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the passage of this act, it shall be lawful throughout the United States of America to employ the weights and measures of the metric system; and no contract or dealing, or pleading in any court, shall be deemed invalid or liable to objection, because the weights or measures expressed or referred to therein are weights or measures of the metric system.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the tables in the schedule hereto annexed, shall be recognized in the construction of contracts, and in all legal proceedings, as establishing, in terms of the weights and measures now in use in the United States, the equivalents of the weights and measures expressed therein in terms of the metric system; and said tables may be lawfully used for computing, determining and expressing, in customary weights and measures, the weights and measures of the metric system.

Discount and Premium.

When a person buys an article for $1,00—20 per cent off, (or discount,) and sells it again for $1,00, he makes a profit of 25 per cent. on his investment. Thus: He pays 80 cents and sells for $1,00—a gain of 20 cents, or 25 per cent of 80 cents. And for any transaction where the sale or purchase of gold, silver, or currency is concerned, the following rules will apply in all cases.

RULE 1st.—To find premium when discount is given: Multiply 100 by rate of discount and divide by 100, less rate of discount.

RULE 2d.—To find discount when premium is given. Multiply the rate of interest by 100, and divide by 100, plus the rate of premium.

Suppose A has $140 in currency, which he wishes to exchange for gold, when gold is 27 per cent. premium, how much gold should he receive? In this case the premium is given, consequently we must find the discount on A's currency and subtract it from the $140, as per rule 2d, showing the discount to be a trifle more than 21 per cent. and that he should receive $110.60 in gold.

Facts on Advertising.

The advertisements in an ordinary number of the London Times exceed 2,500. The annual advertising bills of one London firm are said to amount to $200,000; and three others are mentioned who each annually expend for the purpose $50,000. The expense for advertising the eight editions of the "Encyclopædia Britannia" is said to have been $15,000.

In large cities nothing is more common than to see large business establishments, which seem to have an immense advantage over all competitors, by the wealth, experience, and prestige they have acquired, drop gradually out of public view, and be succeeded by firms of a smaller capital, more energy, and more determined to have the fact that they sell such and such commodities known from one end of the land to the other. In other words; the establishments advertise; the old die of dignity.—The former are ravenous to pass out of obscurity into publicity; the latter believe that their publicity is so obvious that it cannot be obscured. The first understand that they must thrust themselves upon public attention, or be disregarded; the second, having once obtained public attention, suppose they have arrested it permanently; while, in fact, nothing is more characteristic of the world than the ease with which it forgets.

Stephen Girard, than whom no shrewder business man ever lived, used to say: I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business, and the prelude to wealth. And I have made it an invariable rule too, to advertise in the duldest times as well as the busiest; long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out; as by keeping my business continually before the public it has secured me many sales that I would otherwise have lost.

Brilliant Whitewash.

Many have heard of the brilliant stucco whitewash on the east end of the President's house at Washington. The following is a recipe for it; it is gleaned from the National Intelligencer, with some additional improvements learned by experiments: Take half a bushel of nice unslacked lime, slack it with boiling water, cover it during the process to keep in the steam. Strain the liquid through a fine sieve or strainer, and add to it a peck of salt, previously well dissolved in warm water; three pounds of ground rice, boiled to a thin paste, and stirred in boiling hot; half a pound of powdered Spanish whiting, and a pound of clean glue, which has been previously dissolved by soaking it well, and then hanging it over a slow fire, in a small kettle within a large one filled with water. Add five gallons of hot water to the mixture, stir it well, and let it stand a few days covered from the dirt.

It should be put on right hot; for this purpose it can be kept in a kettle on a portable furnace. It is said that about a pint of this mixture will cover a square yard upon the outside of a house if properly applied. Brushes more or less small may be used according to the neatness of the job required. It answers as well as oil paint for wood, brick or stone, and is cheaper. It retains its brilliancy for many years. There is nothing of the kind that will compare with it, either for inside or outside walls.

Coloring matter may be put in and made of any shade you like. Spanish brown stirred in will make red pink, more or less deep according to the quantity. A delicate tinge of this is very pretty, for inside walls. Finely pulverized common clay, well mixed with Spanish brown, makes a reddish stone color. Yellow-ochre stirred in makes yellow wash, but chrome goes further, and makes a color generally esteemed prettier. In all these cases the darkness of the shades of course is determined by the quantity of coloring used. It is difficult to make rules, because tastes are different. It would be best to try experiments on a shingle and let it dry. We have been told that green must not be mixed with lime. The lime destroys the color, and the color has an effect on the whitewash, which makes it crack and peel. When walls have been badly smoked, and you wish to have them a clean white, it is well to squeeze indigo plentifully through a bag into the water you use, before it is stirred in the whole mixture. If a larger quantity than five gallons be wanted, the same proportion should be observed.

How to get a Horse out of a Fire.

The great difficulty of getting horses from a stable where surrounding buildings are in a state of conflagration, is well known.—The plan of covering their eyes with a blanket will not always succeed.

A gentleman whose horses have been in great peril from such a cause, having tried in vain to save them, hit upon the expedient of having them harnessed as though going to their usual work; when, to his astonishment, they were led from the stable without difficulty.

The Chemical Barometer.

Take a long narrow bottle, such as an old-fashioned Eau-de-Cologne bottle, and put into it two and a half drachms of camphor, and eleven drachms of spirits of wine; when the camphor is dissolved, which it will readily do by slight agitation, add the following mixture: Take water, nine drachms; nitrate of potash (saltpetre) thirty-eight grains; and muriate of ammonia (sal ammoniac) thirty-eight grains. Dissolve these salts in the water prior to mixing with the camphorated spirit; then shake the whole well together. Cork the bottle well, and wax the top, but afterwards make a very small aperture in the cork with a red-hot needle. The bottle may then be hung up, or placed in any stationary position. By observing the different appearances which the materials assume, as the weather changes, it becomes an excellent prognosticator of a coming storm or of a sunny sky.

Leech Barometer.

Take an eight ounce phial, and put in it three gills of water, and place in it a healthy leech, changing the water in summer once a week, and in winter once in a fortnight, and it will most accurately prognosticate the weather. If the weather is to be fine, the leech lies motionless at the bottom of the glass and coiled together in a spiral form; if rain may be expected, it will creep up to the top of its lodgings and remain there till the weather is settled; if we are to have wind, it will move through its habitation with amazing swiftness, and seldom goes to rest till it begins to blow hard; if a remarkable storm of thunder and rain is to succeed, it will lodge for some days before almost continually out of the water, and discover great uneasiness in violent throes and convulsive-like motions; in frost as in clear summer-like weather it lies constantly at the bottom; and in snow as in rainy weather it pitches its dwelling in the very mouth of the phial. The top should be covered over with a piece of muslin.

TO MEASURE GRAIN IN A BIN.—Find the number of cubic feet, from which deduct one-fifth. The remainder is the number of bushels—allowing, however, one bushel extra to every 224. Thus in a remainder of 224 there would be 225 bushels. In a remainder of 448 there would be 450 bushels, &c.

VALUABLE RECIPES.

[The following recipes are vouched for by several who have tried them and proven their virtues. Many of them have been sold singly for more than the price of this book.—Pub.]

HORSES.

RING BONE AND SPAVIN.—2 oz. each of Spanish flies and Venice turpentine; 1 oz. each of aqua ammonia and euphorbium; $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. red precipitate; $\frac{1}{4}$ oz. corrosive sublimate; $1\frac{1}{2}$ lbs. lard. When thoroughly pulverized and mixed, heat carefully so as not to burn, and pour off free from sediment.

For ring-bone, rub in thoroughly, after removing hair, once in 48 hours. For spavin, once in 24 hours. Cleanse and press out the matter on each application.

POLL-EVIL.—Gum arabic $\frac{1}{4}$ oz.; common potash $\frac{1}{4}$ oz.; extract of belladonna $\frac{1}{4}$ dr. Put the gum in just enough water to dissolve it. Pulverize the potash and mix with the dissolved gum, and then put in the extract of belladonna, and it will be ready for use. Use with a syringe after having cleansed with soap suds, and repeat once in two days till a cure is affected.

SCOURS.—Powdered tormentil root, given in milk, from 3 to 5 times daily till cured.

GREASE-HEEL AND SCRATCHES.—Sweet oil 6 ozs.; borax 2 ozs.; sugar of lead 2 ozs. Wash off with dish water, and, after it is dry, apply the mixture twice a day.

CHOLIC IN HORSES.—To $\frac{1}{2}$ pt. of warm water add 1 oz. laudanum and 3 ozs. spirits of turpentine, and repeat the dose in about $\frac{1}{4}$ of an hour, adding $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. powdered aloes, if not relieved.

BOTS.—Three doses. 1st. 2 qts milk and 1 of molasses. 2d. 15 minutes after, 2 qts. warm sage tea. 3d. After the expiration of 30 minutes, sufficient lard to physic.—Never fails.

MISCELLANEOUS.

PILES—PERFECTLY CURED.—Take flour of sulphur 1 oz., rosin 3 ozs., pulverize and mix well together. (Color with carmine or cochineal, if you like.) Dose—What will lie on a fivecent piece, night and morning, washing the parts freely in cold water once or twice a day. This is a remedy of great value.

The cure will be materially hastened by taking a table-spoon of sulphur in a half pint of milk, daily, until the cure is affected.

SURE CURE FOR CORNS, WARTS AND CHILBLAINS.—Take of nitric and muriatic acids, blue vitriol and salts of tartar, 1 oz. each. Add the blue vitriol, pulverized, to either of the acids; add the salts of tartar in the same way; when done foaming, add the other acid, and in a few days it will be ready for use. For chilblains and corns apply it very lightly with a swab, and repeat in a day or two until cured. For warts, once a week, until they disappear.

HOOF-AIL IN SHEEP.—Mix 2 ozs. each of butter of antimony and muriatic acid with 1 oz. of pulverized white vitriol, and apply once or twice a week to the bottom of the foot.

COMMON RHEUMATISM.—Kerosene oil 2 ozs.; neats-foot oil 1 oz.; oil of organum $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. Shake when used, and rub and heat in twice daily.

VERY FINE SOAP, QUICKLY AND CHEAPLY MADE.—Fourteen pounds of bar soap in a half a boiler of hot water; cut up fine; add three pounds of sal-soda made fine; one ounce of pulverized rosin; stir it often till all is dissolved; just as you take it off the fire, put in two table-spoonfuls of spirits of turpentine and one of ammonia; pour it in a barrel, and fill up with cold soft water; let it stand three or four days before using. It is an excellent soap for washing clothes, extracting the dirt readily, and not fading colored articles.

WATER PROOF FOR LEATHER.—Take linseed oil 1 pint, yellow wax and white turpentine each 2 ozs. Burgundy pitch 1 oz., melt and color with lampblack.

TO KEEP CIDER SWEET.—Put into each barrel, immediately after making, $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. ground mustard, 2 oz. salt and 2 oz. pulverized chalk. Stir them in a little cider, pour them into the barrel, and shake up well.

AGUE CURE.—Procure $1\frac{1}{2}$ table-spoons of fresh mandrake root juice, (by pounding) and mix with the same quantity of molasses, and take in three equal doses, 2 hours a part, the whole to be taken 1 hour before the chill comes on. Take a swallow of some good bitters before meals, for a couple of weeks after the chills are broken, and the cure will be permanent.

CURE FOR SALT RHEUM OR SCURVY.—Take of the pokeweed, any time in summer; pound it; press out the juice; strain it into a pewter dish; set it in the sun till it becomes a salve—then put it into an earthen mug; add to it fresh water and bees' wax sufficient to make an ointment of common consistency; simmer the whole over a fire till thoroughly mixed. When cold, rub the part affected. The patient will almost immediately experience its good effects, and the most obstinate cases will be cured in three or four months. Tested.—The juice of the ripe berries may be prepared in the same way.

SUPERIOR PAINT—FOR BRICK HOUSES.—To lime whitewash, add for a fastener, sulphate of zinc, and shade with any color you choose, as yellow ochre, Venetian red, etc. It outlasts oil paint.

FELONS.—Stir 1 oz. of Venice turpentine with $\frac{1}{2}$ tea-spoonful of water, till it looks like candied honey, and apply by spreading upon cloth and wrapping around the finger. If not too long delayed will cure in 6 hours. A poke root poultice is also said to be a sure remedy.

WATER-PROOF BLACKING AND HARNESS POLISH.—Take two and a half ounces gum shellac and half a pint of alcohol, and set in a warm place until dissolved; then add two and a half ounces Venice turpentine to neutralize the alcohol; add a tablespoonful of lampblack. Apply with a fine sponge. It will give a good polish over oil or grease.

MOSQUITOS.—To get rid of these tormentors, take a few hot coals on a shovel, or a chafing dish, and burn upon them some brown sugar in your bed-rooms and parlors, and you effectually banish or destroy every mosquito for the night.

CHEAP OUTSIDE PAINT.—Take two parts (in bulk) of water lime ground fine, one part (in bulk) of white lead ground in oil. Mix them thoroughly, by adding best boiled linseed oil, enough to prepare it to pass through a paint mill, after which temper with oil till it can be applied with a common paint brush. Make any color to suit. It will last three times as long as lead paint, and cost not one-fourth as much. IT IS SUPERIOR.

CURE FOR A COUGH.—A strong decoction of the leaves of the pine, sweetened with loaf sugar. Take a wine-glass warm on going to bed, and half an hour before eating three times a day. The above is sold as a cough syrup, and is doing wonderful cures, and it is sold at a great profit to the manufacturers.

How to Judge a Horse.

A correspondent, contrary to old maxims, undertakes to judge the character of a horse by outward appearances, and offers the following suggestions, the result of his close observation and long experience:

If the color be light sorrell, or chestnut, his feet, legs and face white, these are marks of kindness. If he is broad and full between the eyes, he may be depended on as a horse of good sense, and capable of being trained to anything.

As respects such horses, the more kindly you treat them the better you will be treated in return. Nor will a horse of this description stand a whip, if well fed.

If you want a safe horse, avoid one that is dish-faced. He may be so far gentle as not to scare; but he will have too much go-ahead in him to be safe with everybody.

If you want a fool, but a horse of great bottom, get a deep bay, with not a white hair about him. If his face is a little dish-ed, so much the worse. Let no man ride such a horse that is not an adept in riding—they are always tricky and unsafe.

If you want one that will never give out, never buy a large, overgrown one.

A black horse cannot stand heat, nor a white one cold.

If you want a gentle horse, get one with more or less white about the head; the more the better. Many persons suppose the parti-colored horses belonging to the circuses, shows, &c., are selected for their oddity. But the selections thus made are on account of their great jocility and gentleness.

Measurement of Hay in the Mow or Stack.—It is often desirable, where conveniences for weighing are not at hand, to purchase and sell hay by measurement. It is evident that no fixed rule will answer in all cases, as it would require more cubic feet at the top of a mow than at the bottom. The general rule adopted by those who have tested it, is that a cube, each side of which shall measure eight feet, of solid Timothy hay, as taken from mow or bottom of stack will weigh a ton. The rule may be varied for upper part of mow or stack according to pressure.

EXPLANATION.—Find the Year and observe the Letter above it; then look for the Month, and in a line with it find the Letter of the Year; above the Letter find the Day; and the figures on the left, in the same line, are the days of the same name in the month.

Leap Years have two letters; the first is used till the end of February, the second during the remainder of the year.

RENSSELAER COUNTY.

THIS COUNTY was formed from Albany, February 7, 1791, and named in honor of the Rensselaer family. It included the principal part of Rensselaerwyck, upon the east side of the river. It is centrally distant twelve miles from Albany, and contains an area of 690 square miles. The surface is very broken and hilly. It is traversed by two distinct ranges of mountains, extending north and south, known as the Taghkanick and Petersburgh Mountains. The former occupies the extreme east border of the County, and is divided from the latter by the long deep valley through which flow Kinderhook Creek and Little Hoosick and Hoosick Rivers. These mountains are wild, rugged and rocky, rising to a height of from 1000 to 2000 feet above tide, and affording a great variety of wild and picturesque scenery. Their declivities are usually precipitous and their summits are covered with forests or masses of naked rocks. These mountains are composed of the slate, quartz, sandstone and limestone that constitute the Taconic rocks of Professor Emmons. The quartz exists in the form of veins of injection, and in some places the slate has been washed away, leaving the quartz in the form of sharp pointed rocks or of isolated masses. The soil upon the summits and sides of the mountains is generally thin and poor, but in the valleys it consists of gravelly loam, and is moderately fertile. The Petersburgh Mountains occupy the whole central part of the County. They are wild, irregular and broken masses, with precipitous sides on the east, but with more gradual declivities on the west. In some places the summits spread out over a wide surface, constituting a wide sterile plateau, broken by hills and rocks. These mountains are composed of the graywacke slates and limestone belonging to the Hudson River group. An extensive tract is still covered with forests. The soil is generally hard and sterile, consisting of a stiff clay and disintegrated slate, underlaid to a considerable extent by hardpan. Hudson River forms the western boundary of the County. Along its bank is a flat, varying from a few rods to half a mile in width, and bounded by a series of bluffs from 100 to 200 feet in height. From the summits of these bluffs the surface is a broken and hilly upland. This region is composed of the drift deposits, mixed with disintegrated slates, clay and sand predominating in different places. Little Hoosick and Hoosick Rivers and Kinderhook Creek flow through the valley in the eastern part of the County. The summit level in this valley, between the waters flowing north and those flowing south, at South Berlin, is 600 feet above tide. The streams flowing from the Petersburg Mountains westward, to the Hudson, have worn deep ravines through the clay bluffs, forming lateral valleys which extend eastward from the valley of the Hudson. Numerous small lakes and ponds are interspersed in the wild rocky region of the Petersburg Mountains, forming one of the most beautiful features of the landscape. Several mineral springs are found in the County.

The narrow flats along the streams, and a large portion of the uplands, are adapted to grain, and produce excellent crops, but the soil generally is better adapted to grazing and dairying, especially in the eastern towns, where these occupations form the leading pursuits. Manufactures are extensively carried on at Troy and in the Hoosick Valley, and commerce has received considerable attention at Troy.

The principal works of internal improvement in the County are the Hudson River R. R., and Troy & Greenbush R. R., its continuation to Troy; Boston & Albany R. R., extending south-east through East Greenbush and Schodack; Troy & Boston R. R., extending north-east through Lansingburgh, Schaghticoke, Pittstown, Hoosick, and a corner of Petersburg, to the Vermont line; Lebanon Springs R. R., connecting Chatham Four Corners and Bennington, Vt., extending through Stephentown, Berlin and Petersburg; the Rensselaer & Saratoga R. R., connecting Troy and Saratoga Springs, and a branch of the New York Central, connecting Troy and Schenectady. The last named roads cross the river at Troy on a substantial bridge, 1600 feet in length, used for carriages as well as railroads. The canals open into the Hudson opposite Troy, and steamboats ply between this city and New York.

The first newspaper published within the present limits of the County was

The Northern Centinel and Lansingburgh Advertiser. It was started at Lansingburgh, May 15, 1787, by Claxton & Babcock, and was afterwards removed to Albany.

THE LANSINGBURGH GAZETTE was started in 1798, and was subsequently published for many years as

The Rensselaer County Gazette. It afterwards resumed its former title, and is now published by S. B. Kirkpatrick.

The Lansingburgh Democrat was started in December 1838, by William J. Lamb, by whom it was published for several years.

The Golden Rule was established at Lansingburgh in 1841, by Rev. R. W. Smith, and was published for several years.

The Juvenile Pearl was started at the same place, September 1, 1845, by Rev. J. A. Pitman.

The Farmers' Oracle was started at Troy in 1796, by Luther Pratt. It was continued only a short time.

The Farmers' Register was started at Lansingburgh in 1798, by Francis Adancourt. It was subsequently removed to Troy, where it was published until 1832.

THE NORTHERN BUDGET was commenced at Troy in 1797, by Robert Moffitt and Col. Wells. It was subsequently published by Moffitt & Lyon, and after the death of Mr. Moffitt, in 1807, it was published by Oliver Lyon, the surviving partner. It was issued weekly for several years, and subsequently, daily, for many years, by different parties. From May 1846 to August 1847 it was published by J. M. Francis & E. Brownell, at which time Mr. Brownell gave place to C. L. MacArthur. It was subsequently published in connection with several other papers, by W. W. Whitman, William Hagadorn, and for a time by W. H. Merriam. In 1862 its publication was suspended. In May 1867 it was revived as a Sunday paper, by C. L. MacArthur, its present publisher.

The Troy Gazette was founded in 1802 by Thomas Collier, and was continued until 1818.

The Troy Post was started Sept. 1, 1812, by Parker & Bliss, and was changed July 15, 1823, to

The Troy Sentinel, a semi-weekly paper. It was continued until January 1, 1833. From May 1, 1830, to August 1831, a daily edition was issued.

The Evangelical Restorationist, a semi-monthly, was commenced in 1825 by Adolphus Skinner.

The Troy Review, or Religious and Musical Repository, was commenced Jan. 4, 1826, and was published two years.

The Evangelical Repository was published in 1828.

The Troy Republican, an Anti-Masonic paper, was started in 1828 by Austin & Wellington, and was continued about a year.

The Northern Watchman (Anti-Masonic) was started in 1831 by E. Wellington. In 1832 its name was changed to

The Troy Watchman, and was continued one or two years.

The Gospel Anchor (Universalist) was started in 1831 by John M. Austin, and was afterwards published by H. J. Green. It was continued until 1834.

The Troy Press was started in 1832 by William Yates and Seth Richards, and was continued until July 1, 1834. A daily edition was issued during the last year.

THE TROY WHIG, daily and weekly, was started in July 1834, by James M. Stevenson, who continued its publication until his death, in 1850, when it passed into the hands of Mr. Brigham. In 1855 or '56 George Abbott became its publisher, and in 1863 he sold to an association of gentlemen, who published it under the firm name of Green & Co. It has since passed through various hands, and is now published by Alex. Kirkpatrick. A weekly edition is issued. It was for a time called the Troy American.

The Troy Statesman was commenced in 1834 by T. J. Sutherland.

The Botanic Advocate was published in 1834 by Russell Buckley.

The Trojan was started in 1835, and published daily for a few months.

The State Journal was issued in 1836 by Richard J. Mastin.

The New York State Journal was published in 1837 by T. Haxtun.

The Troy Daily Mail was started in 1837 by Wellington & Nafew, and was continued until 1841.

The Troy Daily Bulletin was started in Dec. 1841, by R. Thompson.

The Troy Daily Herald was published by Isaac D. Ayers in 1843.

The Troy Temperance Mirror was published in 1843 by Bardwell & Kneeland.

The Family Journal was started in 1844 by Fisk & Co. In 1848 it appeared as

The New York Family Journal, and was continued until 1861, when it was discontinued.

The Troy Daily Post was started by Alexander McCall. It was subsequently published by Enoch Davis, and in 1850 by Davis & Johnson. In 1852 A. G. Johnson became the sole proprietor and changed the name to

The Troy Daily Traveler. It was subsequently published by Fisk, Fisk & Avery, and again by Fisk, Avery & Thompson, until 1856, when its publication was discontinued.

The Trojan was started in 1845 and continued for several years.

The Rensselaer County Temperance Advocate was started in 1846 by S. Spicer.

The Daily Telegraph was published at Troy in 1846.

The Journal of Temperance was started in 1847 by William Hager.

The National Watchman was commenced in 1847 by Allen & Garnet. Its publication was continued for several years.

THE TROY DAILY TIMES was started in June 1851 by J. M. Francis and R. D. Thompson. In 1854 Mr. Francis became sole proprietor. After a few months Mr. H. O. Tucker purchased an interest in the paper, which he has continued to hold. Its present publishers are J. M. Francis & Tucker. A weekly edition is issued.

La Ruche Canadienne was started in Troy in 1851 by Dorian & Mathiot.

The Nassau Gazette was started in December 1850 by J. M. Geer.

The Lutheran Herald was published semi-monthly, at West Sand Lake, in 1844, by H. L. Dox.

The Greenbush Guardian was started in August 1856 by A. J. Goodrich. It was afterwards published by J. D. Comstock.

The Troy Daily News was started in 1860 by Mr. Loveridge, but was issued only a few months.

The Troy News, a Sunday paper, was started in September 1864, by C. L. MacArthur, who continued its publication until Jan. 1866, when he sold out to Mr. Hawley, who published it until May 1867, when it was discontinued.

TROY WEEKLY PRESS was started August 8, 1863, by A. S. Pease, the present publisher.

THE POLYTECHNIC is published semi-monthly by Montague L. Marks.

The Troy Daily Arena was started in the winter of 1859 by MacArthur & Fonda. It was published only a short time.

The County Seat is located at Troy. By an act of the Legislature of Jan. 11, 1793, the sum of £600 was appropriated for the erection of a Court House and Jail, to be built under the direction of Cornelius Lansing, Jacob C. Schermerhorn, Abraham Ten Eyck, Mahlon Taylor and Jacob Vanderheyden, who, with others, had pledged £1,000 for that purpose. In 1794 an additional sum of £800 was granted. In 1797, $5,500 were granted, and in 1798 a further sum of $500. The present Court House stands at the corner of Congress and Second streets. It was built at the joint expense of the city and County, and contains the court room and county and city offices. This building was commenced in 1828 and completed in 1831. It is in the Grecian style of architecture with massive pillars in front. The material is Sing Sing marble. It occupies the same site as the first one, which was of brick. The Jail is located at the corner of Fifth and Ferry streets.

The first County officers were Anthony Ten Eyck, Judge; Moss Kent, Surrogate; Nicholas Schuyler, Clerk; and Albert Pawling, Sheriff.

The County Poor House is located on a farm of 146 acres, about two miles from the central part of the city and is valued at $83,000. The main building is of brick, two stories high and 150 by 40 feet on the ground, and is occupied by the Keeper and the better class of female paupers. A wing of the same height and similar material, 30 by 40 feet, extending to the rear, is used as a school room and hospital. A wood structure, one story in height and 100 by 28 feet on the ground, is occupied exclusively by the men. Religious services are held in the house on the Sabbath, and a Sunday School is maintained under the direction of the Sisters of Charity of Troy.

The Lunatic Asylum is situated at the rear of the main building; it is constructed of brick, three stories high, and 60 by 30 feet on the ground.

The greater part of the County was included in Rensselaerwyck, a territory granted in 1629 to Killian Van Rensselaer, a pearl merchant of Amsterdam. The charter was granted by the Dutch West India Company, and conferred upon him privileges similar to those enjoyed by the feudal barons of Europe. The territory included lands on both sides of the river, extending about twenty-four miles north and south, and forty-eight east and west. By the terms of the charter the Colony must contain at least fifty persons over fifteen years of age, within four years, one-fourth of whom must be located within the first year. A ship load of emigrants was forwarded in 1630, and others in each of several succeeding years. The first settlers were supplied with stock, seeds and farming utensils, and the land was leased at an annual rent, payable in grain, beeves and wampum, or a share of the products of the land. tor was styled Patroon, and in him was vested authority in civil and military affairs, subordinate only to the Dutch West India Company and the States General of Holland. He had his forts, soldiers, cannon and courts of justice, and had power to try all causes and inflict punishment even to death, though in case a gallows broke down during an execution he was not allowed to erect another for the same criminal. The laws allowed an appeal from the decisions of the local courts, but the Patroon required every person who settled within his jurisdiction to pledge himself never to exercise this right. At the close of harvest the farmers were required to hand to the Patroon an account of the amount of grain, stock and other articles which they might have for sale. If the Patroon did not wish to purchase they could seek a market elsewhere. The settlers were required to go to the Patroon's mill for their grinding, and he in turn was required to keep the mill in repair. If any real estate was for sale, the Patroon must have the first offer to purchase; and if any person died intestate he claimed all property of the deceased. No person was allowed to hunt or fish without the permission of the Patroon.

In 1642 Rev. Johannes Megapolensis was sent out "to disseminate the light of the gospel among Christians and heathen in the Colonie, to preach God's word there, to administer the holy sacraments of Baptism and the Lord's Supper, to set an example in a christian like manner by public precept, to ordain elders and deacons, to keep and govern by and with the advice and assistance of the same, God's Congregation in good discipline and order, according to God's Holy Word and in conformity with the government, confession and catechism of the Netherland Church and Synod acts of Dordrecht." He was to receive a free passage to this country, and board for his family, consisting of a wife and four children; an outfit of 300 guilders, and an annual salary for the first three years of 1,100 guilders, thirty schepels of wheat and two firkins of butter, or sixty guilders in cash. The salary was to be increased 200 guilders per year, for the next three years, and a pension of 100 guilders to his wife in case of his decease.

A ferry was established across the river in 1642, near the mouth of Beaver's Kill.

The winter of 1646-7 was unusually severe; the river was closed Nov. 25, and remained so for four months. In the spring a great freshet occurred, and "A certain fish of considerable size, snow white in color, round in the body and blowing water out of his head," made his appearance in the river. What the omen was "God, the Lord only knew." Soon after, another monster, forty feet long, with fins on his back, and ejecting water like the other, appeared, and was pronounced by those competent to decide, to be a whale. It grounded on an island near the mouth of the Mohawk. The people turned out in great numbers to secure the prize. Large quantities of blubber were obtained, but the river was covered with oil for three weeks, and the stench of the decaying animal extended for miles around. Such is in substance the account given of the affair by the early settlers.

In 1652 the authorities of the Colony purchased an additional tract of land, embracing the north part of the County and the present site of Troy.

In 1652 Gerrit Swart was commissioned as a Schout of Rensselaerwyck, and sent over to perform the duties of his office. His commission says "He shall use for his dwelling the house formerly used by the former preacher, situated in Greenbush and there reside with his family, and exercise and discharge his aforesaid office with all diligence and fidelity according to the laws, edicts and ordinances already or to be enacted there." The following instructions were received by him on his departure: "Having arrived with God's help at the island of Manhattan, he shall proceed by the first opportunity to the Colonie and report himself to Jan Baptist Van Rensselaer and make known unto him his quality by exhibition of his commission and instructions. He shall above all things take care that Divine worship shall be maintained in said Colonie, conformably to the Reformed Religion of this Country, as the same is publicly taught in these United Provinces. He shall in like manner pay attention that the Lord's Day, the Sabbath of the New Testament be properly respected both by the observance of hearing the Holy Word as well as the preventing all unnecessary and daily labor on said day. And whereas it is a scandal that the Christians should mingle themselves unlawfully with the wives or daughters of the heathen, the officer shall labor to put in execution the placards and ordinances enacted or to be enacted against the same and strictly exact the fines imposed hereby without any dissimulation."

By the surrender of the Colony to the English in 1664, the personal rights of the colonists were secured, and a new charter was granted to the Patroon, restricting his civil power but confirming the relations existing between landlord and tenant. By laws enacted a few years subsequent to the close of the Revolution, the feudal tenure was abolished, but the proprietors of manor grants were unwilling to give up their feudal claims, and continued a form of deed by which the grantees agreed to perform certain duties and make certain payments, precisely similar to those abolished by the laws. The people who had settled upon these manors had long been dissatisfied and restive under the feudal exactions. The Patroon had by his indulgence secured their regard, and at his death, in 1839, there was great solicitude as to the course that would be pursued by his successors. By his will he gave the western part of his manor to his son Stephen, and the eastern part to his son William P. Van Rensselaer. The "Quarter Sales," by virtue of which the landlord claimed a part of the purchase money on the transfer of every lease, were particularly obnoxious. The tenants about this time began to consult together to devise some plan to throw off the burden. Associations were formed and delegates appointed to meet and deliberate for the general welfare. These local societies soon became known as Anti-rent Associations, and the feeling became so strong as to manifest itself in open resistance to the legal processes for collecting the rents. A secret organization was formed extending through several counties. This organization was composed of men who were pledged to appear in disguise, armed and ready to protect the tenants from arrest and guard their property from execution. Whenever the Sheriff appeared in one of the disaffected towns, a troop of men in fantastic calico dresses with faces masked or painted to resemble Indians, armed with guns, pistols, swords, tomahawks, &c., and generally on horseback, would gather around him or hover near and warn him by threats to desist from the service of any process. In 1844-5, in Rensselaer and other counties, large numbers of men were accustomed to meet thus disguised to listen to speeches and pass resolutions. The leaders assumed the names of distinguished Indian warriors, and the highways became familiar with their antics and whoops. Under such circumstances a conflict between them and the authorities became inevitable. In some instances the military were called out to aid in enforcing the law. Citizens who disapproved of their conduct were subjected to insult in the streets and at their homes. Bad men, under cover of the disguise, took occasion to gratify their passions and to seek redress for private grievances. A conflict which occurred in the town of Grafton awakened general attention. A troop of these men, disguised as Indians and riding along the highway, met a man named Smith, driving a team with a load of wood. He had been outspoken in his condemnation of the course of the Anti-renters; a conflict ensued, and Smith raised his ax to strike one of the assailants, when a pistol shot from an unknown hand prostrated him upon the ground, where he died in a few minutes. The men soon dispersed. A legal investigation, at which more than two hundred persons were examined, failed to disclose the perpetrator of the murder. In the town of Nassau, the Sheriff had been openly resisted and the military had been called out to aid in the execution of the law. A rude system of telegraphing existed in the towns, and gave warning of the approach of an officer, when from all parts disguised men came flocking in. The Legislature of 1844 passed a law against men appearing in disguise, armed, and imposed severe penalties upon the violators. The intense feeling at length manifested itself in political action in 1846, when Governor Young was elected over Silas Wright, on account of his being the candidate of the Anti-renters. The Constitution of 1846 abolished all feudal tenures and incidents, and provided that no lease or grant of agricultural lands for a longer period than twelve years, in which shall be reserved any rent or service of any kind, shall be valid. Since that time a considerable portion of the leased land has been conveyed in fee.

During the French War the north border of the County was repeatedly ravaged by the enemy and the settlements broken up. A long and spirited controversy between the authorities of New York and New Hampshire was carried on, respecting the territory embraced in the present State of Vermont. This territory was claimed by New Hampshire by virtue of a royal charter, and settlements were made under authority of the Governor of that Colony previous to the Revolutionary War. These settlers had purchased their land in good faith and commenced the usual improvements, the territory being designated as the New Hampshire Grants. The Governor of New York subsequently set up a claim to this territory, and issued grants and authorized a re-survey, thereby dispossessing the first settlers. The sturdy pioneers were not disposed to submit to such treatment and organized for the defense of their homes and their rights. The leaders of these pioneers were Ethan Allen, Seth Warner, Remember Baker and others, who were usually spoken of by the New York authorities as the "Bennington Mob." The Walloomsac Patent of 12,000 acres, lying partly in Rensselaer, partly in Washington County and partly in Vermont, was the theater of much contention between the New York authorities and the New Hampshire Grants. The following proclamation from "Documentary History of New York," explains itself.

"By the Honorable Cadwallader Colden, Esquire, his Majesty's Lieutenant Governor, and Commander in Chief of the Province of New York and the Territories depending thereon in America."

"A PROCLAMATION.

"Whereas, in pursuance of an act of the Legislature of this Province, entitled, 'An act for the more effectual collecting his Majesty's Quit-Rents in the Colony of New York, and for the partition of lands in order therefor; Commissioners and a Surveyor were lately appointed to make partition of certain lots, parcel of a larger tract of land situate on the east side of Hudson's River, in the County of Albany, called Wallumschack, granted to James DeLancey, Gerardus Stuyvesandt, Esquires, and others by Letters Patent under the great Seal of said Province, bearing date, the 15th day of July, one thousand seven hundred and thirty-nine; and the said Commissioners, in the execution of their duty, being employed in surveying the said lots of land, were, on the nineteenth day of October last past, interrupted and opposed by a number of armed men, tumultuously and riotously assembled, for the declared purpose of preventing the said partition, who by open force, compelled the Commissioners' Surveyor to desist from the said survey, and by insults and menaces, so intimidated the said Commissioners, that, apprehensive for the safety of their persons, they found it necessary to relinquish any further attempt to perform the trust so reposed in them, by which violent and disorderly proceedings, the said rioters in contempt of the law and in defiance of the authority of this Government, have not only broken the King's peace and set a dangerous example to others, but have defeated the operation of the said act in the division of the land aforesaid. And it appearing by sufficient evidence that James Breackenridge, Jedediah Due, Samuel Robinson, Nathaniel Homer, Henry Walbridge and Moses Robinson, all of the said County of Albany, yeomen, were among the principal authors of and actors in the said riot and breach of the peace. In order therefore to bring the said offenders to condign punishment, and that others warned by their example may be deterred from the commission of such dangerous practices for the future, I have thought fit, by and with the advice of his Majesty's Council to issue this Proclamation, hereby strictly commanding and requiring the Sheriff of the City and County of Albany to apprehend and take all, and every, the before-named rioters and offenders, and them to commit to safe and secure custody to answer for their several offences, and to be dealt with according to law. And for that purpose if it shall be necessary to raise and take to his assistance the posse comitatus or whole power of the County; and all magistrates' officers and ministers of justice are hereby enjoined and required to give their aid and assistance not only in apprehending the said several offenders and committing them to safe custody, but in preventing and suppressing all future riots and disorders of the like dangerous tendency. Given under my hand and seal at arms, at Fort George, in the City of New York, the twelfth day of December 1769, and in the tenth year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord George the Third, by the Grace of God, of Great Britain, France and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith and so forth.

CADWALLADER COLDEN."

"By his Honor's Command,

GEO. BANGER, D. Sec'y.

GOD SAVE THE KING."

James Breakenridge owned a farm on the Walloomsac Patent, which was situated in the town of Bennington, near the line of Hoosick. In July 1771, Henry Ten Eyck, the Sheriff of Albany County, summoned a posse, numbering 200 or 300 of the principal citizens of the city and started to take possession of Breakenridge's farm, held under a grant from New Hampshire. The first day they proceeded to Sancoik, near North Hoosick, where they remained over night. The citizens had received warning of their approach and had assembled, resolved to defend the rights of their neighbor. When the Sheriff's posse arrived at what is now known as the Henry Bridge, they were stopped by a small guard placed there for that purpose, while a larger number were concealed a little distance, awaiting further developments. After a short parley, the Mayor of Albany and a few of the most distinguished of the company, were allowed to proceed to the house of Breakenridge, which they found barricaded, loop-holed and guarded by about twenty armed men. The Sheriff on being refused admittance caused the writ of possession to be read, but no attention was paid to it. A large part of the Sheriff's posse, seeing that they had a resolute band of men to contend with and that peaceable possession could not be gained, thought discretion the better part of valor, and all finally retreated without any shedding of blood. Affidavits of several of the party are found in "Documentary History of New York," Vol. 4, among which is that of John R. Bleecker, who says he had "great reason to think that if the Sheriff had attempted to break open the said house he would have been in the utmost danger of losing his life, and all those that would have assisted him in the attempt."

Among the outrages committed by the Bennington Mob, it was alleged that they had "seized, insulted and terrified Magistrates and other civil officers, so that they dare not execute their respective functions; rescued prisoners for debt, assumed to themselves military commands and judicial powers; burned and demolished the houses and property and beat and abused the persons of many of his Majesty's subjects, expelled them from their possessions, and put a period to the administration of justice, and spread terror and destruction throughout that part of the country which is exposed to their oppression." In consideration of these outrages and the recommendation of the Assembly of the State of New York, the Governor says: "I have therefore thought fit with the advice of his Majesty's Council to issue this Proclamation hereby strictly enjoining and commanding all Magistrates, Justices of the Peace, Sheriffs and other civil officers of the Counties of Albany and Charlotte to apprehend and take the before named Ethan Allen, late of Bennington in the County of Albany, yeoman, Seth Warner late of the same place, yeoman, Remember Baker, late of Arlington in said County, yeoman, Robert Cochran, late of Rupert in the County of Charlotte, yeoman, Peter Sunderland, late of Socialborough in the said County, yeoman. Sylvanus Brown, late of the same place, yeoman, James Breakenridge, late of Wallumschaick in the County of Albany, yeoman, and John Smith, late of Socialborough in the said County of Charlotte, yeoman, and them to commit to safe and secure custody in the Gaol of the City and County of Albany to answer for the several offenses and to be dealt with according to law." The Governor, in this Proclamation, offers a reward of "one hundred pounds for apprehending each of them the said Ethan Allen and Remember Baker, and the sum of fifty pounds for apprehending each and every one of them the said Seth Warner, Robert Cochran, Peleg Sunderland, Sylvanus Brown, James Breakenridge and John Smith to be paid to the person or persons who shall take and secure the said offenders that they may be proceeded against as the law directs." The Proclamation was dated March 9, 1774. After a long and exciting contest, the difficulties were settled by the organization of Vermont as an independent State, with the boundaries as they now exist.

Upon the approach of Burgoyne's army in 1777, the American families hastily fled, with such property as could be easily removed, leaving houses and farms to be plundered by the British. Scouting parties of the enemy penetrated as far south as Lansingburgh. The Battle of Bennington was fought in the town of Hoosick, August 16, 1777, and is described in connection with the history of that town. From this time the cause of the Colonies began to grow brighter, the timid were emboldened, the secretly dissatisfied over-awed, and great numbers, before undecided, now committed their fortunes to the cause of freedom. The proprietor of the Manor of Rensselaerwyck extended every possible assistance to the distressed families flying before the invaders, proving to them a sincere friend in their hour of need.

Rensselaer County Agricultural and Manufacturers Association owns Fair Grounds in the north part of the city, near Lansingburgh. Substantial buildings have been erected and Fairs are held annually. A few weeks after the close of the last annual exhibition, Floral Hall was destroyed by fire, the society sustaining a loss of about $1,000. The officers of the society are: John R. Fonda, Troy, President; D. E. Davenport, Lansingburgh, E. Waters, Troy, John Green, Schodack, George M. Taylor, Troy, Andrew B. Knowlson, Sand Lake, Vice Presidents; S. K. Stowe, Troy, Secretary; G. A. Waters, Troy, Treasurer.

Rensselaer County Medical Society was organized July 1, 1806. Dr. Benjamin Woodward was chosen President; John Loudon, Vice President; Samuel Gale, Treasurer; I. M. Wells, Secretary; and Ely Burritt, Moses Willard, Hezekiah Eldridge, David Doolittle, Benjamin Rowe, Censors. The annual meetings of the Society are held the second Tuesday in January, and quarterly meetings are held the second Tuesday in April, July and October.

The Rensselaer County Homœopathic Society hold their annual meeting the third Tuesday in October, and their semi-annual meeting the third Tuesday in June.

From the Bureau of Military Record of the State, we learn that Rensselaer County and the City of Troy were among the first to respond to the demands of patriotism when the attack upon Fort Sumter was announced. On Monday, April 15th, a call for a meeting to be held in the evening, was issued, signed by men of all parties, and though the largest hall in the city had been engaged for the purpose, it was found to be too small to accommodate the vast multitude in attendance, and an adjournment was made to the great Union Depot, where full five thousand people assembled. Hon. John A. Griswold presided, assisted by many other prominent gentlemen as vice-presidents and secretaries. A series of resolutions condemning the outrage and pledging the people of Troy to a united support of the Government, were adopted; and eloquent addresses were made by the president and other gentlemen present. The meeting adjourned by forming a procession and marching to the residence of Maj. Gen. John E. Wool, where the veteran patriot made an eloquent and patriotic speech. The formation of a regiment was immediately commenced and resulted in the Second Regiment New York Volunteers, which was mustered into the United States service May 14, for the term of two years, Col. J. B. Carr, afterwards Maj. General, commanding the Regiment; Lieut. Col., R. Wells Kenyon; Major, Richard D. Bloss. The Regiment left their camp in Troy, May 18th, and arrived at Fortress Monroe on the 24th. The regiment was on duty in the vicinity of Fortress Monroe, taking part in the battles and skirmishes of that section during the first year's service. The response so nobly made at first, was followed up by equally patriotic efforts in the County until the close of the war. The City of Troy and the County of Rensselaer have nothing to fear from comparison with other parts of the State as regards men and means contributed to the support of the Government during its struggle to suppress the Great Rebellion. We have no means at hand of determining the number of men who enlisted from this County, nor have we the space to follow the regiments in their several campaigns during that memorable four years of blood and carnage. A simple reference to the part taken is all that can be given in a work like this. Though the deeds of the brave "boys in blue" may never all be written, their memory will ever be fresh in the hearts of every patriot. The avenger of Jackson, the murderer of the gallant Ellsworth, was a Trojan.

GAZETTEER OF TOWNS.

BERLIN was formed from Petersburg, Schodack and Stephentown, March 21, 1806. A part of Sand Lake was taken off in 1812. It lies near the center of the east border of the County. The surface consists chiefly of two ranges of mountains, separated by a narrow valley extending north and south. The hilly region is very wild and broken, and the declivities are generally steep and often precipitous. The principal streams are Kinderhook Creek, flowing south, and Little Hoosick River, flowing north. The head waters of these two streams are but a few rods apart, near South Berlin. In the west part of the town are several fine lakes surrounded by the forests. The soil in the valley is a gravelly loam, but among the mountains it is a hard sterile clay, intermixed or covered with fragments of rock.

Berlin, (p. v.) situated on Little Hoosick River, contains about 300 inhabitants.

South Berlin, (p. v.) in the south part, and Center Berlin, (p. v.) near the center of the town, are both located in the valley of Little Hoosick.

Godfrey Brimmer located near North Berlin in 1765. Among the early settlers were Reuben Bonesteel and a family named Richer, who came in soon after Mr. Brimmer. In 1769 Peter Simmons and Jacob O. Cropsey lived at the Hollow, and in the same year Daniel Hull and Joseph Green came into town. Col. Bentley settled near North Berlin, and Thomas Sweet, a blacksmith, at South Berlin.

Daniel Hull kept the first tavern previous to the Revolution, and Hezekiah Hull opened an inn soon after the war. Caleb Bently erected the first grist mill, in 1780. Dr. John Forbes, the first physician, located at South Berlin in 1775.

Soon after the Battle of Lexington, two companies were formed in this and adjoining towns, a part of whom were stationed at D. Hull's for local protection; the others were engaged in active service.

James Green, a son of Joseph Green, one of the early settlers, died in 1857 at the age of one hundred years.

The first church (Seventh Day Bap.) was formed at North Berlin in Dec. 1780. Rev. William Coon was the first preacher.

During the winter of 1845 Berlin was the scene of a most cold blooded and cruel murder. The murderer was Henry G. Green, and his victim was the lady whom he married about one week previous. From his confession, made just before his execution, and the testimony elicited upon the trial, we gather all the facts necessary for our present purpose. It appeared from the testimony that Green made the acquaintance of Miss Mary Ann Wyatt, a beautiful and accomplished lady of Lowell, Mass. She was engaged as an actress in the play of the Drunkard, and was traveling in company with her brother when Green made her acquaintance. After a short acquaintance he offered his hand in marriage and was accepted. The nuptials were celebrated and they entered upon life with bright prospects, amid the congratulations of many friends of wealth and high social position. A few days after their marriage a party was formed for a pleasure ride to Hoosick. Here Green met a lady of his acquaintance who playfully told him she had expected to marry him. Though there was nothing in the appearance or conduct of his bride to make him regret the step he had taken, he seems to have been possessed with a strange and uncontrollable passion for this young lady, and very soon began to plan for the removal of the object that intervened to prevent the consummation of his wishes. Green at first procured opium, which he gave his wife, but this was vomited up before it effected the desired object. He next procured arsenic and continued to repeat the dose in various ways, in coffee and in soup, while she was suffering from previous doses under the care of a nurse. There was no complaint that his victim was not all he had expected, but she must be removed to allow of the union with the young lady before mentioned. He declared in his confession that he had no fears of detection, and the first feelings of pain or regret for the deed were when he saw the suffering of his wife. He had shown his affection for her by purchasing a cloak, dress and other articles after their marriage, and there was no change in her conduct towards him until she became suspicious that he was the cause of her sickness. He suffered the extreme penalty of the law, on the tenth of September 1845, and was buried in the cemetery at Berlin, beside his victim. Her remains were afterwards removed by her friends to another part of the grounds, and a neat monument erected as a tribute of respect by her brother. The sentence of death was pronounced upon Green by Judge Parker, who asked him if he had anything to say why judgment should not be pronounced against him. Green replied "not guilty." The Judge then said: "That is adding nothing to what has already been said; that plea has been put in by your counsel and the issue has been tried with every advantage to you. You have had the aid of rich and powerful friends, friends of high respectability and character, who have secured for you every opportunity of presenting your whole case to the jury fully and fairly. Notwithstanding this, an intelligent jury have found you guilty, and no person who has heard the trial does not concur in the justice of the verdict. You stand condemned as guilty of having murdered your wife. Your case in all respects exceeds in enormity any of which I have ever heard. It will no doubt stand out on the page of History as the most criminally awful case of murder that ever came before Court or jury. You murdered her deliberately, you murdered the woman you had sworn but one short week, I may say, four days before, to cherish through life; the woman whose destiny had been placed in your keeping, in less than one week after marriage you deliberately poisoned. You pursued your design day and night, repeating the deadly potation from time to time until she expired, and then added to the crime of murder the black crime of perjury, for you violated the most solemn vow you made at the altar. Was it ever known that so interesting and holy a relation as that of man and wife has ever been followed so soon by results so shocking and painful to all the feelings of nature. Now the law pronounces your sentence, you are to be executed, cut off in the prime of life, or rather just as you are entering on life where you had rich and powerful relations and friends to aid you, when you might have been respected, but from which you are to be cut off and consigned to an early grave. And those friends who have stood by you will not share the disgrace that awaits you. You have had the advantage of every doubt that has arisen on the trial, and you must not flatter yourself with hopes that cannot be realized, but prepare for the awful death that awaits you and make preparation for your final account. It is the judgment of the law, that on Wednesday, the 10th day of September next, between the hours of 8 o'clock in the morning and 5 o'clock in the afternoon, you be taken to the place of execution and there be hanged by the neck until you be dead."

The population of Berlin in 1865 was 2,149, and its area 34,135 acres.

BRUNSWICK was formed from Troy, March 20, 1807. A part of the town was reannexed to Troy, April 15, 1814. It lies a little north-west of the center of the County, upon the hilly region west of the summits of the Petersburgh Mountains. The most elevated portions of the town rise to the height of 800 to 1,000 feet in the extreme east and north-west parts. The principal streams are Poesten Kil, its tributary, Quacken Kil, and Tomhannock Creek. The soil upon the summits of the hills is hard and sterile, but in the valleys and low lands it consists chiefly of a gravelly loam, intermixed with clay. The people are engaged extensively in furnishing milk, vegetables and hay for the Troy market.

Center Brunswick (p. v.) is situated a little north of the center.

Cropseyville, (p. v.)

East Brunswick, in the east part, and

Eagle Mills, (p. v.) in the south part, are all small villages containing a limited amount of manufacturing.

The first settlement was made in town about 1760, by a company of Germans, among whom were David Coons, and families named Hardwick, Braunschweiger, Springer, Borek, Hayner, Outhout, Van Arnam, Hogg, Fisher, Benn, Watson, Fret, Quackenboss, Muller, Goeway and Clum.

The first inn was kept by a man named File, near the Lutheran Church, in 1790. The first store was kept by Henry Clum, at Cropseyville. The first factory was erected at Albia, now a part of Troy. The first mill was built by — Cross, in 1772, with no tools but an ax, saw and auger.

This town suffered greatly on the approach of Burgoyne in 1777, and after his surrender at Saratoga, many families of Royalists withdrew to Canada, and but few returned.

The population of Brunswick in 1865 was 3,175, and its area 27,971 acres.

The number of school districts in the town is fifteen, employing the same number of teachers. The number of children of school age is 1,092; the number attending school is 750; the average attendance 343, and the amount expended for school purposes for the year ending September 30, 1869, was $5,378.35.

EAST GREENBUSH was formed from Greenbush, as Clinton, February 23, 1855, and its name was changed April 14, 1858. It lies upon the bank of the Hudson, south-west of the center of the County. The bluffs which border upon the river, rise from the edge of the water to the height of 100 to 300 feet. The principal of these bluffs is opposite the city of Albany and is called Pon-o-kose Hill, an Indian name.

From the summits of these bluffs the surface spreads out into a rolling upland, rising towards the east. The principal streams are Tierken Kil, which signifies "Blustering or Noisy Creek," in the central, and Moordeners Creek, in the south-west part of the town. The soil consists of sand, gravel and clay, and is very fertile. There are several sulphur springs in town, the principal of which is opposite Albany and is known as "Harrowgate." A large island called Papskane lies in the river and belongs to this town. The name of this island is variously spelled as, Papskenekoes and Papakenea.

East Greenbush, (p. o.) in the south part, contains about a dozen dwellings.

The settlement of this town commenced at a very early day, probably as early as 1630. Among the early settlers were families named Van Buren, Van Hegen, Staats, Bris, Vanderburgh, Whitbeck, Cuyler and Van Wesipe. A ferry was established at a very early day across the Hudson, from Albany to Greenbush.

During the War of 1812 extensive barracks were erected on the hills east of Greenbush village; and for several years the place was the center of active military preparation and the rendezvous of large bodies of troops. The cantonments contained accommodations for 4,000 troops. There were hospital accommodations for 100. The present residence of Mr. M. Kirtland was used for officers quarters, and the road is called "Barracks Road." This place was chosen on account of the supposed healthfulness of its elevated position, but during the first year of its occupation much sickness occurred on account of the unavoidable exposures of the camp. Several military executions took place there during the War; most, if not all, of which were for desertion.

Edmund C. Genet, Minister of the French Republic to the United States, was long a resident of this town, and died here July 14, 1834.

The following description is from Dwight's 'Travels in 1798:

"After crossing the ferry at Albany, we rode over a charming interval at Greenbush, handsomer and more fertile than any other which I have seen on this road. It extends several miles towards the south and is divided into beautiful farms and planted in a thin dispersion, with houses and outbuildings whose appearance sufficiently indicates the easy circumstances of their proprietors. From the excellent gardens which I have at times seen in this spot and the congeniality of soil to every hortulan production of this climate, I should naturally have believed that the inhabitants together with the neighbors would have supplied the people of Albany with vegetables. Instead of this they are principally furnished by the Shakers of New Lebanon, a strong proof of the extreme reluctance with which the Dutch farmers quit their ancient customs even when allured by the prospects of superior gain."

"There is a small village in Schodack, containing about thirty houses, and another at Stephentown of perhaps twenty, standing on the borders of Kinderhook Creek. The rest of this region is divided into farms, moderately fertile and cultivated by tenants."

The population of the town in 1865 was 1,663, and its area 14,228.

The number of school districts in the town is six, employing the same number of teachers. The number of children of school age 438; the number attending school 266; the average attendance 108, and the amount expended for school purposes during the year ending Sept. 30, 1869, was $2,396.94.

GRAFTON was formed from Troy and Petersburg, March 20, 1807. It lies north of the center of the County, upon the summits of the Petersburg Mountains. The surface is very rocky and broken, and a large portion of it is still covered with forests. The summits of the hills are from 800 to 1200 feet above tide, and many of them are covered by huge, jagged masses of graywacke. Among the hills are twenty-five ponds, several of which cover several hundred acres each and are surrounded by a wild and romantic scenery, the favorite resort of sportsmen. The Quacken Kil is the principal stream. The soil is chiefly clay, underlaid by hardpan, and is wet, cold and hard of cultivation. Mineral paint has been made to some extent from the red argillite at Quackenkil. Large quantities of wood, tan-bark and charcoal, are sent from this town to Troy. Sheep and cattle are raised extensively. Shirts are manufactured quite extensively in various parts of the town. It is estimated that 18,000 dozen were made in the town during the last year.

Grafton Center, (Grafton p. o.,) situated in the center of the town, contains a Baptist church, two stores, a cheese factory, a blacksmith shop, a boot and shoe shop, a saw mill, a stave machine and about twenty dwellings.

Quackenkil, (p. o.) on the west border of the town, is a hamlet.

The first settlement was made by tenants under Van Rensselaer. They paid an annual rent of from seven to twenty-two bushels of wheat per hundred acres. Among the first settlers were families named Coon, Dimmons and Owens. Francis West and family, from Rhode Island, settled at an early day where Nathan Lewis now lives. John Babcock, from the same State, settled about the close of the Revolution, where J. D. Slade now lives; he was married to Delma Wager in January 1792. Elkanah Smith, from New Jersey, settled where Aaron Eldred now lives: he was a soldier of the Revolution. Joshua Banker settled about the same time where Henry Banker lives. William Scriven and family, consisting of seven sons and two daughters, came from Rhode Island and settled in this town about 1779. Three of the sons, James, Zebulon and John, were Revolutionary soldiers. A man named Owens, from Rhode Island, with two sons, settled on 200 acres of land, where Stewart Allen now lives. The land was a gift from Stephen Van Rensselaer. Owens was a Revolutionary soldier and received bounty land in the town of Manlius. John and Thomas Phillips settled where Truman Keller lives; Francis Brock, from Vermont, where Silas Brock now lives, and John and David Mills, where Reuben Hall now lives. John Monroe settled in the north part of the town; a man named Dimmons, where Jabez Hakes lives; Solomon Smith, where Josiah Church lives; Rufus Rix, near the same place, and Captain Charles Ferry, where D. L. Simmons lives. In 1797 Daniel Littlefield, from Mass., settled where Hiram Littlefield lives. Solomon Root, from Connecticut, settled in the town in 1785; Nathaniel Dumbleton, in 1796, on the farm now occupied by Oscar C. Dumbleton. He came from Grafton, Vt., and was the first supervisor of the town. John P. Hayner settled where Samuel Newton lives.

The first store was kept by Josiah Litchfield, at Quackenkil; the first tavern, at East Grafton, by Thomas Scriven; the first one in the west part of the town by Elijah Ferry. Another authority says S. McChesney kept the first store and inn, in 1800.

Among the other early settlers in the town were Henry Hydon, William Snyder, Henry Coonradt, B. Haynor, James Reid, Godfrey Howard, Andrus Miller, John Hydon, Lodowick Bonesteel and Marcus Simmons. Hannah Scrivens, now living and aged 87 years, was one of the early settlers of the town. Josiah Littlefield built the first saw mill, at Quackenkil, in 1800. Abel Ford, from Mass., settled in 1775, where J. West lives; he was a Revolutionary soldier. Alpheus Ford, his son, born in 1793, is said to be the oldest person in the town born there. About 1802 the Patroon built a grist mill near the center, Abel Ford doing the carpenter work.

The first town meeting was held at the house of Nathan Hakes, the first Tuesday in April 1807, at which Nathaniel Dumbleton was chosen Supervisor; D. S. Crandall, Town Clerk; Zebulon Scrivener and Thomas West, Justices of the Peace. In the Town Records we find the following:

“State of New York, Rensselaer Co.

“I hereby certify that Ethan Maxon, son of Samuel Maxon, and Dorcas Willis, widow of Jason Willis, deceased, both of Grafton, were lawfully joined together in the honorable state of marriage, in said Grafton on the 12th day of April 1807.

Recorded May 9, 1807.

D. C. Crandall, Town Clerk.

ELISHA WELLS, Justice of the Peace.”

Among the early records of births, we find that of Rufus Gallop, Jan. 6, 1757; Rebecca Lamphire, Jan. 4, 1764. They were married in 1780. The births of their ten children are also recorded in order, the last Sept. 24, 1802.

At the time of the settlement of this town, and many years afterwards, farmers were accustomed to mark their cattle and sheep in the ear, and have their mark recorded in the Town Clerk's office. The following will give the younger portion of our readers a good idea of the manner of doing it: William West's ear mark was a “notch in the hind side of the right ear.” Asa Sweet's was “a swallow tail in the end of the left ear and a half-penny in the hind side of the same.”

The eccentric Lorenzo Dow was the first Methodist preacher in this town; and Nathaniel Lewis (Baptist,) was the first settled minister.

The Baptist Church at Grafton Center was organized in 1807 with about twelve members. A new church edifice was erected in 1852 and is now undergoing repairs. The present membership is 117. H. J. S. Lewis is the present pastor.

The Free Methodist Church was organized by A. B. Burdick with five members, viz., Stephen and Lucinda Rivenburgh, Henry Simmons, Jeremiah Martin and Marinda Hayner. The present membership is twenty. The society occupy the Union church. A. B. Burdick is the present pastor.

The population of the town in 1865 was 1,673, and its area 27,269 acres.

GREENBUSH, called by the Dutch Greene Bosch, from the pine woods which originally covered the flats, and by the Indians "Pe-tu-qua-poem" and "Tus-cum-ca-tick," was formed from Rensselaerwyck, April 10, 1792. Another act of incorporation is dated March 17, 1795. A part of Sand Lake was set off in 1812, and Clinton (now East Greenbush,) and North Greenbush in 1855, leaving in the present town only the corporate limits of the village as defined by the act of April 9, 1852. The surface consists of the flat intervalle on the river and a portion of the adjacent hillsides. The soil is clay, mixed with sand and alluvial deposits.

Greenbush (p. v.) was incorporated April 14, 1815. The upper part of the village is locally known as East Albany, and contains the depots, freight houses and machine shops of the railroads terminating there. It is a place of considerable business.

The first settlement was made previous to 1631. In that year Gerrit Teunissen de Reue is mentioned as occupying a well stocked farm. Cornelius Maessen Van Buren, an early settler on the river below, died in 1648. Evert Pels Van Steltyn lived on Mill Creek at an early day. On Bleeker's map of Rensselaerwyck, made in 1767, we find the names of John Witbeck, Peter Douw and Henry Cuyler, located about where the village of Greenbush now is.

A ferry was established at the mouth of Beaver Creek in 1642 and was first kept by Hendrick Albertson.

The country around Beverwyck was thrown into alarm by the news of the Indian massacre at Esopus in June 1663; the settlers took refuge in Fort Cralo, on the Patroon's farm, and a night watch was established. The following names of those constituting this watch have been preserved, viz.: Cornelius Van Ness, chief officer; Cornelius Stephenson Mullen, Adam Dingermans, Gerret Van Ness, Jan Juriaessen, Jan Van Ness, Jacobus Jansen, Tyman Hendricksen, Wm. Bout, Jan Outhout, Hendrick Van Ness, Hendrick Maessen, Gerrit Teunisson, Hans Jacobson, Hendrick Williamson and Claes Claessen.

The village plat was purchased and laid out in 1806, and for several years thereafter the growth was quite rapid. During the War of 1812 it contained from fifty to seventy dwellings.

The population of the town in 1864 was 4,779 and its area — acres.

The number of school districts is two, employing four teachers. The number of children of school age is 1,938; the number attending school, 908; the average attendance, 412; and the amount expended for school purposes for the year ending Sept. 30, 1869, was $14,080.59.

HOOSICK was formed as a district, March 24, 1772, and as a town, March 1, 1778. It lies in the north-east corner of the County. The surface consists of the narrow valley of Hoosick River and the wild rocky regions of the Taghkanick and Petersburgh Mountains, rising respectively on the east and west. Fondas Hill, in the south-east, and Potter's Hill, in the south-west, each about 900 feet above tide, are the two highest peaks. The valleys are very narrow and are bordered by steep hillsides. A belt of dark slate, which is quarried for roofing, extends along the east bank of the river. The rocks upon the east side of the river consist of a slaty shale and limestone, the latter furnishing lime. The principal streams are Hoosick and Walloomsac Rivers, Punch Kil, White Creek and Shaw Brook. The soil among the mountains is hard and sterile, and in the valleys it is principally clay, mixed with disintegrated slate. In the south-east corner are several springs from which issues nitrogen gas. The gas appears to come up from the gravel beds and is not combined with the water. By pressing upon a surface a few inches square a large amount of the gas can be collected in a short time. Flax is extensively cultivated and considerable attention is also paid to manufactures.

Hoosick Falls, (p. v.) situated on the Troy & Boston R. R., was incorporated in 1827. It is 27 miles from Troy and contains five churches, viz., Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, Episcopal and Roman Catholic; a manufactory of mowing and reaping machines, shearing machines, a union school and about 3,500 inhabitants.

The Union School occupies the building formerly occupied by Ball Seminary, which has been enlarged to about twice its former size. It contains an academic department and, by special act of the Legislature, is made free to all pupils of school age in the district. James K. Hull is the principal, assisted by six associates.

The Walter A. Wood Mowing and Reaping Machine Manufactory, located in this village, is worthy of more than a passing notice, being the largest of the kind in the world. Mr. Walter A. Wood, the founder of these extensive works, was born in Mason, N. H., Oct. 23, 1815, came to Hoosick Falls in 1836, and worked at blacksmithing for Seth Parsons, who was engaged in manufacturing. He married a daughter of his employer, a sister of Z. Russell and David B. Parsons, who are now interested in the manufacture of these machines. A few years later Mr. Wood engaged in the manufacture of the Manny Reaper and Mower, to which he added some improvements of his own.

During all this time he was at work perfecting his ideal of a machine superior to any other in use. In 1853 his labor was crowned with success, and a patent was granted for his invention. In 1854 he commenced, in a small way, the manufacture of his machines, continuing to increase his works as the demand for the machines increased, until 1866, when a stock company was formed with W. A. Wood, President; J. Russell Parsons, Vice President; Willard Gay, Treasurer; A. C. Gear, Secretary. The demand for the machines increased to such an extent that in 1867 the Company were compelled to enlarge their buildings and did so, giving the working floors of the manufactory an area of over 250,000 feet, or upwards of six acres. The number of men employed is 775, aided by the best machinery in every department. The daily consumption of raw material in this manufactory is twenty tons of cast iron, ten tons of wrought iron, two and a half tons of malleable iron, three-fourths of a ton of steel, and fifteen thousand feet of lumber. The works are capable of turning out over one hundred machines a day. The sales during the year 1869 amounted to 23,000, and the whole number made at this establishment, and now in use, will not fall short of 150,000. The sale of this machine is not confined to the United States, but Canada, England, France, Russia, Germany, Spain and other countries, show their appreciation of its merits by lending their patronage, the demand for these countries being nearly as great as in the United States. The machine received the award of the first prize of the Royal Agricultural Society of England in 1861 and 1865, the only prizes offered by that Society since this machine has been before the public. The medal of honor of the great International Exhibition at London in 1862, and the first prize at the great National Exhibition of Russia, and field trials in Moscow in 1864, were awarded to this machine. The number of awards at State and County Fairs are too numerous to mention.

The visitor to Hoosick Falls should not fail to visit the rare and beautiful collection of minerals belonging to L. Wilder, Esq., of this village. Mr. Wilder is a great lover of Nature, and has at great expense and labor collected a cabinet of minerals, which is seldom equaled. It embraces some of the finest specimens of stalactites, agates and other minerals, to be found in the country. The taste displayed in the arrangement calls forth the admiration of all visitors.

Eagle Bridge, (p. v.) situated at the junction of the Troy & Boston and the Rutland & Washington Railroads, contains one store, two hotels, a school house, a saw mill, a grist mill, a planing and flax mill, a rope and cordage factory and about 150 inhabitants.

Buskirk's Bridge, (p. v.) on the Hoosick River, is a station on the Troy & Boston R. R. and contains three churches, viz., Methodist, Reformed and Universalist; three stores, a school-house, two flax mills, a saw mill, a cider mill, a carriage factory and about 200 inhabitants.

Hoosick (p. v.) is a station on the Troy & Boston R. R. and contains two churches, viz., Episcopal and Baptist; two stores, two hotels, two blacksmith and wagon shops and about 400 inhabitants.

North Hoosick (p. v.) is a station on the Troy & Bennington R. R. and contains a Methodist church, a paper mill, a woolen factory, three stores, a hotel, a flouring mill, a saw mill, a wagon shop, a blacksmith shop and about 400 inhabitants.

Walloomscac is a station on the Troy & Bennington R. R. and contains two stores, a paper mill and about 140 inhabitants. The village was named from the Walloomscac River, and that received its name from a German named Wallam, who took up a large tract of land in this vicinity. The name is variously spelled on the early maps and in public documents, viz., Wal-lomsock, Wallamsock, Wallomschock, Walmscock, Walloomshoick, Wallamsac and Walmsook.

West Hoosick (p. o.) and Potter Hill (p. o.) are hamlets.

This town included part of the Hoosick Patent, granted June 3, 1688, to Maria Van Rensselaer, Hendrick Van Ness, Jacobus Van Cortlandt and Gerrit Finnise. The Patent extended from the Schaghticoke Tract, a distance of two miles each side of the river, up to a "certain fall called Quequick, and from said falls, up the creek to a place called Nach-a-quick-quack." It included also a part of the Walloomscac Patent, granted June 15, 1739. This Patent contained 12,000 acres, on both sides of the Walloomscac River and lying partly in Washington Co. and partly in Vermont. It was granted to Edward Collins, James DeLancy, Gerardus Stuyvesant, Stephen Van Rensselaer, Charles Williams and Frederick Morris. The first settlements were made upon the Hoosick Patent by several Dutch families. Among them were Adam Vrooman, an Indian trader, Henry Van Ness, Abraham Fort, Lewis and Peter Viele, John Van Buskirk, Walter Van Vechten, George B. Nichols, Jacob Odekirk, Daniel Bradt and Reykert Borie. A Dutch church was founded and known as the "Tyoshoke Church," at San Coick, near the north border of the town. This settlement was entirely broken up by a party of French and Indians on the 28th of August 1754. Two persons were killed and the houses, barns and crops destroyed. The next day the settlement at San Coick, south of Hoosick, was also destroyed. The invaders were supposed to be Schaghticoke Indians who, a short time before, had abandoned their settlements and gone to Canada. The loss of the two settlements was estimated at 4,000 pounds.

The conflict called the Battle of Bennington was fought in this town. It was a part of the operations of Burgoyne's invasion from Canada in the summer and fall of 1777. His stores and provisions had become so much reduced that he found it necessary to replenish them. Being informed that the Americans had a large supply of these, and of cattle and horses, at Bennington and in the vicinity, he resolved to send a detachment of his army thither to capture them. In accordance with this resolution he dispatched Lieutenant Col. Baume thither with five hundred Hessians, Canadians and Tories, and one hundred Indians. Burgoyne's instructions to the commander of the expedition were dated August 9, 1777, and declared the objects to be, to try the affections of the people, to disconcert the councils of the enemy, to mount Riedesel's dragoons, to complete Peters's corps and to obtain large supplies of horses, cattle and carriages. He ordered that all officers, civil and military, acting under the authority of Congress, should be made prisoners. Baume was further instructed to tax the towns where they halted, with such articles as they wanted, and bring all horses fit to mount the dragoons or to serve as battalion horses for the troops, with as many saddles and bridles as they could find. Burgoyne fixed the number of horses to be procured at thirteen hundred at least, and more if they could be obtained. He directed that they should be "tied in strings of ten each, in order that one man might lead ten horses." Comparing this with the result we see the uncertainty of all human calculations. Baume left his encampment at Fort Edward on the 13th of August, and the next day arrived at Sancoik's, now North Hoosick. Here he wrote the following letter to his commander:

"Sancoik, 14th August, 1777, 9 o'clock.

"Sir—I have the honor to inform your excellency that I arrived here at eight in the morning, having had intelligence of a party of the enemy being in possession of a mill, which they abandoned at our approach, but, in their usual way, fired from the bushes and took their road to Bennington. A savage was slightly wounded; they broke down the bridge, which has retarded our march above an hour; they left in the mill about seventy-eight barrels of very fine flour, one thousand bushels of wheat, twenty barrels of salt and about £1,000 worth of pearlsh and potash. I have ordered thirty provincials and an officer to guard the provisions and the pass of the bridge. By five prisoners taken here, they agree that from fifteen to eighteen hundred are at Bennington, but are supposed to leave it on our approach. I will proceed so far to-day as to fall on the enemy early to-morrow, and make such disposition as I may think necessary, from the intelligence I may receive. People are flocking in hourly, but want to be armed. The savages cannot be controlled, they ruin and take everything they please.

“I am your excellency’s most humble servant,
F. BAUME.”

Such was the situation on the 14th as viewed from the British stand-point. The Indians and Tories had on the previous day made an attack upon a small party of Americans who were guarding some cattle. It was here that the five prisoners mentioned in Baume’s letter were taken.

Let us now look at the field of operations from the American stand-point. On the 9th of August, the day of the date of Burgoyne’s instructions to Baume, General Stark arrived at Bennington with a portion of the New Hampshire militia. Here he encamped, sent out scouts to obtain information as to the movements of the enemy, and collected as many of the militia from the surrounding country as possible. Having learned that a small body of Indians were at Cambridge, he sent out Lieutenant Colonel Gregg, Aug. 13, with two hundred men to oppose their march. Towards night he received information that a large body of the enemy with a train of artillery was in the rear of the Indians and in full march for Bennington. Rallying all the force at his command and sending an order to the commander of Col. Warner’s regiment, at Manchester, to march immediately to Bennington, General Stark moved with his whole force on the 14th to the support of Col. Gregg. He was accompanied by Cols. Warner, Williams and Brush, though the regiment of Col. Warner remained at Bennington, having arrived on the previous night in the rain. After marching about five miles they met Col. Gregg retreating and the enemy within a mile of him. Stark immediately disposed his army for battle, and Baume, hesitating to attack the increased force, took a position upon the high ground near a bend in the Walloomsac, and began to intrench. Perceiving this, Stark fell back about a mile to await re-enforcements, while Baume sent an express to Burgoyne for aid. The next day was rainy and both parties were engaged in preparing for battle. The Hessians and a corps of rangers were strongly intrenched upon the high ground north of the Walloomsac, and a party of rangers and German grenadiers were posted at a ford near what is known as the Bar-net place, at the second railroad bridge as you pass from North

Bennington to Hoosick. Some Canadians and Peters's corps of Tories were posted on the south side of the river, near the ford. At the foot of a declivity, near the mouth of a creek, on the east, some chasseurs were posted, and about a mile distant from the main intrenchments on the high, on the south side of the stream, Peters's American volunteers or Tories threw up a breast work. Tradition says that this was commanded by Col. Pfister, a retired British officer of the French War, who resided on what is now known as the Tibbitt's place, about half a mile west of Hoosick Four Corners. On the same side, upon the Bennington road, Stark and his army were encamped. Notwithstanding the rain of the 15th, there was some skirmishing. During the night, Col. Symonds arrived with a body of Berkshire militia. Among them was a minister named Allen, from Pittsfield, Mass., who was eager for a fight. Before daylight, and while it was yet raining, he called on Gen. Stark and informed him that the Berkshire people had come to fight, and if they did not have a chance they would never turn out again. The General replied: "If the Lord shall once more give us sunshine, and I do not give you fighting enough, I'll never ask you to come out again." Sunshine came and with it fighting enough even for the "fighting parson." The battle commenced at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. "It lasted two hours and was the hottest I ever saw. It was like one continued clap of thunder," says the commander in his official report. The enemy were driven from the field, abandoning their baggage to the Americans. While they were dispersed, appropriating the plunder, Col. Breyman arrived with re-enforcements for Baume. They had approached within two miles before Stark was apprised of the fact. The rain had impeded their progress so that they were not in time to take part in the battle, but meeting the retreating forces of Baume, they rallied and turned their course again to their abandoned intrenchments. The forces of Stark were too much scattered to offer a successful resistance, and for a short time the fortunes of the day were in suspense. At this critical moment Colonel Warner's regiment arrived from Bennington, fresh and well armed, and pushed forward to the conflict. The battle was continued until sunset, the enemy being driven from the field. Seven hundred of the enemy were made prisoners, among whom was the commander, who died soon after, of a wound received in the conflict. Two hundred and seven of the enemy were killed. The Americans took four pieces of brass cannon, 250 dragoon swords, several hundred stands of arms, eight brass drums and four ammunition wagons. The American loss was about one hundred killed and as many wounded. General Stark had a horse killed under him but was not himself injured. The total loss of the enemy in killed, wounded and prisoners was 934, including 157 Tories. This was an important victory and did much to encourage the Americans and hasten the final surrender of Burgoyne. It was at the commencement of this battle that Gen. Stark made the laconic speech which tradition has preserved: "See there men! there are the red-coats. Before night they are ours, or Molly Stark will be a widow!" The grist mill at North Hoosick was owned by a man named Van Schaick, who joined the forces of Stark at Bennington. It is now owned by John G. Burke and is probably the oldest building in the town. As this mill was in possession of the British for a few days preceding the Battle of Bennington it is quite probable that they ground some part of the one thousand bushels of wheat which Col. Baume has informed us he found there.

The house now owned and occupied by Simeon S. Percey was built in 1794 by David Matthews. It is situated on the east line of the town, one-half being in the State of New York and the other in Vermont. It is a brick structure, very substantially built, and was at the time of its erection probably one of the finest residences in this part of the country. Time had made but little impression upon it and it appears as firm as when built. Among the incidents of the battle, it is related that William Gilmore, a volunteer upon the American side, left his oxen in the yoke and took up arms to repel the invaders. He was engaged with others in taking up the plank upon a bridge across the stream, to prevent the British from crossing, and was the last to leave, when the enemy were so close as to fire upon him.

Sheriff Schuyler, of Albany Co., reported, on the 17th of August, 1764, that an express arrived from "Hoseck" informing him that the "New Hampshire people had turned Hans Jerry Creiger, an inhabitant under the proprietors of Hoseck Patent, out of possession of his lands and tenements, drove off his cattle and took with them a parcel of Indian corn, and for the redemption of the cattle compelled him to pay forty-five dollars; and the said express further informed that the said New Hampshire people were the next day to be at the houses of Peter Voss and Bastiane Deale in order in like manner to dispossess them of their possessions which they had peaceably enjoyed under the proprietors of said Hoseck Patent for upwards of three years, except only when driven off by the enemy Indians during the two last wars." In consequence of this information, the Sheriff proceeded to Hoosick, taking with him "two justices and a few other good people of this province." He arrived on Saturday and was told that the New Hampshire people would not come until Monday. Having received notice that they were at the house of Voss and Deale, he proceeded thither immediately; but before he arrived they had accomplished their design and departed. The Sheriff followed and overtook them, arresting Samuel Ashley, who called himself a Deputy Sheriff, Samuel Robinson, a Justice of the Peace, John Horsfoot and Isaac Charles, and lodged them in jail at Albany. In 1772 it was reported that the rioters had brought to Bennington two pieces of cannon and a mortar from the small fort at East Hoosick, together with powder and ball. The difficulties between New York and the New Hampshire Grants continued until the close of the Revolution, when Vermont became an independent State.

Among the early residents of the town after the close of the Revolution, was Mr. John Haynes, the father of Edmund Haynes. He came to this town in 1787. There were only four or five buildings where the village of Hoosick Falls now stands. These buildings were the grist mill, the dwelling house now occupied by Col. Dorr, a house where now stands David Gray's store, the mill-house and a log house occupied by Hank Barnhart. Mr. Haynes Foster settled a little west of the village and took a lease of 160 acres of the Bradt title. Seneca Dorr was born in the town June 10, 1788, and is the oldest resident of the town who was born there. Mrs. Delia Van Hoosen is one of the oldest residents now living in the town who was born there. She was born in the south-east part of the town in 1789, and still lives near the place of her birth. Dr. Salmon Moses, still a practicing physician in the town, was born in Norfolk, Connecticut, in December 1792. He moved to this town in 1818, when the village was only a hamlet containing two stores.

The population of the town in 1865 was 4,783, and its area 38,906 acres.

LANSINGBURGH, named in honor of Abraham Jacob Lansing, one of the early settlers and the founder of the village, was formed from Troy and Petersburgh, March 20, 1807. A part of Schaghticoke was annexed in 1819. A part of Troy was taken off in 1836, and a part of Brunswick in 1839. It embraces a narrow strip of land extending along the Hudson. In the south part the river flat is about one-fourth of a mile wide, but in the north the bluffs rise directly from the river. In the north-east is a high rocky hill, from 400 to 500 feet above the river. The high bluff east of the village is called Diamond Rock. The streams are Deepi Kil and Koola Kil. The soil is a gravelly and clayey loam. Considerable manufacturing is carried on at the village. A lock at Troy admits the passage of sloops up to this place.

Lansingburgh, (p. v.) formerly called New City, contains eight churches, viz: Baptist, Episcopal, two Presbyterian, Methodist Episcopal, Free Methodist, Zion Methodist and Roman Catholic: a female seminary, two newspaper printing offices, two banks, several large manufactories of brushes, oil cloths, bricks, rope and cordage, and about 4000 inhabitants. The brush factory of John Ames gives employment to 80 men and about 200 boys and girls, making about $500,000 worth annually.

Speigletown, in the north-east part, contains a Methodist church, a school house, a hotel, a blacksmith shop, a wagon shop, and about a dozen dwellings.

Lansingburgh is connected with Waterford by a covered bridge across the Hudson River, and with Troy by horse railroad and the Troy and Boston R. R.

The village was founded by Abraham Jacob Lansing, about the year 1770. It was first organized under the name of Stone Arabia, in 1771. At the first town meeting, held Jan. 1, 1771, it was voted that A. J. Lansing and his heirs forever should be a committee of the village, with a power equal to each of the four chosen by the people. In May, 1775, fifty of the citizens, at the head of whom was A. J. Lansing, signed articles of association, pledging themselves to sustain the measures recommended by the Continental or Provincial Congress. The first act of incorporation under the State Government was passed April 5, 1790, at which time the village was included in the town of Rensselaerwyck. By this act, John Van Rensselaer, Charles Tillman, Elijah James, Aaron Ward, Stephen Goreham, Ezra Hickock and Levinus Lansing were appointed Trustees to take charge of the waste lands of the village, and to perform certain municipal duties, their successors to be chosen annually. In 1791, this was included in the town of Troy. The place rapidly increased in population and became an important trading and commercial village.

In 1795, a traveler through this region says there are two new towns, five or six miles from Albany, which share in the trade. The greater distance from New York and the less depth of water are unfavorable. Ships of sixty tons take only half their cargo at these points, the remainder being received from lighters in the vicinity of Albany. The freight to Albany is two pence per barrel. The same writer says: "New City contains sixty or seventy stores or shops, and Troy fifty or sixty.—These new settled merchants all prosper, and their number is daily increasing. The merchants of Albany, it is reported, view this growing prosperity of their neighbors with an evil eye, and consider it an encroachment upon their native rights."

In 1790, Ananias Platt, an inn-keeper of Lansingburgh, obtained from the Legislature a grant to the exclusive right to run a stage between Lansingburgh and Albany. In 1794, it made two trips a day each way, in 1795 six trips, and in 1796 he run a stage to Schenectady four times a day. The same year, a Lansingburgh newspaper says, twenty stages pass and re-pass daily between Lansingburgh, Troy, Waterford and Albany, carrying more than 150 passengers.

George and Benjamin Tibbits removed from Warwick, R. I., to Lansingburgh, soon after the close of the Revolutionary war. They opened a store and continued in the mercantile business at this place until 1797, when they removed to Troy.

The Lansingburgh Academy was chartered Feb. 8, 1796. By an act passed Feb. 20, 1816, the Trustees of the Academy were authorized to subscribe one thousand shares to the Bank of Lansingburgh.

A. Reed, from New Windsor, Conn., commenced a school here in 1793, in a gambrel roofed building used as the first meeting house. Rev. Dr. Lee taught the languages at the same time.

The first church was organized in 1784 as a Reformed Prot. Dutch, and re-organized in 1792 as a Presbyterian church.—Rev. Jonas Coe officiated as pastor of this Church for several years, alternating between this village and Troy.

Trinity Church (Episcopal) was organized in the early part of January 1804. Rev. David Butler, one of the first class of deacons ordained by Bishop Seabury, was the first pastor. There have been six rectors of the parish since its organization. The present rector is Byron J. Hall. On the 23d of Dec., 1868, the church was burned, since which a chapel has been built at a cost of $400. A new stone church is in process of erection, which will cost when completed about $40,000. It is expected that the new church will be completed before the close of the present year.

The Methodist Church was organized at a very early day, New City being one of the first circuits formed. In 1803, Rev. Laban Clark and Martin Ruter preached there. Under the influence of Mr. Clark's first sermon, Chandley Lambert was awakened and converted, and afterwards became a preacher. The first church edifice was erected in 1810, chiefly through the instrumentality of Revs. Joel Ketchum and Elijah Chichester. It stood on the bank of the river and was occupied about twenty years. A church was then erected on Congress Street and continued to be occupied until the present house was erected in 1849, under the pastoral charge of Rev. S. Parks. The present membership is 365, and the value of the Church property about $25,000. Rev. W. R. Brown is the present pastor.

John Street Baptist Church was organized July 28, 1858, with twenty-eight members. Rev. A. B. Whipple was the first pastor. Revs. Sellick, Barlow and Merriman were successively pastors. The first church edifice was purchased of the Second Presbyterian Society, August 20, 1860. The present value of the church edifice is $5,000. The number of members is 102. Rev. A. B. Whipple is the present pastor.

St. Augustine's Church (Roman Catholic) was established in 1842. The first church edifice was a small frame building, corner of John and North streets. A new church was erected in 1864 on the corner of John and Market streets. It is of the Gothic style of architecture, and cost $40,000. In 1869, school buildings were erected in connection with the church at a cost of $10,000. Rev. J. Shannehan was the first pastor. Rev. Thomas Galberry, O. S. A., is the present pastor.

The population of the town in 1865 was 6,072, and its area 5,253 acres.

NASSAU was formed from Petersburg, Stephentown and Schodack, March 31, 1806, as Philipstown. It received its present name April 6, 1808. It lies near the center of the south border of the County. The surface is very broken. Snake Hill, in the south-west, is about 800 feet above tide. The principal streams are Kinderhook and Tackawasick or Tsatsawassa Creeks, and Valatia Kil. There are several fine lakes among the hills, the principal of which are the Tsatsawassa and Patawassa. The Psanticoke Swamp, in the west part, covers several hundred acres. The soil is clay and gravel, underlaid by hardpan. Manufacturing is carried on to a considerable extent in the town.

Nassau, (p. v.) situated in the south-west part, was incorporated March 12, 1819, contains some manufacturing and about 300 inhabitants.

West Nassau contains about 50 houses.

East Nassau (p. v.) contains about 200 inhabitants.

Hoags Corners (p. v.) contains about 200 inhabitants.

Alps (p. v.) about 100.

North Nassau and Millers Corners are hamlets.

Brainerd, (p. v.) formerly called Brainard's Bridge, is in the south-east part and contains the "Transylvania Institute," established in 1838, as a boarding school for ladies and gentlemen, and about 200 inhabitants.

There is a limited amount of manufacturing in most of these villages.

The first settler of this town was Hugh Wilson, who located on the site of Nassau village in 1760. At that time a few families of the Stockbridge Indians were living in the vicinity. They called their village On-ti-ke-ho-mawck, and their chief Kesh-o-mawck. The Indians conveyed to Joseph Primmer a tract of land north of Hoag's Pond, and another tract south of it, to Hugh Wilson, May 16, 1760. Among the early settlers were Thomas Hicks, Henry Post, John McCagg, Daniel Litz, Titus Hemsted, Abraham Holmes, James Marks, John M. Schermerhorn, Maj. A. Brush, Reuben Bateman, Nathaniel Gillet, David Waterbury and men named McNeil and Wiltsie.

William Primmer is said to have been the first child born in the town. The first grist mill was built on the outlet of Tsatsawassa Pond, by Mr. Schermerhorn, previous to the Revolution. The first inn was kept a little before the Revolution, by a Mr. Hicks, and the first store, a short time after the Revolution, by Hoag & Vail.

Within the last thirty years a considerable quantity of land has been allowed to produce a second crop of timber.

The population in 1865 was 2,894, and its area 26,998 acres.

The number of school districts is sixteen, employing the same number of teachers. The number of children of school age is 953; the number attending school, 761; the average attendance, 292, and the amount expended for school purposes for the year ending Sept. 30, 1866, $4,196.36.

NORTH GREENBUSH was formed from Greenbush, February 23, 1855. It lies upon the Hudson, directly west of the center of the County. The clay bluffs rise from the river to the height of 100 to 200 feet, leaving little or no interval. From the summits of these bluffs the surface spreads out into a rolling upland, broken by the deep gulleys of the streams. The principal stream is Wynants Kil, in the north-east. Aries Lake, on the east border, is a fine sheet of water. The soil is a sandy and gravelly loam, interspersed with patches of clay. The people are extensively engaged in supplying the markets of Troy and Albany with garden vegetables and milk.

Bath, situated on the Hudson River, about half a mile above the East Albany Depot, contains two churches, viz., Baptist and Methodist; a union school, a hotel, six groceries, a coal and wood yard, two confectionery stores, two meat and vegetable markets; two shoe shops, several other mechanic shops and about 2,000 inhabitants. The village is connected with Albany by a steam ferry.

Defreestville, (p. v.) in the south part of the town, called also, Blooming Grove, contains a Reformed church, a hotel, a blacksmith shop, a wagon shop, a shoe shop, two groceries and about a dozen dwellings.

Wynantskill (p. v.) contains two churches, two hotels, a grocery, three blacksmith shops, two wagon shops and about a dozen dwellings.

The first settlement was made by tenants under Van Rensselaer, and was one of the first upon the Manor. Among the early settlers were John Cranel, Juriah Sharpe, Rainier Van Alstyne, Marte, David and Philip Deforest, Philip Wendell, Rutger Vandenberg, Cornelius M. Van Beuren, John Fonda, Ed. Hogg and Lawrence Rysdorp. Most of these names are found upon Bleeker's Map, made in 1767.

The population in 1865 was 2,575, and its area 12,868 acres.

The number of school districts is eight, employing eleven teachers. The number of children of school age is 1,300; the number attending school, 765; the average attendance, 351, and the amount expended for school purposes during the year ending Sept. 30, 1869, was $7,494.39.

Two private schools in the town have an attendance of sixty-six pupils.

PETERSBURGH, named in honor of Peter Simmons, was formed from Stephentown, March 18, 1791. Its boundary on the line of Berlin was changed January 4, 1793; parts of Berlin and Lansingburgh were taken off in 1806, and parts of Grafton and Nassau in 1807. It lies on the east border of the County, north of the center. The surface consists of two precipitous mountain ridges, separated by the narrow valley of Little Hoosick River. The highest peaks rise from 1,000 to 2,000 feet above tide. The mountain regions are precipitous, barren and almost inaccessible. The Hoosick River breaks through the Taghkanick Mountains in the north-east part. The soil in the valley is a gravelly loam. The hills are well adapted to pasturage, and large numbers of sheep are kept. The Troy and Boston R. R. extends through the north-east part, and the Lebanon Springs R. R. through the central part, along the valley of Little Hoosick River. Upon a mountain, in the south-east part of the town, is a deep cavity, called "Snowhole," where snow and ice remain during the whole year.

Petersburgh (p. v.) contains three churches, two hotels, four stores, a saloon, three blacksmith shops, a grist mill, a saw mill, a flax mill, a carriage shop, a cabinet shop, a harness shop and about 250 inhabitants. This village was formerly called Rensselaer Mills.

North Petersburgh, (p. v.) in the north part of the town, on the Troy and Boston Railroad, contains a Methodist church, two stores, two hotels, two blacksmith shops and about twenty dwellings.

This town was first settled about 1750, by Dutch tenants under Van Rensselaer. A few years later a number of families came in from Rhode Island. On a map of Rensselaerwyck, from a survey by John R. Bleeker, in 1767, we find the following names of settlers, most of whom were located on the north side of Hoosick River, viz: Peter and Hans Bachus, Johannes Ruyter, Henry Litcher, Hans Lautman, Barent Hogg, Jacob Best, Petrus Vosburgh, Bastian Deel, Frans Burn, Juria Kreiger, Henry Young, Scholemaster Watson, Long Andries, — Devoet and — Primmer. The last name probably designates John George Brimmer, who with his family settled in 1754 in the north part of the town, where Henry J. Brimmer now lives. William W. Reynolds came from Rhode Island and settled in 1780. He had six children, viz: Howard, Thomas, Benjamin, Elijah, Parker and Amy, numerous descendants of whom still reside in the town. Ichabod Prosser, from Vermont, settled soon after the war, where A. Prosser now lives. He was at the Battle of Bennington. Joshua, Thomas and Benjamin Randall, Abraham Lewis, Augustus Lewis, Oliver Spencer, Stephen Card and Sylvanus Stephens settled at Lewis's Hollow at an early day. Asa and David Maxon, from Rhode Island, settled in 1794, where Clark Maxon now lives. They purchased 150 acres at five shillings per acre. Sterry Hewett, from Conn., settled soon after the Revolution, where T. L. Nichols now lives. He was a soldier of the Revolution; came to this town with an ox team. Stanton Bailey, from Conn., settled previous to the war, where W. B. Odell now lives. Gideon Clark settled where J. G. Clark now lives; he was a soldier of the Revolution and drew a pension. Joseph Allen, from Rhode Island, settled about 1790, where Clark Peckham lives; he was a soldier of the Revolution. William Hiscock, from Rhode Island, settled about 1788, where Livingston now lives. James Weaver, from Rhode Island, settled where Henry Weaver now lives; he was a Revolutionary soldier and at the Battle of Bennington. Thomas Phillips, from Rhode Island, settled soon after the Revolution, where J. G. Phillips now lives.

On the 15th of June, 1754, Mr. John G. Brimmer was at work in the field with his sons, George, Godfrey and John, when Indian blankets were discovered. Mr. B. immediately started for the house, telling his sons to unharness the horses and follow him. Before they could comply with their father's request, four Indians were discovered coming towards them

They immediately grasped their guns, and George and one of the Indians fired at each other, George falling dead. Godfrey, seeing his brother fall, ran and hid behind a brush fence. While concealed he saw two Indians looking for him. He drew up his gun to fire, but a leaf falling upon the sight, he changed his position and was discovered by the Indians. He and one of the Indians immediately exchanged shots, but without effect. Perceiving the other Indian about to fire, he dropped the butt of his gun upon the ground, placed one hand over the muzzle and extended the other towards the Indian in token of surrender. The Indians came to him, one of them grasped him by the collar and passed around him three times with one finger within his shirt collar, then laid his hand upon his head, signifying "You are my prisoner." The Indians took John prisoner also, though he fled to an island in the river on their approach and threw stones at them. He was sixteen years old, and Godfrey was twenty-one. They immediately started for Canada and proceeded to Lake Champlain, where they took the skiffs which they had previously left. The prisoners were taken to St. Johns, where they were met by about three hundred Indians, who formed a circle around them and ordered them to sing. They refused and were ordered the third time, but they still declared that they could not sing. The Indians being exasperated were about to strike, and had their clubs already raised for the purpose, when Godfrey discovered, in the crowd, an Indian who had partaken of the hospitalities of his father's house. He spoke to the Indian, who recognized him and interfered to save the prisoners from torture. They remained at St. John's for six weeks, and were then sold to the French, by whom they were treated as slaves, suffering greatly from the tyranny of their masters. After a servitude of more than five years, they secured their freedom on the surrender of Quebec to the English in 1759. They immediately started for Albany, and at Lake George were taken by the British and thrown into prison. They were soon released through the influence of Mr. Van Rensselaer, and made their way to Albany. They there learned that their parents had removed to Rhinebeck and had heard nothing from them since their capture. The family afterwards removed back to the Hoosick Valley, where a numerous posterity now reside.

The early settlers were obliged to go to Albany to mill, and endure many other hardships incident to a new country.

About 1780, John, Nathaniel, Hannah and Elizabeth Church settled where Peter Church now lives. Peter Church was born in this town in 1787, is still living, and probably the oldest person in the town who was born there. He has raised a family of eleven children, all of whom are now living.

The first grist mill was erected by George Rosenburgh, about 1770, on the creek below Peter Church's. The first school was kept by — Hall; the first tavern by Cornelius Litcher, and the first store by Benjamin Hanks. A log grist mill was erected at South Petersburg by John Spencer, previous to the Revolution, and a carding mill was erected by Barber & Murray in 1800. The first church was erected by the Lutherans, at North Petersburg, about 1798.

The Methodist Church was organized about 1798, under the labors of Rev. Joseph Sawyer. Ebenezer Washburn was converted and made the leader of a class, consisting of his wife, John Prosser and wife, and John G. Croy and wife. Before the close of the year the number increased from half a dozen to over thirty. Rev. Lorenzo Dow also preached here about this time. Mr. Washburn afterwards became a preacher. Rev. Peter Van Nest and Daniel Bromley were among the other preachers at an early day. Rev. Elisha B. Hoff is the present pastor. A Methodist church was formed at South Petersburg, by Joseph Mitchel, in 1800. Services were held at the house of George Springer. Their church edifice was erected in 1820.

A Christian Church was organized by Rev. John Spoon, about 1828. It consisted of fourteen members. The present edifice was erected in 1843, the number of members is 89, and the present pastor is Rev. W. B. Haight.

Dr. Hiram Moses was an early physician of this town, and, with his son, Hiram, is still practicing.

Mrs. Mary Wilcox, the wife of Nathan Wilcox, committed suicide in December 1869. She was partially insane and had not left her room for nearly a week previous to her death. She went to the garret and, with the sleeves of a Garibaldi waist about her neck, attached it to the bed post, and was found dead a few hours afterwards.

Mrs. Thomas Carr, a resident of the Prosser Settlement, left her house one day at 2 p. m., with three little children, aged three and a half, two years and five months. The house took fire, and before aid arrived, the children were burned to death. The two oldest were taken from the fire clasped in each others arms. Nothing but the bones of the youngest was found.

In July 1848, a most atrocious and cold blooded murder was perpetrated in the south part of the town, by Andrus Hall. The victims were Noah Smith and his wife, aged respectively 80 and 72 years. Hall had been in the employ of Smith, but left and went to Troy. He returned on Friday night and stopped at Hewitt's barn. Early in the evening he went to Smith's house with a handspike and found the door bolted. He told Smith there were cattle in the meadow, back of the barn. Smith came out and Hall accompanied him to show him where the cattle were. As they were walking along quietly, Hall struck him upon the side of the head, killing him instantly. He then cut his throat and dragged him into the thick grass and left him. Hall then went to the house, told Mrs. Smith that her husband had sent him for an ax to fix the fence. She procured the ax, which he took, and with it struck her upon the side of the head. She fell to the floor, groaning mournfully. Hall lit the candle, which had become extinguished on falling from Mrs. Smith's hand, and struck her another blow; she still continued groaning, and Hall then took a knife and stuck it in her neck. He then barred the door and began the search for money, first putting a sheet before the window. He searched various places in the house, finding a considerable amount of money, including bills and specie. Mrs. S. continued groaning, and Hall stuck the knife into her neck again. Perceiving the gold beads upon her neck, he cut the string and put the beads in his pocket.—Hearing a noise he left the house, and after going to Mr. Smith and covering his body with grass, started for Troy. Hall was executed at Troy, March 15, 1849, at the age of 24. Previous to his execution he made a full confession of this crime and others, showing that he was one of the most depraved of criminals. He had previously murdered a boy named Franklin Brown, in Hoosick, for a few dollars in money and a silver watch. The bones of the boy were found where Hall had concealed the body. Mrs. Smith's gold beads led to his detection for his last crime.

The wife of Henry Laker was murdered a few years since by a man named Coon, who was afterwards executed for his crime.

The population of the town in 1865 was 1,670, and its area 25,238 acres.

PITTSTOWN was created as a township, by patent, July 23, 1761, and was formed as a town March 7, 1788. Its boundary was changed February 14, 1793. It lies in the center of the north part of the County. The surface is mountainous in the south and east, and declines into a moderately hilly region in the north. The highest summits in the south-east are 800 to 1000 feet above tide. The soil is chiefly a gravelly and slaty loam. Flax is extensively cultivated and manufacturing is carried on to some extent.

Johnsonville (p. v.) is a station on the Troy and Boston R. R. and contains a Presbyterian church, a school house, a hotel, the Johnsonville Ax and Tool Manufactory, a twine and linen factory, a flax mill, four stores, a grist mill, a planing mill, a carriage and sleigh factory, two blacksmith shops and about 500 inhabitants. There are three temperance organizations, viz:—Eureka Lodge, No. 784, I. O. of G. T.; Morning Star Lodge, No. 31, Temple of Honor, and Sons of Temperance.

Valley Falls (p. v.) is a station on the Troy and Boston R. R., fourteen miles from Troy. It lies on both sides of the Hoosick River, in the towns of Pittstown and Schaghticoke. It contains a Methodist church, a school house, two hotels, three stores, a paper mill, the Eagle Mower Works, a grist mill, a plaster mill, a twine factory, a carriage factory, and about 650 inhabitants. The Valley Falls Lodge, No. 856, I. O. of G. T., is established here.

Tomhannock (p. v.) is situated in the north-west part of the town and contains two churches, viz: Presbyterian and Methodist; a hotel, three stores, a grist mill, two saw mills, three flax mills, a wagon shop, three blacksmith shops, a harness shop, a cooper shop and about 250 inhabitants.

Raymertown (p. v.) is situated in the south part of the town and contains a Lutheran church, a hotel, a store, two grist mills, two saw mills, two flax mills, three blacksmith shops, a wagon shop and about 150 inhabitants.

Pittstown, (p. v.) in the south part of the town, contains three churches, viz: Baptist, Methodist and Disciples; a store, two blacksmith shops, a wagon shop, two cooper shops, a saw mill and about 200 inhabitants.

Boyntonville, in the south-east part, contains two churches, viz: Methodist and Christian; a hotel, three stores, three blacksmith shops, a harness shop, a cooper shop, a wagon shop and about 150 inhabitants.

Pittstown was settled at a very early date. William Pendergrast, Stephen Hunt and Edmund Aiken were among the first settlers near Johnsonville. Ludovicus Viele settled at Valley Falls in 1772, and Christian Fisher and Michael Vandercook, at Cooksborough, the same year. In 1770, William Shepard, from New England, located on 500 acres; Benjamin Aiken, from Dutchess Co., located on 950 acres, about 1778 or '80, and in 1785 Alexander Thompson located on 500 acres.

William Hammond kept a school at North Pittstown in 1785, and Rebecca Thompson taught at Sherman's Mills in 1789.

The first church (Baptist) was organized in 1784; Elder Isaac Webb was the first preacher.

The farm now owned and occupied by Leo V. Reed was purchased at a very early day, by a man named Tinsler, of an Indian chief. The tract contained about 180 acres, for which he gave an ax.

In looking over the files of the "Northern Budget," in the Library of the Troy Young Men's Association, the following reminiscence of Pittstown was discovered :

"THIEVES TAKE NOTICE !

"The thievish brood, both small and great,
 Who pilfer early, pilfer late,
 Remorseless, graceless, shameless, cruel,
 My timber, fit for sale or fuel,
 Namely, my beeches, maples, walnuts,
 And trees which bear, spontaneous, all nuts,
 Had better be a little easy,
 Or else, I trow, they'll soon feel queasy.
 Should they hereafter hew and hack,
 I'll frighten all the filching pack
 With thing that many a rogue has bit,
 Which vulgar people call a writ,
 (Though counselors with solemn air
 Pronounce and publish and declare
 A capias ad respondendum)
 That quickly to the D—l will send em,
 If they on surface of bare ground,
 In sheriff's bailiwick can be found,
 Tied neck and heels, they'll all be dragged (Hand-cuffed and choked, lacerated, gagged)
 To solitude of common jail,
 'Mid hungry demons, fierce and pale,
 Where luckless wights, at last outwitted,
 For misdemeanors are committed,
 Cursing with bitter execration
 The dreary Sabbath of starvation.

J. H. PRICE."

"Pittstown, Dec. 15, 1806."

Whether this effusion had the effect to protect his timber from thieves, we are unable to say, but think they must have been incorrigible if this failed to make them honest.

The population of the town in 1865 was 3,831, and its area 39,513 acres.

POESTENKILL, named from its principal stream, was formed from Sand Lake, March 2, 1848. It lies near the center of the County, upon the western declivities of the Petersburg Mountains. The central and east portions are rugged, rocky and mountainous, and the soil is cold, sterile and unproductive. The west part is hilly, and the soil is a gravelly loam, well adapted to pasturage. Snake Hill, near the center, is one of the principal elevations. Upon the Poesten Kil is a beautiful cascade of eighty feet fall. About a mile west of the falls is a medicinal spring which has attained some notoriety for the cure of eruptions and cutaneous diseases. A bathing establishment erected here several years ago was carried away by a freshet.

Poestenkill, (p. v.) on the creek of the same name, contains two churches, three stores, a grist mill, a saw mill, a small cotton batting factory and about 300 inhabitants.

East Poestenkill (p. o.) is a hamlet.

Barberville contains a church and about fifteen dwellings.

The population of the town in 1865 was 1,952, and its area 19,353 acres.

The number of school districts is eight, employing the same number of teachers. The number of children of school age is 725; the number attending school 503; the average attendance 226, and the amount expended for school purposes during the year ending Sept. 30, 1869, was $2,727.56.

SAND LAKE was formed from Greenbush and Berlin, June 19, 1812. A part of Greenbush was taken off in 1843, and Poestenkill in 1848. It lies a little south of the center of the County. The surface is mountainous in the east and hilly in the west. Perigo Hill, in the north-east corner, is 900 feet above tide; and Oak Hill, near the center, is about the same height. The east part of the town contains large forests, and is a favorite resort for hunting and fishing. Wynants Kil, flowing north-west through the center, and Tsatsawassa Creek, in the east, are the principal streams. Along the valleys of these streams are several small lakes, the principal of which are Sand, Glass and Crooked Lakes, and Big Bowman's Pond. The soil among the mountains is a hard, sterile clay, and in the west a good quality of gravelly loam. Three-fourths of a mile east of West Sand Lake is a chalybeate spring. Large quantities of cord wood, charcoal and tanbark are carried to the Troy and Albany markets.

Sand Lake, (p. v.) situated near the center of the town, contains a Baptist church, two hotels, a store, four woolen mills, a cotton warp mill, a paper mill and about 1,000 inhabitants.

The Woolen Mill of James Aken contains six sets of machinery, and manufactures knit goods for men's underwear. About 100 hands are employed, and 300,000 pounds of cotton and wool are consumed annually.

Knowlson & Kidder employ sixty hands, run four sets of machinery for the manufacture of knit goods, and consume 200,000 pounds of cotton and wool annually.

O. B. Arnold runs two sets of machinery for knit goods, employs twenty-five hands, consuming annually 75,000 pounds of cotton and wool.

Sand Lake Warp Mill Company run 2,500 spindles in the manufacture of cotton warps, employ eighty operatives, consume 240,000 pounds of cotton, and produce 1,920,000 yards of warp annually.

The Paper Mill of Merwin & Co. consumes 600 tons of straw annually in the manufacture of straw paper, and employ twenty hands.

Sliter's Corners contains a Presbyterian church, a hotel, two stores, a carriage shop, a blacksmith shop and about twenty houses.

Glass House was so-called from its having been the seat of an extensive glass factory. It was formerly called Rensselaer Village. The glass company was incorporated in 1806 and discontinued in 1852. In 1813 the company employed one hundred men. It now contains a Methodist church, a hotel and about a dozen dwellings.

South Sand Lake (p. o.) contains a store, a hotel and a blacksmith shop.

West Sand Lake, (p. v.) in the north-west part of the town, contains four churches, viz., Methodist, two Lutheran and a German Methodist; a hotel, four stores and about 300 inhabitants.

The settlement of this town was commenced previous to the Revolutionary War. Among the early settlers were Abram Frere, Nicholas Fellows, Andreas Barent, Fred. Shaver, Andreas Weatherwax, Abram Bristol, Ephraim Quinby, John Carmichael and Stephen Miller.

Joshua Lockwood and William Carpenter built the first grist mill, in 1768, at West Sand Lake.

The population of the town in 1865 was 2,606, and its area 21,968 acres.

The number of school districts is eleven, employing thirteen teachers. The number of children of school age is 923; the number attending school 629; the average attendance 258, and the amount expended for school purposes for the year ending Sept. 30, 1869, was $3,906.94.

SCHAGHTICOKE was formed as a district, March 24, 1772, and as a town, March 7, 1788: Pittstown. was taken off March 7, 1788, and a part of Lansingburgh in 1819. It lies on the Hudson, in the north-west corner of the County. The surface is principally a rolling upland, about 200 feet above the river. The summits of the hills in the south are 800 feet above tide. Hoosick River, flowing through the north part, is bordered on a portion of its course by steep banks 200 feet high. On this stream, at the mouth of Tomhannock Creek, is a beautiful circular valley, three-fourths of a mile in circumference, and bounded on nearly every side by steep hills. A small stream, called the Dwaas Kil, flows from the Hudson into the mouth of the Hoosick. When the Hoosick suddenly rises, the current of the stream is often changed, and it is not uncommon to see it running north in the morning and south at night. The name, Dwaas Kil, signifies "stream running both ways." The soil is generally a fertile, sandy or gravelly loam. Manufacturing is carried on to some extent in the town.

Hart's Falls, (p. v.) (formerly Schaghticoke Point,) is situated on Hoosick River, four miles from its junction with the Hudson and about three-fourths of a mile from Schaghticoke Station, on the Troy & Boston R. R. The village contains three churches, viz., Methodist, Presbyterian and Roman Catholic; three district schools, three hotels, a woolen factory, two paper mills, a twine and bagging factory, a marble factory, the Schaghticoke Powder Mill and about 1100 inhabitants. At this place is one of the finest water-powers on the Hoosick River. The whole fall is about 96 feet, including a perpendicular fall of 32 feet. A large part of this power is still unoccupied. Victor Lodge, No. 680, F. & A. M., and Phoenix Lodge, No. 776, I. O. of G. T., at this village, are in a flourishing condition.

Junction, (p. v.) situated on the Deepi Kil, about a mile from Grant's Junction; on the Troy & Boston R. R., contains a store, the Grant Fanning Mill and Cradle Manufactory, and about twenty houses.

Schaghticoke Hill, situated on Tomhannock Creek, one mile from the station on the Troy & Boston R. R., contains a Methodist church, two stores, a saw mill, a grist mill, a twine and cordage mill, a scutching mill, the Schaghticoke Powder Keg Mill and about 150 inhabitants.

Old Schaghticoke is a name applied to a section about six miles square, lying in the north-west part of the town.

This valley, like the territory generally along the eastern bank of the upper Hudson, was formerly occupied by the Algonquin race, who after many years of hostility were at last conquered and driven northward. For several years the country remained nearly unoccupied, but about 1670, through the exertions of Sir Edmond Andros, the Colonial Governor, a remnant of the Pequots were settled here under the name of *Schaghticoke*s, the land having been given by the Mohawks as a barrier to the incursions of the northern tribes. About 1728 a division of the Tribe took place, the main body remaining until the "Seven Years War," when they joined their kindred in Canada. Small bodies of the Schaghticoke have until within a few years continued to visit their ancient burial place and counsel tree, near the banks of the Hoosick River, in "Old Schaghticoke." They were accompanied by a very aged woman of the Royal race, named Bathsheba. She died in 1854, aged more than one hundred years.

By the charter of 1686, the City of Albany obtained the right to purchase of the natives five hundred acres of land in this town, but neglecting to improve this privilege immediately, the right was given to Hendrick Van Rensselaer, in 1698. The next year he sold his claim to the City, and in 1707 an Indian deed was obtained of a tract six miles square, lying chiefly in this town. The consideration for this valuable tract was "two blankets, two body coats, twenty shirts, two guns, twelve pounds of powder, thirty and six pounds of shot, eight gallons of rum, two casks of beer, two rolls of tobacco, two gallons of Madeira wine and some gin," to them in hand delivered by the Mayor, Recorder and Common Council of the City of Albany. In 1709 the City conveyed the land to the following settlers, viz., John de Wandelaer, Jr., John Heermans Vischer, Corset Voeder, Daniel Kittlehuyn, John Knickerbocker, Louis Viele and Derick Van Veighten, who went there to reside, and were soon followed by Martin de Lamont, Wouter Quackenbosch, Peter Yates, David Schnyler, Wouter Groesbeck, Philip Livingstone, Ignace Kip, Cornelius Vandenburg and many others, whose descendants still reside in the vicinity.

In 1714 Schaghticoke was organized into a parish of the Dutch Church. Having no regular minister residing there, the services were performed alternately by the ministers of Albany and Schenectady. A log church was erected the same year, and a small block-house in which the inhabitants took refuge in times of danger. The parish suffered greatly from incursions of French and Indians, who several times destroyed their church and dwellings, and carried into captivity many inhabitants. In 1746 the Government erected a fort at old Schaghticoke, and garrisoned it with two companies of soldiers until the close of the Seven Years War. After the conquest of Canada by the English, there was greater security and the population increased rapidly. In 1760 a new church was built, which was a good specimen of the quaint style of church architecture common in the middle of the last century. It was sixty by forty feet, with low side walls and a high pitched Mansard roof, ending at the eastern gable in a bulbous turret, surmounted by a weather cock. The pulpit, which had its canopy and sounding board, was mounted on a high pedestal, beneath which was a small desk for the "Voorliester," or clerk, in front of which was a communion table equally quaint. There was no burial ground attached to this church, and the oldest in the neighborhood is that of the Knickerbacker family, on the site of an Indian cemetery. The first burial of a European occurred in 1715. A few rods south-east of this spot is the "Witenagemote," or "Council Tree," a remarkably vigorous and symmetrical oak, the trunk of which measures twenty feet in circumference. The first installed pastor of the Church was Rev. Elias VanBunschooten. He was the clergyman whom tradition reports as having performed the marriage service while the parties were on the opposite side of the Hoosick River from the minister. It occurred at a ford about a mile above the junction of the Hudson and Hoosick Rivers. After the appointment was made, the river became suddenly swollen by rain, so that it was impassable for either party. But as marriages cannot well be postponed without great inconvenience to the parties, the minister took his station upon one bank of the river, and the parties to be united on the other, while the ceremony was duly performed according to the ritual of the Dutch Church. The Dominie informed the happy bridegroom that if the guilden was left at a neighboring house, it would be duly received.

At the commencement of the Revolution a regiment was raised and placed under the command of Col. John Knickerbacker. He had charge of the fort at this place and accompanied the regiment to Ticonderoga. On the approach of Burgoyne, most of the inhabitants fled to Albany, leaving their dwellings to the mercy of the British and Hessian soldiers, who occupied them for some time, but through the influence of the Tories did not burn the place.

The following advertisement was copied from the Northern Budget, of July 1805.

"SCHAGHTICOKE POINT.

"The subscriber, thankful for the large share of custom brought to his machine by the public, and being desirous of giving them all the accommodation in his power, has set up an additional machine in his mills at Schaghticoke Point, and is now able to give them double dispatch in the business of carding wool. He has a machine for picking wool which performs that part of the business better than it can be done by hand.— His prices for picking, greasing and carding, to persons furnishing their own grease, is six cents per pound, or he will find oil and do it for eight cents. One pint of oil or one pound of grease is sufficient for eleven pounds of wool. They may depend upon having their work done punctually and in the best manner.

C. JOY."

"July 1, 1805."

In 1777, Derrick Van Veghten was shot and scalped by the Indians. His tobacco box was perforated by the ball which killed him; it is still in the possession of his descendants. His father, Herman Van Veghten, was shot by the Indians in 1746. At the close of the war, the inhabitants returned to their agricultural pursuits.

John J. Bleecker was one of the early settlers of this town, locating there previous to the Revolutionary War. On the approach of Burgoyne, Mr. Bleecker went to Albany to seek a place of safety for his family. He had scarcely been gone a day when Mrs. Bleecker received intelligence that the enemy were within two miles of the village, burning and murdering all before them. Greatly terrified, she immediately took her youngest child in her arms, while another one about four years old walked by her side, accompanied by a young mulatto girl, and leaving her house and furniture to the mercy of the enemy, started on foot for Albany. The roads were crowded with carriages loaded with women and children, but none could afford her any assistance. After walking four or five miles she obtained a seat for the children upon one of the wagons while she continued her journey on foot to Lansingburgh, then called Stone Arabia, "where she expected to find many friends; but she was deceived; no door was open to her whose house by many of them had been made use of as a home. She wandered from house to house and at length obtained a place in the garret of a rich old acquaintance, where a couple of blankets stretched upon some boards were offered as a bed. She however sat up all night and wept, and the next morning, Mr. Bleecker, coming from Albany, met with them and returned to that city, from whence they set off with several other families by water." —[Mem. of Mrs. Bleecker.] They went to Red Hook, and, after the surrender of Burgoyne, returned to their former home, where they enjoyed tolerable tranquillity until August 1781, when Mr. Bleecker, with two other men, was taken prisoner while engaged in the harvest field, and, with their captors, started for Canada. Mrs. B. awaited with anxiety the return of her husband, and, at length, apprehensive that something unusual had occurred, dispatched a servant who soon returned with the account that the men were nowhere to be seen, but the horses and wagon were in the road, tied to a tree. As small parties from Canada were known to be skulking in the woods, Mrs. B. was at no loss to account for the absence of her husband.—The neighbors were immediately alarmed and the woods searched, but no trace of the prisoners or of their captors could be found. Though it was near night, Mrs. B. started immediately for Albany, giving up her husband as lost. Fortunately Mr. B. was retaken by a party from Bennington, and returned to his wife in a few days. Mrs. Bleecker appears to have been a lady of considerable talent as a writer, a volume of her writings, in connection with her memoirs, being published in 1793.

Among the instances of barbarous captivity and massacre during the French and Indian War, none is more shocking than that of the Kittle families. Mr. Kittle settled in this town before the War, about the year 1736, where they enjoyed all the comforts which the country afforded. About a year after their marriage they were blessed with a daughter who became a favorite with the Indians as well as with her parents and friends. When Anna, for that was the daughter's name, was about twelve years old, she had the pleasure of greeting a little brother. When the news of the horrid massacres and depredations of the savages reached the ears of Mr. Kittle, he became alarmed at the danger of his brothers then residing near Fort Edward, and invited them to reside with him during the War. Scarcely had his brothers become settled with him, when the incursions of the savages in the country approaching their own residence, sparing neither age or sex, so alarmed them that they resolved to remove to the vicinity of Albany. While packing up and making ready for their journey, several Indians whose wigwams were in the vicinity and who had always appeared well disposed towards the English, called and assured Mrs. Kittle that she should be apprised in case of danger, and to make her more confiding in his friendship, one of them presented her with a belt interwoven with silk and beads, as a token of friendship. Though Mr. K. appeared less inclined to trust the Indians than did his wife, they decided to suspend their journey to Albany for a few days. The next day, according to previous arrangement, Mr. K. and his brother Peter went on a hunting excursion, not without some forebodings of the evils that awaited them. At length, weary with their journey and seeing no game of value, they resolved to return home. While passing along the bank of the river, within a few miles of their home, they saw a fine fat doe, which Peter, by a well directed shot, brought to the ground. Shortly after the discharge of his gun, two savages appeared and immediately discharged their pieces at the brothers, killing Peter almost instantly. Mr. Kittle immediately shot one of the Indians and, with the butt end of his gun, felled the other to the ground, leaving both for dead. He then placed the body of his brother upon the horse and proceeded towards home. On his arrival he made known the circumstances of his disaster, ordered a horse that he might proceed immediately to the village of Schaghticoke for wagons to remove his family to some safe retreat. He had been gone but a short time when the tramping of horses feet and the yell of voices announced the arrival of Indians, who soon demanded admittance. The work of destruction was sudden and awful; a brother of Mr. Kittle's, with his wife, were murdered in the most shocking manner. Mrs. K., and her brother-in-law, Henry Kittle, were taken prisoners, but her children perished in the flames of the house, which the Indians plundered and set on fire. Mr. K. returned to find his house in ashes, the mangled bodies of one brother and sister-in-law, and the charred remains of his children, but no tidings of the others, who he supposed had perished in the flames. After suffering the usual hardships of a journey, the captives arrived in Montreal, where Mrs. K. found one of her old neighbors, Mrs. Bratt, who had previously been taken prisoner. For two years Mrs. K. received the kind attentions of the ladies of Montreal, but failed in all of her endeavors to obtain the least information respecting her husband. Her letters would sometimes be returned to her after wandering through various provinces without reaching him for whom they were designed. At length after a long and fruitless search for his long lost brother, Mr. Kittle found him in Montreal, and then for the first time heard that his wife had been made a captive and was not murdered. The meeting was as if one had risen from the dead, and the happiness of meeting can only be imagined.

Henry Miller was another of the early settlers of this town, and his descendants still reside there. He and his wife were from Germany, and came over at an early day. Having arrived in New York after a tedious voyage, he left his family and took passage with a Dutch skipper for Albany, to seek a spot upon the vacant lands of this State. From Albany he went on foot to seek a home for his family, and while traveling along the banks of the Hudson, admiring the beauty of the scenery and buoyant with hopes for the future, he suddenly met one of his old companions with whom he had served in the army in the old country. The interview was mutually agreeable. Mr. Miller went to the home of his old friend, was pleased with the country, and, with the aid of his new friends, erected a log cabin to which he removed his family in a few days, and thus became one of the early settlers of Schaghticoke.

The population of the town in 1865 was 3,054, and its area 26,900 acres.

SCHODACK was formed March 17, 1795, at the time of the division of Rensselaerwyck. Parts of Berlin and Nassau were taken off in 1806. It lies upon the Hudson in the south-west corner of the County. From the river the surface rises in a series of bluffs 200 feet high, from the summits of which it spreads out into an undulating upland, inclined to the west.—Bunker Hill, the highest point, is about 500 feet above tide. The surface is intersected by numerous deep gulleys worn by the small streams. The principal streams are Vierdee Kil, Moordeners Kil, Vlockie Kil, Muitzes Kil and Valatie Kil.—Moordeners Kil (Murderers Kil) was so called, says tradition, from an obstinate battle fought between the settlers and a band of robbers at an early day. Adams Killetye is a small creek, so called from Adam Mall, who was taken prisoner by the Indians while drinking of its waters. The soil in the east is clay, and in the west a fertile sandy and gravelly loam.

Castleton, (p. v.) situated on the Hudson River, about fourteen miles below Troy, contains two churches, viz: Methodist and Reformed; a hotel, six stores, a stove and tin shop, a jewelry store, a lumber yard, five brick yards, and a population of about 600. Five barges run between this village and New York, two of them carrying produce and three of them brick.

Schodack Landing, (p. v.) in the south-west part of the town, on the river, is a station on the Hudson River R. R. and contains a Reformed church, two hotels, and about 250 inhabitants.

South Schodack (p. v.) is a station on the Boston and Albany R. R., containing about 100 inhabitants.

Muitzes Kill is a hamlet on Muitzes Kil Creek, and contains about 20 dwellings.

Schodack Depot (p. v.) contains about twenty dwellings.

This town appears to have been visited by Hudson while on his voyage up the River in 1609, and was thickly inhabited by native tribes. When near the site of Castleton, he went on shore and was received with the greatest hospitality by the Governor of the country, who was Chief over forty men and seventeen women. This Chief occupied a house made of the bark of trees, very smooth and well finished. Large quantities of corn and beans were found, sufficient, the early accounts say, to load three ships, besides what were still in the fields not yet harvested. On arriving at the house two mats were brought forward and spread upon the ground for Hudson to sit upon. Food was also brought in well made wooden bowls and men were dispatched with bows and arrows to bring in game. They soon returned with a good supply of pigeons, to which was added a fat dog killed and skinned with shells from the river. The feast was got up without regard to expense, and doubtless was relished by the natives, if not by their guests. The land is described as the finest ever seen for tillage, and timber in large quantities fit for ship building was growing upon its surface.— Pumpkins, grapes and other fruits were abundant. The natives exchanged furs and other articles for beads, knives, hatchets and whatever else the sailors could spare. When the Chief found that Hudson would not remain upon shore over night, and supposing that it was through fear of their bows and arrows, he caused the arrows to be broken and thrown into the fire.

The first settlements were made by tenants under Van Rensselaer. Over forty settlers are mentioned in Bleecker's survey in 1767. Among them we find the names of Van Buren, Barhuddt, Van Valkenburgh, Springsteen, Schermerhorn, Janze, Ketel, Poel; Miller, Schevers, Lodwick, Huyck, Beekman, Mills, Molles, Salsberg, Witbeck and Nolton.

The first mill was built before the Revolution, below Castleton.

The first inn was kept by a man named Barhydt, in 1778. A carding mill was erected on Muitzes Kil in 1800.

The population of the town in 1865 was 4,015, and its area 36,666 acres.

The number of school districts having their school houses in this town is fourteen, employing fifteen teachers. The number of children of school age is 1,317; the number attending school 909; the average attendance, 378, and the amount expended for school purposes during the year ending September 30th, 1869, was $6,518.80.

STEPHENTOWN, named in honor of Stephen Van Rensselaer, was formed from Rensselaerwyck, March 29, 1784. Petersburg was taken off in 1791, and parts of Berlin and Nassau in 1806. It lies in the south-east corner of the County. The surface consists of two rocky, mountainous ranges, separated by the valley of Kinderhook Creek. The highest summits are about 1,800 feet above tide. The principal peaks are Round Mountain, and Whitney and Butternut Hills, east of the valley, and Brockway Hill and Webster Mountain on the west. Extensive forests cover a portion of the town. The principal streams are Kinderhook and East Creeks, Black River, Black and Roaring Brooks. The soil is hard and sterile among the mountains, but a gravelly loam in the valleys.

Stephentown, (p. v.) situated on Kinderhook Creek, contains two churches and about twenty dwellings.

Stephentown Flats, on the same stream, contains a cotton bathing factory, a machine shop and about twenty-five dwellings.

Mechanicsville, on Black River, contains a church, a saw mill, a grist mill, a brush factory, four turning shops and about twenty-five dwellings.

West Stepentown,

North Stepentown and South Stepentown are post offices.

The first settlement of this town was commenced about 1766. Asa Douglas, his son William, and his grandson Benjamin, Nathaniel Rose, Elnathan Sweet and Joseph Rogers settled near the center of the town, and Joshua Gardner in the east part, at a very early day. Edward Carr settled near Kinderhook Creek, and John Mills, — Husted, — Lewis, — Berry and others settled in the north part. Most of the early settlers were from Rhode Island.

The first child born in the town was William Douglas, a grandson of Asa, one of the first settlers. He afterwards married the first white female born in the town. The late Hon. Stephen A. Douglas was a descendant of the first settler. The first church (Baptist) was organized in 1782, under Rev. Justus Hall. Rev. Robert Miles was the first pastor.

The population of the town in 1865 was 2,026, and its area 33,538 acres.

The number of school districts is fifteen, employing the same number of teachers. The number of children of school age is 717; the number attending school 536; the average attendance 214, and the amount expended for school purposes during the year ending September 30th, 1869, was $3,528.57.

TROY was formed as a town, from Rensselaerwyck, March 18, 1791. Brunswick and parts of Grafton and Lansingburgh were taken off March 20, 1807, and a part of Greenbush in 1836. A part of Brunswick was annexed in 1814. The first village charter was passed in 1791, and another one in 1798. The village was formally incorporated by an act of the Legislature, passed April 2, 1801. This charter conferred limited powers on five Trustees, but the power of levying taxes was reserved to the voters. In 1805 the charter was revised and the Trustees were authorized to raise a tax of $1,500 for night watch, lighting streets, &c., and $1,000 for contingent expenses. The village contained four wards, each of which elected one Trustee, the President being appointed by the Governor and Council of appointment. Edward Tylee was the President for several years succeeding the year 1805.

The City Charter was granted April 12, 1816. Col. Albert Pawling was the first Mayor. A portion of Lansingburgh was annexed May 4, 1836. It lies upon the Hudson, near the center of the west border of the County. Its surface comprises the alluvial flat, from half to three-fourths of a mile in width, along the river, and the high bluffs which border it on the east. The high land upon the east border of the City is known as Mount Ida, and that upon the north-east as Mount Olympus. Mount Ida is chiefly clay and has been the scene of several destructive land slides. Poesten Kil and Wynants Kil both break through these hills in narrow ravines, and in a series of cascades, forming an excellent water-power.

The City is quite regularly laid out, River Street following the general course of the river, and the other streets at right angles to each other. It contains many beautiful residences and public buildings, and is noted for the enterprise of its inhabitants and its extensive manufactures. It also contains the County Buildings, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy Female Seminary, Provincial Seminary, about forty churches, several extensive iron manufactories, paper and linen collar manufactories, manufactories of optical and mathematical instruments, safes, cotton and woolen goods, paper, &c., and about 50,000 inhabitants.

The Public Schools are under the charge of twenty Commissioners, elected for two years, one from each ward being elected annually. The schools are divided into four grades, viz., Primary, Intermediate, Grammar and High School Department, and are free to all residents of the City between the ages of five and twenty-one years. A school for colored children is established, affording facilities equal to those enjoyed by the members of the other schools. The number of teachers employed during the year ending Sept. 30, 1869, was 109. The number of persons between the ages of five and twenty-one years was 16,700; the number attending school, 10,420; the average attendance, 4,690. The number attending private schools was 2,183. The amount expended for teachers' wages, exclusive of the colored school, was $54,336.50; expenses of colored school, $1,906.62; the whole amount expended for all purposes, including teachers' wages, buildings, apparatus, &c., was $104,676.85. The number of school buildings is fourteen, all but one of which are of brick, estimated value $153,200. The estimated value of school lots is $51,800.

The Troy Academy was incorporated May 5, 1834. It is located on State Street, corner of Seventh. T. Newton Willson is the Principal.

The Troy Female Seminary is located on Second Street, adjoining a beautiful park. The germ of this Seminary was started in Middlebury, Vt., in 1814, by Mrs. Emma Willard. In 1819 it was removed to Waterford, N. Y., with the hope of securing aid from the State to establish a permanent institution. The expectations not being realized, and the school increasing to such an extent that no suitable building could be procured for its accommodation, it was removed to Troy in 1821, the City appropriating $4,000 for the erection of a building. It was incorporated May 6, 1837, and received under the care of the Regents Jan. 30, 1838. It has been enlarged at several different times, and for many years has enjoyed a national reputation, receiving pupils from all parts of the United States.

The Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, located on Eighth Street, at the head of Broadway, was established in 1824 through the liberality of Stephen Van Rensselaer. The Institute embraces four separate courses of study, on completing which the student is entitled to an appropriate diploma. The curriculum embraces a course of Civil Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, Mining Engineering and Natural Science.

The Provincial Seminary is a theological institution under the control of the Roman Catholics. It is located upon the highlands which overlook the City, and occupies the spacious building and grounds formerly occupied by the Troy University. The main building is in the Byzantine style of architecture, 259 feet in length, with an average width of 58 feet, and four stories high.

St. Peter's College is also under the control of the Roman Catholics.

The Troy Hospital was incorporated March 1, 1851. It was founded chiefly through the exertions of Rev. P. Havermans and is controlled by the Roman Catholics. The nurses belong to the Sisters of Charity. A new building is in process of erection on Eighth Street, a portion of which is already completed.

The Marshall Infirmary for the insane is located a short distance from the business portion of the City. It was incorporated in 1851. The building and grounds, valued at $35,000, were donated by Benjamin Marshall, the founder.

The Troy Orphan Asylum was incorporated April 10, 1835.— It was originally located on Grand Division Street, but during the great fire of May 1862, it was burned, and afterwards rebuilt on Eighth Street, in the north part of the City. The Asylum is supported by donations and State appropriations.

St. Mary's Orphan Asylum is an institution connected with St. Mary's Church (Roman Catholic). The male department is under the charge of "The Brothers of the Christian Schools," and the female under that of the "Sisters of Charity."

The Warren Free Institute, a school for indigent female children, was incorporated March 19, 1846. It is located on Eighth Street, at the head of Grand Division. It was founded and endowed by the Warren family. The Protestant Episcopal Church of the Holy Cross is connected with the Institute.

The Troy Young Men's Association was organized December 22, 1834, with the following officers, viz: John T. McCoun, President; David L. Seymour, Henry Landon and Thomas Coleman, Vice Presidents; John T. Lamport, Recording Secretary; Giles B. Kellogg, Corresponding Secretary; and Charles E. Seymour, Treasurer. The first rooms occupied by the Association were at No. 197 River Street. The first annual meeting under the constitution was held February 16, 1835, at which time the Association numbered 450 members.—The Library at that time contained about 1,200 volumes, including 600 or 700 volumes loaned by the "Troy Library." The Association now occupy rooms in the Athenæum Building.

The Reading Room is furnished with the leading newspapers from all parts of the country, and the principal magazines, reviews, &c. The Library contains about 18,000 volumes. The Association sustain a course of lectures annually. In 1862 Mr. Wm. R. Yourt made the Association a bequest of $5,000, $3,000 of which were, by direction of his will, expended in books, under the direction of his executors, C. L. Alden and John Yourt. The remaining $2,000 were to be invested in good securities, the interest to be applied to making additions to the Alcove called after Mr. Yourt's name. In June 1868, Mr. G. M. Tibbits made the Association a present of a fine bronze statuette of Abraham Lincoln. It was obtained by Mr. T. in Munich, during his travels in Europe. It is a reduced copy of a larger one cast for the city of Chicago. It is about two feet eleven inches high, and standing upon a neat pedestal three and a half feet high, forms a very suitable ornament to the Library. We are indebted to the Librarian, Mr. F. H. Stevens, for the facts herein contained, as well as for the opportunity to consult the Library during the preparation of this work.

There are several cemeteries in and around Troy, the largest and finest of which is Oakwood, situated on an eminence overlooking Troy, Albany, Lansingburgh, Waterford and Cohoes. It lies chiefly in the town of Lansingburgh, contains many beautiful monuments, is laid out in good taste and kept in fine order. It is under the control of the Troy Cemetery Association.

Mount Ida, New Mount Ida and St. Mary's Cemeteries are located within the corporate limits of the City.

The Troy Water Works were built by the City in 1833-4, and have since been extended as the necessities of the City demanded. The water is drawn from Piscawin Creek, and the reservoir is of sufficient height to throw water to the top of most of the houses. The works are under the charge of Water Commissioners, and the rents are charged to property owners and collected with the taxes.

The Troy Union R. R. Co. is composed of persons representing the interests of the Hudson River and N. Y. Central, Troy and Boston, and Rensselaer and Saratoga Railroads. A Union Depot was erected in 1853-4, 400 by 150 feet, walls 27 feet high, and a roof composed of a single arch. It had a tower 110 feet high, and four complete suits of rooms and offices. This structure was burned in May 1862. A new building has been erected upon the same site and about the same size, though differing somewhat in style. It is located on Sixth Street, between Broadway and Fulton Streets.

The Troy Iron Works, of Messrs. Burden & Sons, located in the south part of the City, manufacture nails, railroad spikes, horse-shoes, merchant iron, &c. The Troy Iron and Nail Factory, incorporated in 1812, was the germ of the present extensive Works. Mr. Henry Burden became agent and manager of the Works in 1821, which at that time consisted of a small wooden building, containing two water-wheels attached to a single pair of rollers for manufacturing nail and spike rods, and a few machines for making nails. Mr. Burden was an ingenious mechanic, and set about inventing and improving labor-saving machines, the result of which is some of the most important inventions of the age. The upper works consist of the main building, containing the forge and rolling mill, and is 400 by 75 feet, built against the perpendicular face of the rock which forms the bank of the ravine. A stone structure, 46 by 130 feet, contains the horse-shoe machines, while attached are other buildings containing the spike and rivet factory, punching shop, foundry, machine shop, &c. These works are driven by an immense over-shot wheel, sixty feet in diameter and twenty-two feet in length, with buckets six feet four inches in depth, equal to 1000 horse power. A single spike machine turns out 45 railroad spikes per minute. Twenty puddling furnaces are also in the room. The machines for making horse-shoes turn out sixty shoes each per minute. The nail holes are punched by another machine. Some idea of the immense business in this department may be had from the fact that during four years ending with 1868 the Burden Works manufactured in round numbers twenty-five thousand tons of horse-shoes, or, at one and a half pounds per shoe, over thirty-three millions of shoes. The merchant iron from this establishment is of a superior quality. The "Steam Works" of Messrs. Burden & Sons were commenced about 1862, and consist of blast-furnace, forge and rolling mills. They are located between the railroad and the Hudson River, on land that has been raised about eleven feet above the original level. The river has been dredged for about a mile and the navigation greatly improved. The Works give employment to about 1,500 workmen. The blast-furnaces have a capacity of about 75 tons per day.

Albany Iron Works, owned by Erastus Corning and Erastus Corning, Jr., are located on the Wynants Kil, in the immediate vicinity of the Burden Works. In 1809 John Brinkerhoff, of Albany, erected a small foundry and rolling mill for converting Swede and Russia iron bars into plates. These plates were subsequently partially cut into nails, the nails being headed by hand. Brinkerhoff transferred these Works to Corning, Winslow & Co., who enlarged and run them for several years. The production in 1835 was six and a half tons per day. The Works assumed their present name in 1837. The Works are designated as the "Water Mill," "Steam Mill" and "Star Forge." The first puddling was done in 1838. There are now thirty-four puddling furnaces. The manufactures consist of merchant iron, railroad chairs, car axles, rivets, spikes, nails, horse-shoes, &c. About 750 hands are employed, at an expense of $250,000 per year. The value of the merchant iron, railway car axles, chairs, &c., made annually, is about $1,750,000; value of rivets, spikes, &c., $400,000; nails $40,000; horse-shoes $40,000. The patent solid lip railroad chairs were invented here and have had an immense sale.

Rensselaer Iron Works were started in 1846 by Le Grand Cannon and his son Le Grand D. Cannon, and Peter A. Burden, with a capital of $100,000. The Works were subsequently greatly enlarged and the company re-organized. The present proprietors are John A. Griswold, Erastus Corning, Erastus

Corning, Jr., and Chester Griswold. They manufacture railroad iron, merchant iron and steel, car axles, &c., and give employment to between 500 and 600 hands. They have blast-furnaces at Hudson and Fort Edward. The annual product is valued at about $2,500,000.

Bessemer Steel Works are owned and operated by the same company.

The Manufactory of Civil Engineers' and Surveyors' Instruments, by W. & L. E. Gurley, is one of the largest in the country, and their instruments have no superior in the State.

The Chain Works of J. B. Carr & Co., located in the upper part of the City, have been erected within the last few years and form an important item in the manufactures of the City.

The Paper and Linen Collar Manufactories are numerous and extensive, giving employment to a large number of persons.

In 1720 Derick Vanderheyden obtained from Van Rensselaer, the proprietor of Rensselaerwyck, the title to 490 acres of land lying between the Poesten Kil and Meadow Creek, and embracing the original allotments of Troy, paying an annual rent of three bushels and three pecks of wheat, and four fat fowls. This land was possessed by the grantee and his descendants, and portions of it were cultivated as a farm. It attracted but little attention until after the Revolution, when a few New Englanders persuaded the Dutch proprietors to lay out a portion of it into lots. About 1786, when the Yankees made their appearance, there were three ancient brick dwellings within the present limits of the City. The most northern of these houses stood between Hoosick and Vanderheyden Streets, and a short distance east of River Street. It was occupied by Jacob I. Vanderheyden, grand-son of the original lessee, and familiarly known as "Big Jacob." Jacob D. Vanderheyden, the proprietor of the middle farm, situated between Division and Grand Division Streets, occupied a residence at the south-west corner of Eighth and Grand Division Streets. He died in 1809, leaving several sons, one of whom built and occupied as a residence what is now the International Hotel, corner of River and Ferry Streets. The last was the residence of Matthias Vanderheyden, and is still standing at the south-east corner of Division and River Streets. From 1786 to 1790 the place was known by various names, as Ferry Hook, Vanderheyden's Ferry and Ashley's Ferry.

Stephen Ashley and Benjamin Covell were the earliest settlers under the Vanderheydens. They came in about 1786, and

Mr. Ashley opened a tavern in the old farm house at the corner of Division and River Streets. Among the other early settlers were Dr. Samuel Gale, Ephraim Morgan, John Boardman, Benjamin Smith, Philip Heartt, Anthony Goodspeed, Mahlon Taylor, Ebenezer Wilson and Samuel Wilson.

In 1788 Elkanah Watson visited the place, passing from Schenectady, across a thickly settled country, embracing many fine farms, to "Ashley's Ferry," six miles above Albany. He says: "On the east side of the river, at this point, a new town has recently been laid out, named Vanderheyden, at the head of navigation. Several bold and enterprising adventurers have already settled here, and a number of capacious warehouses and several dwellings have already been erected." "It bids fair to be a serious thorn in the side of New City, but in the issue a fatal rival." New City was the name by which Lansingburgh was called at that time.

In the spring of 1789 the place contained five small stores and about a dozen dwellings. By vote of the freeholders the village received the name of Troy, Jan. 5, 1789. On the organization of Rensselaer County in 1791, a spirited contest was carried on between Troy and Lansingburgh for the location of the County Buildings.

Dr. Samuel Gale came to Troy in 1787, from Killingworth, Conn. His family, consisting of a wife, a daughter and four sons, together with his furniture, medicines, &c., were placed on board a sloop, in August of this year, with the intention of settling in New City. Owing to adverse winds, he was three weeks in making the passage to Troy. Through the influence of J. D. Vanderheyden, who kindly offered him the use of half his own house until he could be otherwise provided for, he was induced to settle in Troy. He immediately commenced the erection of a double frame house on the west side of River Street, below Ferry, where he lived until his death in 1799. His sons, Benjamin, John, Samuel and William, were among the early merchants. Samuel Gale was post master from 1804 to 1828.

The post office was established in 1793 or 1794, and John Woodworth was the first post master, holding the office until 1800, when he was succeeded by David Buel. For several years Troy was a general depot for all mail matter throughout an extensive region of country, north, east and west. Letters were carried to distant places by the newspaper post-riders, before mail routes and post offices were established. The publishers of the Albany Gazette established a line to Niagara and delivered letters free of expense, through their post-riders, to all places on their route where there were no post offices. These riders traveled on horseback, and when the business was not sufficient to pay, subscriptions were sometimes raised for the purpose. The following is a copy of a post-rider's advertisement in the Northern Budget. We regret that we cannot give a fac-simile of the cut at its head:

“News! News! Aaron Oliver, Post-Rider, wishes to inform the public that he has extended his route and that he now rides through the towns of Troy, Pittstown, Hoosick, Mapleton, part of Bennington and Shaftsbury, Petersburg, Stephentown, Greenbush and Schodack. All commands in his line will be received with thanks and executed with punctuality. He returns his sincere thanks to his former customers and intends by unabated diligence to merit a continuance of their favors.”

“O'er rugged hills and valleys wide,
He never yet has failed to trudge it;
As steady as the flowing tide,
He hands about the Northern Budget.”

“June 18, 1799.”

During the first ten years after Troy had a name among the places of the earth, mills were erected and a considerable trade in lumber, pot and pearlshes was carried on with the towns at the north, and in Vermont. Mahlon Taylor erected a flouring mill on the Poesten Kil; another was erected soon after, near Ida Falls, by Moses Vail; and a third near the mouth of Wynants Kil, by Mr. Witbeck. Quite a number of stores were erected on River Street, between Broadway and Ferry Streets. The first brick dwelling erected after the commencement of the village, was by James Spencer, in 1795, on what is now Washington Square. In 1799 four brick dwellings were erected, viz., No. 31 First, and 20 and 22 Second Street, and one at the corner of River and Washington Streets. In 1794 the population was estimated at from 400 to 500, and at the close of the century it amounted to 1,100 or 1,200, most of the dwellings being on First and Second Streets, and the stores on River. One of the stores on River Street was built and occupied by Abraham Ten Eyck, Albert Pawling and Conrad J. Elmendorf. Isaac Merritt occupied a store on the west side of River Street, near the site of the Troy House.

Col. Albert Pawling was a native of Dutchess or Ulster Co., and son of Col. Levi Pawling, an efficient officer of the Revolution. He joined the army in 1775 as Second Lieutenant in a regiment commanded by Col. James Clinton, and went to Canada. He served under Montgomery and returned in 1776 with that unsuccessful expedition. He was appointed Brigade Major in 1786, under General George Clinton, and served until 1777, when he was promoted to be Major of one of the sixteen additional regiments commanded by Col. William Malcom. He resigned, notwithstanding the following letter from Washington, the original of which is in the Library of the Troy Young Men's Association:

"Head Quarters Middlebrook, }
2d March 1779. }

"Sir,

In your letter of the 25th ult. you seem to have misconceived the intention of Congress, upon which is founded your application for leave to resign. It is not their purpose to reduce Col. Malcom's regiment. This will be incorporated with Col. Spencer's, and as you are the only Major in the two regiments, of course you will be continued. After considering the just claims which the country has on good officers I am persuaded you will suspend your application.

I am Sir,
Your most h'ble serv't,

GEO. WASHINGTON."

"Major Pawling."

It is stated that Col. Pawling was a Colonel of a regiment of Swiss, raised for the defense of the frontiers of New York, in which he served till the close of the war.

The Warren family came to Troy from Connecticut at an early day and entered into mercantile business. Esaias, Nathan and Stephen occupied a store on River Street, and were engaged in the produce and carrying trade to New York.—Esaias was the first President of the Troy Bank. The McCoun family came in 1793 or '94; their store was nearly opposite the Mansion House. Philip Heartt was at an early day connected in business with Benjamin Smith and Joseph Russel. Stephen Ashley kept an inn for two or three years at the place where he first located, corner of River and Division Streets. He afterwards removed to the corner of Ferry and River, to what was known afterwards as Babcock's Tavern. His sign had painted upon it a portrait of Washington in the center, and the words "Why here is Ashley's," surrounding the portrait. Jeremiah Prince opened a tavern near the Ferry in 1793. His son succeeded him for many years. Howard Moulton kept a tavern on the site of the Female Seminary.

From copies of the Northern Budget published from 1805 to 1808, we have been able to learn the names and business of many of the prominent business men. Among the advertisements we find the following, dated June 11, 1805 :

“John E. Wool is just opening for sale a fresh and elegant assortment of fashionable Dry Goods.” After enumerating a large number of articles, he adds, “likewise a good assortment of Groceries.” “Said Wool assures his customers and the public that the above goods (with a very few exceptions) will be sold as low as they can be purchased in the city of New York for ready pay.”

E. Warren & Co. advertise “100 barrels of Connecticut River Shad this day landing and for sale.” The same firm also advertise “25 hhd's of St. Croix, Jamaica and Antigua Rum.”— Jones, Smith & Co. advertise “Crockery, Glass and China Ware,” saying that they have taken part of the store occupied by Heartt & Smith. Thoral Kilborn and Nehemiah Smith advertise Merchant Tailoring establishments. The paper contained a good assortment of news, though some of it would be regarded as rather old in these days of telegraphs and railroads. The paper of June 11th contained the account of the organization of the Massachusetts Legislature, which occurred May 29th. Hon. Harrison Gray Otis was elected President of the Senate, and Timothy Bigelow Speaker of the House of Representatives.— The publishers of the Budget, Messrs. Moffitt & Lyon, call attention to the fact that they have recently “procured a new and very expensive set of types from the celebrated foundry of Dr. Winslow, Glasgow.” They also call the attention of their delinquent subscribers in the following manner, viz: “Unless certain small strips of paper current at the banks are speedily enclosed to us, or other means of payment provided, all who are one year in arrears will have their paper discontinued in the course of a few weeks.” Elam Lynds offers ten dollars for a runaway apprentice to the hatting business. John Diefendorf and George Dunckel offer a reward of $80 for two runaway negroes, or $40 for either of them. The Fourth of July was duly celebrated, the utmost harmony, hilarity and good order prevailing throughout the day. An oration was delivered in the Presbyterian Church, by J. L. Billings, “satisfying the most sanguine expectations of his audience.” Among the toasts we select the following as indicating the political proclivities of the times :

“Our Sister State, New Hampshire—emerged from a long night of darkness, having burst asunder the Liliputian ties with which Federalism had bound her in her first slumbers.”

"Massachusetts—she will shortly become a firm pillar in the Republic. Her triumph, though slow, is sure."

"Connecticut—struggling against the Union of Church and State, her accession to the Republican ranks, though last will not be least."

Jonathan Huntington advertises a singing school at the White School House, a few rods south-east of the Court House, from six to nine o'clock on Thursday and Saturday evenings.

December 3, 1805, Moses Craft advertises a House of Entertainment at the north end of the village, where he keeps the best of hay and stabling for thirty span of horses, and has a good yard for wagons and a store room for goods. He also kept a "Register Book" of goods to be carried into the country.

Charles H. Wetmore advertises that he will open a school on "Monday, Jan. 6, 1806, in the chamber of the house now occupied by Capt. Webb, nearly opposite Mr. E. Pennimen's, in which will be taught, reading, writing, arithmetic, grammar and Latin and Greek. The utmost attention will be paid to the morals of the scholars."

Platt Titus advertises that the Troy & Albany stage runs twice a day, leaving his tavern at the upper end of First Street at 8 A. M. and 2 P. M.

May 10, 1808, Daniel T. Wandell notifies the public that he has invented machinery for ferrying, which in the worst weather will propel a scow across the river in six minutes without hand labor and with perfect safety. He says he has applied for a patent but does not describe his machinery.

The following extract from the journal of Mr. John Lambert, an Englishman, who was traveling from Montreal to New York in 1807, gives some idea of the appearance of Troy at that time:

"Troy is a well built town consisting chiefly of one street of handsome red brick houses, upwards of a mile and a half in length. There are two or three short streets which branch off from the main one, but it is in the latter that all the principal stores, warehouses and shops are situated. It also contains several excellent inns or taverns. The houses which are all new, are lofty and built with much taste and simplicity, though convenience and accommodation seem to have guided the architect more than ornament. The deep red brick, well pointed, gives the buildings an air of neatness and cleanliness seldom met with in old towns, but I cannot say that I admire it so much as the yellow brick of England. Troy has been erected within the last twenty years and is now a place of considerable importance. The trade which it has opened with the new settlements to the northward through the States of New York and Vermont as far as Canada is very extensive, and in another twenty years it promises to rival the old established city of Albany. Its prosperity is indeed already looked upon with an eye of jealousy by the people of the latter place."

From Troy he went to Albany by stage, intending to take the steamboat for New York, but the river was closed by ice, and navigation suspended. He says: "We were much disappointed at this news as we were very desirous of seeing the construction and management of this celebrated vessel which travels at the rate of five miles an hour against wind and tide. It was built about four years ago under the direction of Mr. Fulton, an American gentleman of great mechanical abilities. The length of the boat is 160 feet and her breadth in proportion so as not too much to impede her sailing. The machine which moves her wheels is called a twenty-horse machine or equal to the power of so many horses, and is kept in motion by steam from a copper boiler eight or ten feet in length. The wheels on each side are similar to water wheels and under cover; they are moved backwards and forwards, separately or together at pleasure." "Her route is between New York and Albany, a distance of 160 miles, which she performs regularly twice a week, sometimes in the short space of thirty-two hours, exclusive of detention by taking in and landing passengers. She carries 100 to 120 people. Fare $7.00."

Quite a contrast between this boat and those now running upon the same route.

Several destructive land slides have occurred in Troy. The first one worthy of note occurred January 1, 1837. A large mass of the clayey earth from the hill east of the head of Washington Street, and extending for some distance each way, slid rapidly down, overwhelming everything in its course, covering several acres of ground and accompanied by a torrent of water. The mass carried with it two stables and three dwellings, crushing them into a thousand pieces. The stables and horses were moved over two hundred feet, into a hollow on the corner of Washington and Fourth Streets. A brick kiln was also destroyed by the avalanche. One of the dwellings was unoccupied, another occupied by Mr. John Grace, wife and little boy. The parents were both killed but the boy escaped. Mrs. Leavensworth and her children occupied another of the houses; she was so badly injured that she survived but a short time. Her two children were crushed to a jelly. There were 22 horses in the stables, sixteen of which were killed. The earth was piled up in the street from ten to forty feet deep. An article in the Troy Budget of Jan. 2, says: "The scene that presented itself in the early part of the evening was awful in the highest degree. The horrors of an earthquake could not have presented a more dreadful spectacle." Another slide occurred Feb. 17, 1843, and was still more destructive to life and property. Between thirty and forty persons were killed and ten dwellings were destroyed. The slide began about one hundred yards east of Fifth Street, destroyed two houses on the east side of the street and passed Washington to Hill, destroying the dwellings on both sides. The earth moved over a space of more than 500 feet after reaching the level ground. The width of the slide was from two to three hundred yards, covering an area of several acres. On the 21st of the same month another slide occurred about equal to the first. This occurred in the day time, and moved so slowly that there was no difficulty in avoiding its path.

Troy has several times been scourged by destructive fires.— On the 20th of June, 1820, a fire broke out in a shed near First Street and consumed the wealthiest portion of the City. The buildings on both sides of River Street, from a point opposite the Troy House to a point within a hundred feet of Congress, were entirely destroyed; also the west side of First, from the third door above Congress, to River Street. The loss was estimated at $370,000. On the 25th of August 1854, another destructive fire occurred, destroying property to the amount of $1,000,000. The most destructive fire occurred on the 10th of May, 1862. It occurred at mid-day and commenced in the Railroad Bridge. The wind was blowing violently from the north-west, and thousands of burning shingles and other light materials were scattered before the wind, causing the fire to spread in a fearful manner. The Fire Department were powerless to stay its progress and at one time it seemed that all the central and south-eastern portion of the City was doomed.— More than one-fourth of the business portion of the City was burned and between 50 and 60 acres were covered with smouldering ruins at sunset, of that memorable day. Several lives were lost and 671 buildings were burned. The loss was estimated at $3,000,000. Three churches, several hotels, the Polytechnic Institute, the Troy Academy, Orphan Asylum and the Union Depot were burned.

The early settlers of Troy were religious men, and public worship was held when the inhabitants were but few. The first services were held in a store, and afterwards a school house was their place of worship, where the people were called together by the sound of a conch-shell. Sermons were read by Dr. Gale or Col. Pawling. In 1791 the frame for a house of worship was erected, and the next year it was inclosed and soon after occupied. This was the first edifice of the First Presbyterian Church. Rev. Jonas Coe was the first pastor, officiating several years at Troy and Lansingburgh on alternate Sabbaths. He was ordained and installed June 25, 1793. He resided at Lansingburgh during the early years of his ministry, but about 1802 he removed to Troy. After holding the united charge for nearly eleven years, the two congregations were dissolved and Mr. Coe continued pastor of the Church in Troy, until his death in 1822. He was succeeded by Rev. Dr. Beeman, whose successor was Rev. M. R. Vincent, the present pastor.

During the latter part of the last century the currency of the country was specie, and the weekly collections in the churches were so small, on account of the scarcity of small change, that the First Presbyterian Church of Albany passed a resolution, Jan. 4, 1790, "That one thousand coppers be stamped, Church Penny, and placed in the hands of the Treasurer for the purpose of exchanging with the members of the congregation at the rate of twelve for one shilling, in order to add respect to the weekly collections." It is probable that the same necessity gave rise to paper money, which was issued by the First Presbyterian Church of Troy in 1792. The following is the form in which their church scrip was issued :

"Two Pence.

"By order of the Trustees of the Presbyterian Congregation in Troy, I promise to pay the bearer Two Pence on demand.

B. GORTON, Treasurer."

"August 28th, 1792."

St. John's Episcopal Church was erected in 1804.

The Baptist Church on Third Street was erected in 1805.

St. Jean Baptiste Church was organized in 1868 by Rev. Geo. Brown, with about 1500 members. A church edifice has been erected at a cost of $40,000, and capable of seating 900. The church belongs to the French Catholics of the City. Services are held in Latin and in French ; no English is spoken.

The State Street M. E. Church, the first of that denomination erected in the City, was built in 1807 and 1809. The first class was formed in 1801, Stephen Andress being a prominent member of the same. This class was broken up and scattered, one of its members finding a lodging in the State Prison. In 1804 John Wright removed to Troy, and on inquiring if there were any Methodists there, was answered, "No, there were some but I believe they have all been sent to the State Prison." He however found a small number worshipping in a private house. It is not known at what time the class was reorganized, but Benjamin Betts, who died in 1804 or 1805, was a member, as was also Caleb Curtis. Andress, Betts and Curtis were among the first members. As already stated their first house of worship was erected on State Street and accommodated all the members for twenty years. Troy first appears as an appointment in 1810, when Dr. Phoebus was the preacher. In 1813 Laban Clark, and in 1815, Tobias Spicer were the preachers. The charge at that time included Troy, Albia, West Troy, Lansingburgh and Brunswick, the entire membership being 107. At the close of Mr. Spicer's term of service he reported 250 members. In 1827 a new church was erected on State Street and has been occupied until the present time. A fine stone church is now in process of erection near the site of the old one, estimated to cost $60,000.

North Second Street M. E. Church was erected in 1835.

Congress Street Church in 1848.

The Farmers' Bank of Troy was incorporated in 1801. The charter extended to 1811 and provided that the capital stock should consist of five thousand shares of $50 each, and the whole amount of property to be held by the Bank was limited to $300,000. The Directors were to be selected from the following towns, viz., two from Waterford, five from Lansingburgh and six from Troy. The first Directors were Guest Van Schoonhover and Samuel Stewart, from Waterford ; Elijah Janes, Charles Selden, John D. Dickinson, James Hickok and William Bradley, from Lansingburgh ; John Woodworth, Daniel Merritt, Benjamin Tibbitts, Christopher Hutton, Townsend McCoun and Ephraim Morgan, of Troy. The charter provided that the buildings should be erected near the road leading from Troy to Lansingburgh, not further north than Mill Creek, and not further south than the house of Joshua Raymond. John D. Dickinson was the first President, and Hugh Peebles, Cashier. The books were opened for subscriptions, May 13, 1801, and May 31, 1803, the Bank declared a dividend of four and a half per cent., although the whole stock had not been paid in. This was the first bank in Troy, where there are now fifteen, including four Savings Banks.

ELLIPTIC! ELLIPTIC! LOCK-STITCH SEWING MACHINES!

GOLD MEDALS!

Maryland Institute, 1866; American Institute, 1867.

HIGHEST PREMIUMS!

New York and Pennsylvania State Fairs, 1866.

The ELLIPTIC SEWING MACHINE is the most simple in construction, having fewer parts, rendering it easier of management and requiring less power to work it than any other Machine. It is noiseless in its operation, and will wear a lifetime without any repairs. Good Agents Wanted in Every Town. Send for Circulars and specimens of work.

FINE SHIRTS!

TO ORDER

At Manufacturers' Prices.

W. F. TAYLOR,

BERLIN, N. Y.,

Having been extensively engaged in manufacturing FINE SHIRTS for the wholesale trade, for the past fourteen years, has now opened a Custom Department, and is prepared to fill orders at short notice. All orders cut by the latest improved patterns and double stitched throughout; warranted to be in every way satisfactory or they may be returned and the money refunded. Made from New York Mills and Wamsutta Muslin and French Linen, at prices from $6 to $12 less than charged by retail dealers. I beg to call attention to the superior quality of French Linen now used by me—warranted to wear longer than the best Muslin; also to the superior workmanship on all my Custom Shirts. Printed directions for self-measurement furnished on application. Persons sending their orders as per directions will have them filled at my risk; or, I will call on residents of Troy and vicinity, and take their measure if requested. Sent C. O. D. or on 30 days, with satisfactory reference. Address, W. F. TAYLOR, Berlin, N. Y.

A BOARDING SCHOOL

For Young Ladies and Gentlemen,

WAS FOUNDED IN 1838,

And has enjoyed an almost unsurpassed reputation for thorough discipline, scholarship and culture.

Every advantage is offered for the pursuit of the Languages, English Branches, Vocal and Instrumental Music, and all at lower prices than at most Institutions.

The Institute, as the name indicates, is situated in a retired and romantic part of the town, consequently the diversions from study are few.

It is fifteen miles from Albany, and easy of access, being located between Albany and Lebanon Springs; the Stages pass from Albany daily, and the Brainerd Depot is only one mile distant.

The general healthfulness of the School during its long course of years, has been remarkable; cases of sickness are rare.

Extensive improvements have been made in the buildings, and everything that could be desired has been done for the comfort and happiness of the pupil.

FASHIONABLE GOODS!

MADE TO ORDER, IN FIRST CLASS STYLE, BY

E. S. RANDALL,

22 Third Street, - TROY, N. Y.

To gentlemen of taste and judgment, there is nothing more pleasing nor really more necessary to their daily comfort, than dress that fits well, looks well, and wears well.— Fashion decrees this, and as taste and elegance are her handmaids, the nearer gentlemen's dress approaches the standard fashions of the day, so much more is it held in the estimation of those who appreciate a good personal appearance.

THE NEW AND SUPERB

SPECIMENS OF

Custom and Ready-Made CLOTHING

Designed and making to Order

THE PRESENT SEASON,

OLD ESTABLISHED
TROY BELL FOUNDRY!

Church Bells, Chimes.

PAIRS OF BELLS.

JONES & CO., - Proprietors,
 Corner Adams and First Streets, Troy, N. Y.,

Continue to manufacture those Bells (which have made Troy celebrated throughout the world, and which have been made at this establishment during the past seventeen years,) of all sizes, for Churches, Factories, Academies, Steamboats, Plantations, Locomotives, &c., made of genuine bell metal, (Copper and Tin,) hung with HILDRETH'S ROTARY YOKE, the best and most durable ever used. Wheel, Frame, Tolling Hammer, etc., all complete.

THIRTY, FIRST PREMIUMS—GOLD, SILVER AND BRONZE MEDALS—and over one thousand unsolicited Letters of commendation have been received.

Written guaranty with every Bell, to PROVE SATISFACTORY or be returned and exchanged. Illustrated Catalogues sent free on application to

JONES & CO., Troy, N. Y.

NOTE.—The City of Troy, having become celebrated for its Bells, has led some manufacturers at other places, to claim that they made their reputation. This, though entirely untrue, we accept as a most emphatic indorsement of our Bells by our competitors. THERE IS NO OTHER BELL FOUNDRY AT TROY BUT OURS; and while we are glad to please our rivals by our superior work, we do not know why any reference should be made to it by them, unless to gain SOME ADVANTAGE from the superiority of our Bells.

PUBLISHER'S NOTICES.

Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine.—A Sewing Machine in the family is not a foolish toy, but a really useful worker. It will save the time and health of ten women and do the work much easier and better. The Wheeler & Wilson Machine has secured and justly maintains a high reputation for sewing all kinds of material, and is a marvel of beauty in model and finish. It works equally well upon Silk, Linen, Cotton or Woolen goods, and does its work with a strength and beauty superior to any hand work.

The Scientific American says that "in point of effective work it is without a rival." The Editor of the New York Evangelist, says: "In our family we use one of Wheeler & Wilson's Sewing Machines, and cannot imagine anything more perfect. It is very beautiful, simple in its construction, easily managed, not liable to get out of order, has a quiet movement and will do the work of a dozen female hands." The proprietors claim that the "Wheeler & Wilson Machine makes the only stitch that answers precisely the conditions required. It cannot be raveled or ripped, and forms a seam alike on both sides of the fabric, served with greater economy of thread, more firm, durable and beautiful than hand sewing. It stands the wear and tear of constant use better than any other machine, and will last a lifetime. For manufacturing purposes it is unequalled, and is the only machine that will stand the severe test of steam power as applied by the collar and shirt business of the city of Troy and vicinity." Andrew Aird & Bros., 380 River St., np stairs, Troy, N. Y., are the agents. Their card may be found on the Map of the County, accompanying this work.

W. & L. E. Gurley, manufacturers of Civil Engineers' and Surveyors' Instruments, 514 Fulton St., Troy, N. Y., publish a finely illustrated advertisement on page 226. This is one of the largest as well as one of the best establishments of the kind in the United States. Their Instruments are used throughout the country. Their stock of Drawing Instruments, Paper, and all kinds of Engineers' Stationery, is large and well selected. Let all interested call and examine for themselves.

George Hahn, custom Boot Maker, No. 49 State St., Troy, N. Y., publishes a card on page 228. We call the attention of those who want good substantial work to Mr. Hahn's shop, where they can order any style and have it made up to their taste, and of the best materials. Give him a call.

S. Cooper & Son, dealers in Flour, Grain, Groceries and Provisions, No. 133 Congress Street, Troy, N. Y., publish a card on page 188. The best brands of flour are always on hand and the highest market price will be paid for all sorts of country produce. Let those interested call and see.

W. F. Taylor, manufacturer of Fine Shirts, Berlin, N. Y., advertises on page 224. We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to this advertisement, as Mr. T. is one of the oldest and largest Shirt manufacturers in this County. He did not engage in the manufacture of custom work until forced to do so by the repeated solicitation of business men in Troy and vicinity. Among his prominent customers may be named James Hendrick, President of Hope Bank, Albany; John H. Flagg, Legislative Clerk, U. S. Senate; Hon. H. D. Barron, 5th Auditor, U. S. Treasury; Thomas Coleman, President First National Bank, Troy, and many others who assure us that they are well satisfied with the quality, finish and price of his goods. He sells from 6 to 12 dollars per dozen less than retail dealers. Mr. T. uses over 100 Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machines, some of which are driven by a caloric engine. He employs none but the best of operators, and turns out from 100 to 200 dozen per week.

The Troy Daily Whig, is one of the oldest newspapers in the County, and the only morning paper in this part of the State, north of Albany. Its advantages to the business and reading portion of the community are duly set forth in an advertisement on page 184. The weekly edition is a valuable family paper. The Book and Job Printing department is furnished with all the facilities for doing first-class work. By calling at 219 River Street, Troy, A. W. Scribner & Co. will furnish you with any desirable specimens of their work.

Mansion House, corner of Broadway and Second Streets, Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 172. This popular hotel occupies a central location, near the Depot and the Steamboat Landing, and under the management of the present proprietor, Mr. J. W. Stearns, furnishes accommodations second to none in the city. The table is always supplied with the best the market affords, and everything that can be done by active and efficient employes, is done to make the traveler feel at home. The office is on the ground floor, on the corner, and is very nicely fitted up. We commend this House to the patronage of our readers.

Sylvester Smith, Veterinary Surgeon, Nassau, N. Y., advertises on page 220. He is prepared to treat all diseases of Horses or Cattle in a scientific manner. He thoroughly understands his profession and will attend to all calls. Let those interested give him a trial.

R. H. Starbuck, Druggist and Apothecary, No. 18 Third Street, Troy, N. Y., has on hand a fine stock of Drugs, Medicines, Fancy Articles, and everything usually kept in a first-class store. Great care taken in filling the prescriptions of Physicians. See card on page 196.

Griswold Opera House, No. 12 Third Street, Troy, N. Y., is advertised on page 192. It is fitted up in good style and offers superior advantages for all Dramatic performances. William D. VanArnum is the proprietor. He erected the House in 1862 and has run it successfully since that time, securing the services of some of the most brilliant Stars the country affords. The House will seat 1500 persons.

Charles F. Lucas, Confectioner and proprietor of the Ladies' Restaurant, No. 12 Broadway, Troy, publishes a card on page 176. Persons wishing to indulge in any of the luxuries of the season will find this an admirable place to supply their wants. Mr. Lucas will furnish, at short notice, refreshments for parties or individuals, in the best style. Give him a call.

N. Young, Custom Tailor, No. 459 Fulton Street, Troy, N. Y., is prepared to cut and make up to order garments of every description, in good style and in the most substantial manner. Gentlemen whose clothing has become somewhat worse for the wear, can have it cleaned and repaired so that it will look almost as well as new, by leaving it for a few days with Mr. Young. Those interested will find his advertisement on page 176.

Elliptic Lock Stitch Sewing Machine is advertised on page 180. The Sewing Machine has become an indispensable article of household furniture, and the only question with the ladies is, "what machine shall I buy?" This machine appears to possess some advantages over others and deserves an examination by those about to purchase. Simple in construction, and not liable to get out of repair; easy of management and noiseless in action, are some of the qualities which recommend it. Those interested will receive all needed information by calling on S. V. Trull, General Agent, No. 10 Mansion House Block, Broadway, Troy, N. Y. Mr. Trull is also agent for the celebrated Florence Reversible Feed Sewing Machines.

John McQuide, manufacturer and dealer in Monuments, Headstones &c., No. 117 State St., Lansingburgh, N. Y., advertises on page 168. We take pleasure in calling attention to the card of Mr. McQuide, who has had eighteen years experience in his business, and is prepared to do all kinds of work in his line with neatness and dispatch. Those who know him need no recommendation, and to others we say, he is a reliable man and a good workman, and we cordially solicit for him a share of patronage.

Dr. O. R. Young, Dentist, No. 24 Third St., Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 172. Dr. Young thoroughly understands his profession in all its departments and will perform all operations in the Surgical or Mechanical department in a manner that cannot fail to give satisfaction. Let none of our readers suffer from the toothache from a dread of having them extracted, when by the use of Nitrous Oxide Gas it can be done without pain.

The Transylvania Institute, advertised on page 232, was founded in 1838. It is located in a beautiful rural retreat, exempt from many of the influences that in larger places tend to divert the mind from the great object of school. The school was established for both sexes, and is one to which parents can send their sons and daughters with the assurance that their interests, intellectual and moral, will be duly cared for. For further particulars, we refer our readers to the advertisement of the Principal, H. V. Hicks.

Peter Brannan & Son, dealers in choice brands of Family Flour, Teas and Groceries of all kinds, 315 River Street, Troy, N. Y., publishes a card on page 137. Those who wish to purchase anything in this line will find a good assortment at Brannan & Son's, and prices as low as the times will allow. Farmers will here find a market for all kinds of country produce.

Phillips & Moore, manufacturers of Spokes, Eagle Mills, Rensselaer Co., N. Y., advertise on page 228. They also manufacture Cultivators, Plows and other Agricultural Implements. Their facilities for doing all kinds of straight turning are such as to merit the attention of all interested parties. Messrs. P. & M. pay the highest price for spokes in the rough. Carriage makers will do well to call on them.

George G. Kinney, manufacturer and dealer in Harness, Saddles, Collars, Whips, &c., South Berlin, Rensselaer Co., N. Y., publishes a card on page 220. A horse looks as much better well dressed as a man does, and we would recommend to those whose harnesses are getting old and rusty, to call on Kinney and have a good substantial and elegant harness, for he will surely have something to suit you.

H. & A. Kellogg, dealers in Staple and Fancy Dry Goods, Groceries, and all goods usually kept in a first-class country store, advertise on page 216. Messrs. Kellogg are located at Brainerd, and judging from the appearance of their store, they thoroughly understand the wants of the community and are determined that no one shall be compelled to go out of town for goods. We commend them to the patronage of all interested, feeling assured that they will find goods at as low prices as at any other store.

Nassau House, Nassau, Rensselaer Co., N. Y., under the proprietorship of Homer Kingman, offers good accommodations for travelers. Mr. K. knows how to please his customers and make them feel at home. Those who have occasion to stop in this town will find the Nassau House just the place to supply their wants. See card, page 220.

Charles Ulrich, dealer in Boots and Shoes, No. 186 River Street, Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 196. Those who want a nice easy fitting Boot will do well to order a pair of Ulrich. We know of no one who keeps better stock or who can make to order in a more durable or stylish manner than Ulrich. Call and see for yourselves.

Their stock of goods is large, and manufacturers and dealers will find it for their advantage to call on Heartt & Co. before making their purchases.

Union Marble Works, No. 108 Fifth Street, Troy, N. Y., is advertised by the proprietor, J. J. Young. His stock of Monuments, Headstones, Mantles &c., is large, and he is ready at all times to manufacture to order any desirable pattern, from the best material. Anything usually found at a first-class establishment can be purchased here at as reasonable a rate as at any place in the County. See advertisement on page 204.

A. Lynd, dealer in choice Family Groceries and Provisions, corner of Congress and Fourth Streets, Troy, N. Y., publishes a card on page 204. Mr. Lynd keeps a good supply of all articles in his line for family use, and sells at reasonable prices. Farmers will do well to bring their Pork, Poultry, Butter, Eggs &c., to him and receive the highest market price. Give him a call.

Thomas Fennessy, Fashionable Boot Maker, No. 2 Broadway, N. Y., is prepared to boot his customers in the most approved style. Those who have been corned by patronizing other dealers, will here find the easiest, best fitting and most stylish boots in the market. His finely displayed advertisement appears on page 208.

Job T. Willcox, Harness Maker and Proprietor of Livery Stable, Berlin, N. Y., is prepared to furnish Harnesses in every style, from the light buggy to the heavy harness for teams. Mr. W. selects good stock and knows how to make it up. He trims carriages, and keeps a Livery Stable well stocked and ever ready to answer the calls of his customers. See card on page 212.

The Improved Elias Howe Sewing Machine, advertised on page 188, has been before the public too long and its merits have been too well tested to need any recommendation from us. We refer our readers to the agents, John Tallmadge & Co., No. 342 River Street, Troy, N. Y.

Charles Howard, Silver Plater and Engraver, 451 Fulton Street, Troy, N. Y., is prepared to do a general business in Plating of all kinds. All kinds of table furniture Replated so as to look as well as new. We cordially commend him to the patronage of all who have any kind of work in this line, as his work is well done. He advertises on page 216.

Charles S. White, General Merchant, Hoag's Corners, Rensselaer Co., N. Y., has a store full of just such goods as are wanted in every family in the town, and is selling them at rates to astonish those who have not heard of the great reduction in prices. Cash or Country Produce taken in exchange for all goods. His card appears on page 220.

Taylor & Powell, dealers in Flour and Feed, Hoag's Corners, Rensselaer Co., N. Y., advertise on page 224. This firm is too well known and their goods too well appreciated to need any recommendation from us. We say to all, if you want a good article of Flour, Meal or Feed, call on Taylor & Powell and get the best the market affords. All orders promptly attended to.

H. O. Peters, dealer in Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes and Gents' Furnishing Goods, Hoosick Falls, N. Y., publishes a card on page 212. Let all who desire a good, sound understanding call and allow Peters to boot them; if they wish to cap the climax of their corporeal system with a good Hat, let them call on Peters; in short let all those who wish for anything in the Furnishing line call on Peters, one door south of Fowler's Brick Block, and have their wants supplied.

William H. Ostrander, Jobber and Builder, Bath, N. Y., publishes a card on colored page 2. He thoroughly understands his business and is competent to execute all kinds of work in his line, in the best manner. Mr. Ostrander employs none but the best of workmen and allows none but good work to leave his hands.—As an Architect he is equal to any in the County. We cordially recommend him to the patronage of all parties interested in building.

Andrew Sawyer, Druggist and Pharmaceutical Chemist, No. 348 River Street, Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 212. Mr. Sawyer is a native of Connecticut, and was brought up in one of the best regulated establishments to be found in New England, has had over twenty years experience in the business and is justly considered a Thorough-bred Apothecary.—Physicians' prescriptions and all other matters in his line cannot be placed in safer hands. Give him a call.

Troy Pottery, advertised on colored page 88, was established in 1809. Under the present proprietor, Walter J. Seymour, it is turning out Glazed Stone and Earthen Ware of all kinds, as well as Drain Tile, Water Pipe &c. J. L. Dodge, dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers, No. 366 River Street, Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 160. Mr. Dodge manufactures a Boot, that for ease and comfort is unsurpassed. Some Boots must be half worn out before they can be worn with ease, but this Patent Boot is the delight of all tender-footed persons. Every variety and style of Shoes for men, women and children are found at this store. Call and see.

Dater & Springer, dealers in Groceries and Provisions, Nos. 134, 136 and 138 Fifth Street, Troy, N. Y., advertise on page 316. They keep a good stock of Flour and Feed, and make it an object for people to give them a liberal patronage.

Charles Clark, Merchant Tailor, No. 246 State Street, Lansingburgh, N. Y., advertises on page 244. Mr. Clark keeps a good assortment of the most fashionable goods, which he makes up to order in the best manner. He is a reliable business man, and has by strict attention to business, gained an enviable reputation in this town. We commend him to the patronage of all who want good goods at fair prices.

Christopher Ebel, Hair Dresser, No. 70 Congress Street, Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 316. Mr. Ebel is prepared to give his customers a good easy shave, or cut and dress their hair in the most stylish manner. Call and give him a trial.

W. Rol Wells, Horse Shoer and Farrier, Franklin Street, Troy, N. Y., publishes a card on page 160. Thoroughly understanding the structure of a horse's foot, he is able to fit the shoe in such a manner as not to injure the foot or in any way interfere with the free and natural action of every part. There are so few good horse shoers that all interested will do well to patronize Mr. Wells.

Mrs. A. E. Woodard, Dress Maker, whose card appears on page 168, has a thorough knowledge of the business, and from her long experience is able to give the most perfect satisfaction to all her patrons. Those interested will find her at corner Congress and Fourth Streets, to which location she has removed since printing her advertisement. Give her a call.

J. A. Dorrance's Boot and Shoe Emporium, No. 368 River St., Troy, N. Y., is advertised on page 138. Mr. Dorrance keeps a good assortment of Ladies' and Gents' Boots of the latest styles, and will make to order any kind desired. If you want an easy fitting Boot that will not raise corns, just call and leave your measure and by so doing consult your own interest as well as that of Mr. Dorrance.

The Grover & Baker Sewing Machine, advertised on page 70, has been before the public too long to need any recommendation from us. Its merits need only to be known to be appreciated. While it does all kinds of work well, it is especially adapted to embroidery and to all work where it is desirable that the seam should be the same on both sides. The Office and Sales Room of the Company is at No. 404 Fulton street, Troy, N. Y.

Webster's Deflecting and Center-Draft Hot-Air Furnace appears to answer all the conditions for heating Dwellings, Halls, Churches &c., better than any other now in use. It is easily managed, free from dust and gas, and requires a less amount of fuel than other furnaces to produce the same amount of heat. No water evaporator is used and the fresh air is introduced and conveyed to the apartments to be heated, without being deprived of its vitality. Judging from the recommendations of those who have used this furnace, it is worthy of the attention of all who contemplate purchasing a heating apparatus for public or private buildings. It is manufactured and sold by M. L. Filley, No. 287 River Street, Troy, N. Y. See advertisement on page 324.

Robert Keith, manufacturer and dealer in Trunks, Valises and Hat Cases, No. 338 River Street and No. 13 Fourth Street, up stairs, Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 332. This is one of the largest establishments north of New York City, and dealers will find no better place to purchase than at Keith's. Those who wish for anything in this line will find it for their advantage to read his advertisement before purchasing. All kinds of repairing done in the best manner.

The Washington Manufacturing Co., of Troy, advertised on page 296, is one of the most extensive establishments in the city for the manufacture of Paper Collars and Cuffs. The building occupied is a fine brick structure, 175 by 25 feet, and three stories high. About 150 operatives, most of whom are females, are employed in the various departments. About 2,500 pounds of paper are used daily, making over 100,000 Collars and Cuffs. The works were established in 1862, and are now carried on by Messrs. Browns & Field, who have been very successful in this branch of manufacturing. The work is chiefly performed by machinery, some of the most important of which was invented by Mr. Charles R. Brown, the senior member of the firm. They make all desirable styles, and of a quality that for durability and finish is unsurpassed. These Collars so closely resemble linen that it is only by close examination that the difference can be detected. The button holes are strengthened by cloth, and the other material of the Collars is so strong that for all practical purposes they are equal to linen, while the cost is less than that of washing linen. Dealers and others will find it for their advantage to call on this Company. The office is at 191 First Street, Troy, N. Y.

Steam Marble Works, corner of North Second and Federal Streets, Troy, N. Y. Peter Grant, the proprietor of these Works, deals extensively in Italian and American Marble, Red, White and Blue Granite, and other materials employed for Monumental and Architectural purposes. The beautiful Red Scotch Granite, so much admired for many purposes, is imported by him and furnished at greatly reduced prices. Designs of the most exquisite and elaborate character can be seen at his office, and parties wishing for anything in this line will find the prices as well as the designs satisfactory. He has a practical experience of more than twenty-five years in the business, and has produced some of the finest specimens of artistic skill to be found in the country. Among the most noted of these works is the monument erected to the memory of Charlotte Canda, and pointed out to all visitors of Greenwood Cemetery, (she was a young lady of rare beauty and accomplishments, who was killed by being thrown from a carriage while returning from an evening party on her seventeenth birth-day.) Mr. Grant was at that time with Fisher & Bird of New York, the manufacturers of this celebrated piece of workmanship, and had charge of the work from the commencement until the completion of the same, a period of about two and one half years, a large part of the work being from his own chisel. He was subsequently a member of the firm of Fisher, Bird & Co., for five years, having removed to Troy in 1859, and to his present new and extensive works about three years ago, employing a large number of men in the various departments of the business. His advertisement appears on page 2.

C. S. Sill, dealer in Cloaks, Shawls &c., 10 and 12 second story, Broadway, N. Y., advertises on page 236. There has probably never been a time since our mother Eve first made a garment of fig leaves, that the ladies have paid so much attention to dress as at the present time. Say what we may about the folly of extravagant display, no one can help admiring the taste displayed in the beautiful dresses of the present day. It is vain to attempt to describe the endless variety of trimming, draping and looping of the dresses seen in the streets every day, and to estimate the cost would require a skillful mathematician.— But the great question with the ladies is, "where can I procure the most stylish suit?" The answer is found by calling at Sills', second story of 10 and 12 Broadway, where they will find some of the richest and most fashionable goods in the city. The display of shawls is such as to satisfy the most fastidious. To all of our patrons we say call at Sills' before purchasing, and see if we have misrepresented the case.

Walter A. Wood's Reaping and Mowing Machines, advertised inside first cover, have been before the country for several years. These machines have been brought to a great degree of perfection, and the immense sales have compelled the manufacturers to enlarge their works from time to time, until they have become the largest in the world. The demand for this and foreign countries is constantly increasing, and the Medals and First Premiums that have been awarded these Machines in England, France and America, far surpass those received by any other machines. Over 120,000 of them have already been sold. They are manufactured at Hoosick Falls, N. Y., by the Walter A. Wood Mowing and Reaping Machine Company. Their manufactory was destroyed by fire in March 1870, and before the remains were cold, the plan for a new building was arranged, and in less than two weeks, work was commenced in the new building. The facilities for manufacturing are such that one hundred machines can be made daily.

The Troy Eagle Dye House was established in 1837, and since 1844 has been under the proprietorship of C. W. Shacklady. The reputation of the establishment during this time has been such as to draw in custom from a wide extent of territory. Thousands of dollars have been saved by having garments cleaned and dyed, making them almost as good as new, when otherwise they would be valueless. Silk, Woolen or Cotton Goods, of all descriptions, are dyed and finished in the best style. For particulars call at 430 River Street, or see advertisement on page 298.

William Madden, Undertaker and Coffin Maker, No. 98 Third Street, Troy, N. Y., has superior facilities for executing all kinds of work in his line. He keeps on hand a good assortment of Coffins and makes to order any style required. He is prompt in the execution of all orders in every department of his business. See card on page 310.

The Troy Daily Press, published by Parmenter & Clark, 208 and 210 River Street, Troy, N. Y., is advertised on page 240. This paper is devoted to the dissemination of Democratic principles and has no rival north of Albany. A weekly edition, called the Weekly News Press, is issued from the same office. It contains a summary of local and general news, and a large amount of reading matter.

The Troy Agricultural Warehouse and Seed Store, advertised on page 264, was started in the spring of 1842, by Mr. Henry Warren. It was the first exclusively agricultural store established in this County. It was at first opened in a small building above the bridge. The business gradually increased until 1857, when Mr. George M. Taylor became a partner, since which the firm has been Warren & Taylor. To meet the demands of their increasing business, they erected last fall a large building at the foot of Grand Division Street. It is about 62 feet square, four stories high in front, and five in the rear. This firm are among the largest dealers in grindstones in this country, and keep constantly on hand a large assortment for manufacturers, mechanics and farmers. Their stock of seeds of all kinds, for the farm and garden, is unsurpassed in variety and quality, and farmers and gardeners may rely upon finding these seeds just what they are represented to be. All desirable agricultural implements are kept on hand and sold at reasonable rates. The reputation of this firm for fair dealing, and its perfect reliability, furnish the secret of their success. We commend them to the patronage of all our readers. Remember the place, foot of Grand Division Street, Troy, N. Y.

B. H. Hidley's Piano and Organ Rooms, No. 12 Mansion House, Troy, N. Y., are advertised on page 284. Mr. Hidley keeps a good assortment of Pianos and Melodeons, from some of the best manufacturers in the country, and sells at prices as low as the times will allow. He also keeps a general assortment of musical merchandise of every description, which he sells at wholesale and retail. Dealers and others will find this a good place to purchase all kinds of goods. Musical Instruments tuned and repaired at short notice.

J. S. Tobey & Co., Merchant Tailors, No. 236 River Street, Troy, N. Y., advertise on colored page 281. To those who ask, "Where shall we go to buy Clothing," we reply, call on Tobey & Co. and examine their extensive stock of goods for Boys' and Men, ask the prices, see the throng of customers continually leaving the store in fits, and you will need no further information as to where you should purchase your Clothing. The best goods of American and Foreign manufacture are always to be found here, and an endless variety of Furnishing Goods at the lowest prices. Let those who want well made, fashionable suits, give them a call.

P. J. STRAIN,
Watch Maker and Jeweler,
 No. 38 King St., Troy, N. Y.
 Old Gold and Silver Bought or Exchanged.

N. B.—Prompt attention paid to Repairing Watches and Jewelry.

Sheldon, Greene & Co., manufacturers and wholesale dealers in Stoves and Heaters, No. 66 Sixth Street, Troy, N. Y., advertise on page 308. The celebrated "Improved Olive Branch Cooking Stove," and the "Lively Times Self-Feeding Parlor Stove," are among the most desirable Stoves now offered to the public. The "Olive Branch," with Greene's Patent Hot Air Draft, appears to be about as near perfect as we can expect a Stove to be. By means of this improvement, hot air only is admitted to the grate, thereby making the combustion perfect and saving at least one-third of the fuel. Those who are now using the Olive Branch will be glad to learn that this improvement can be attached to their Stoves at a very small expense. Their assortment of Stoves is such as to meet the demand of the trade.

Charles W. Harris, Music Publisher and dealer in Pianos, Organs and Music Merchandise generally, Nos. 3 and 4 Wotkyns' Block, Congress Street, Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 300. Mr. Harris commenced business in a small way five or six years ago, and by enterprise, industry and fair dealing, has built up a large trade. Anything in the line of Music Books or Musical Instruments can be procured at this place on as good terms as at any other establishment in Troy. We advise all our readers to call at Harris's, where country dealers will be supplied on liberal terms.—Mr. H. has the wholesale agency for a large part of the State of New York and Vermont, for the Burdett Organs. This store is a branch of 481 Broadway, New York.

Dr. N. D. Ross, Dentist, No. 18 Third Street, Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 274. He is prepared to attend to all calls of a professional character, and will render his work satisfactory in all cases. Those wishing operations, either in the surgical or mechanical department, will do well to give him a call.

Troy Daily Times, published by J. M. Francis & Tucker, 209 and 211 River Street, Troy, N. Y., is advertised on page 248. The Times is known and read of all in this part of the State, and needs no recommendation from us. The Weekly Times contains the most important news and editorials of the Daily, and as a family paper is worthy of an extensive circulation. The Job Printing department of the establishment is supplied with everything necessary for the execution of first-class work.

M. V. Molloy, manufacturer and dealer in Harnesses, Trunks, Traveling Bags &c., No. 208 River Street, Troy, N. Y., publishes an advertisement on inside of back cover. No one can enter this large establishment and take even a cursory view of the goods displayed without being satisfied that this is the place to purchase all goods in this line. No matter what you may want in the line of Trunks or Traveling Bags, here you will find it, at prices that cannot fail to suit. Harnesses of every style, plain and fancy, and of the best materials, are always on hand or made to order. Those who have little ones, will find a fine assortment of childrens' carriages, at prices to suit the taste and the pockets of all customers. For further information see advertisement and call at the store.

Schaghticoke Powder Co., manufacture the various kinds of Sporting, Mining and Blasting Gunpowder, at Schaghticoke, N. Y. The Company advertise on page 200.

The China and Japan Tea Co., No. 102 Congress Street, Troy, N. Y., is advertised on page 292. Mr. Wm. Armstrong, the proprietor, is selling Tea, Coffee, Spice &c., at greatly reduced rates. Those who have not yet learned from their store men that goods are falling, will ascertain the fact by calling at No. 102. They will find Mr. A. ready to wait upon them and give them good goods for their money.

Betts & Medbury, dealers in Dry Goods, No. 13 Mansion House Block, Broadway, Troy, N. Y., are successors to Keeler & Betts, and have one of the best assortments of Dry Goods to be found in the market. They are enterprising and reliable business men and keep a sharp lookout for the trade, so that they are able to do as well by their customers as any firm in the city. The Mourning Department is a specialty and embraces all goods in that line necessary for a complete outfit. They advertise on page 280.

James L. Green, proprietor of Berlin Grist and Flouring Mill, Berlin, Rensselaer Co., N. Y., advertises on page 244. Mr. Green is also the manufacturer of Bent Felloes and Shafts of the best of timber. He has a Foundry where he manufactures Plows, Cultivators, Sleigh Shoes and various other articles. We commend Mr. Green to all in want of anything in his line. If you are in doubt as to where you can procure a particular casting, call on Mr. G. and in all probability you will be accommodated.

J. M. Warren & Co., Importers and dealers in Hardware, Iron, Steel, Nails &c., 241 and 243 River Street, Troy, N. Y., advertise on page 324. This House was established in 1809, and has grown up with the large and important manufacturing interests of that city and the surrounding country. They have from time to time added to their general Iron and Hardware business, stocks of Tools and supplies for the use of Railroads, Mills, Machinists, Engineers, Tin and Sheet Iron workers, Blacksmiths, Carpenters &c., so that they are now able to supply all classes of trade. For variety and excellence of quality their stock of goods cannot be surpassed in the State. Dealers will consult their own interest, as well as that of Warren & Co., by giving them a call.

Cohn & Lieberman, manufacturers and dealers in Hats, Caps and Furs, No. 204 River Street, Troy, N. Y., publish a card on page 318. Those of our readers who want a good nice silk hat that will fit them exactly, can have their wants supplied by calling at this establishment.—Those who have old furs which are out of style can have them altered and put in good style. In a word, call on Cohn & Lieberman for anything in the line of Hats, Caps and Furs, and you will be sure to have your wants supplied at as low prices as at any other establishment in this part of the State.

Troy Female Seminary, advertised on page 302, still maintains the high reputation it gained under its founder. It offers superior advantages for the education of young ladies in all branches, either plain or ornamental. The graduates of this Institution are scattered throughout the country, and the Seminary has for its patrons the residents of all parts of the country. Its reputation is too well and favorably known to need any commendation from us. For particulars address Mr. or Mrs. Willard, Principals, Troy, N. Y.

Berlin Hotel, Berlin, Rensselaer Co., N. Y., is advertised on page 336. Mr. A. B. Niles, the proprietor of this house, devotes his personal attention to the wants of his guests, and spares no pains to make them feel at home. A good Livery Stable, Billiard Room &c., are among the attractions of the place. Give him a call.

Goodrich & Woodcock, dealers in the Improved Howe Sewing Machine, No. 469 Fulton Street, Troy, N. Y., advertise on page 336. The Sewing Machine has become a necessity in every well-regulated household, and though there is a great variety of style and manufacture, each possesses some advantages, either in price or in excellence, so that all tastes and purses may be suited. The agents of the several machines will duly set forth their merits, and customers must judge for themselves after examining the work produced.

Mr. Fred. S. Goodrich keeps a fine assortment of Clocks, Watches, Jewelry &c., at the same place, to which we desire to call the attention of our readers.

Smart & Barnes, dealers in Gas, Steam and Water Pipe Fittings, 217 River Street, Troy, N. Y., publish a card on page 310. This firm are successors to the Southwick's, and keep a good supply of all goods in their line. Their stock of Pumps, of the most approved patterns, is large, and will be sold at prices which cannot fail to suit. We commend them to the patronage of all parties interested.

A. Cobden, proprietor of Picture Gallery, corner of Fourth and River Streets, Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 330. Mr. Cobden has rooms fitted up in good style, where he is taking pictures of all kinds in a style equal to the best. He thoroughly understands his business and keeps pace with the times, adopting all real improvements as they become manifest, making pictures that are unsurpassed in excellence. Give him a call.

Mrs. S. T. Brewer's Confectionery and Ice Cream Rooms, No. 109 Congress Street, Troy, N. Y., are advertised on page 286. Mrs. B. keeps a good assortment of Toys and Fancy Goods and furnishes Cool Soda from the Polar Fountain during the hot weather. She has recently removed to this store, which she has filled and furnished in first-class order. We advise our friends to give her a call.

Fairweather & Williams, Grocers, No. 380 River Street, Troy, N. Y., advertise on page 136. "A sixpence saved is equivalent to a shilling earned," is an old saying and a true one. To effect a saving in the purchase of Groceries we advise our patrons to visit the establishment of Fairweather & Williams, who have at all times a varied and extensive assortment of staple and fancy Groceries, which they are selling at a very small advance upon the cost. In fancy Groceries they cannot be surpassed. Give them a try, and our word for it, you will never regret it.

Main Brothers, agents for the Davis Vertical Feed, Improved Shuttle Sewing Machine, No. 460 Fulton Street, Troy, N. Y., advertise on page 234. The great demand for Sewing Machines and the sharp rivalry between those interested in different machines, has led to many improvements, until it would seem that there must soon be an end to them. The machine advertised by the Main Brothers, possesses some advantages worthy of examination by all who propose to purchase. By calling at the Sales Room, persons will see specimens of the work and learn the peculiar excellences of the machine.

P. J. Strain, Watch Maker and Jeweler, No. 38 King Street, Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 340. Mr. Strain keeps on hand a good assortment of Watches and Jewelry, which he will sell to all in want at the lowest price consistent with living. He does all kinds of repairing of Watches and Jewelry and warrants all work. Give him a call.

Henry Bowler, Brewer of Ale and Porter, Nos. 191 and 193 Second St., Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 138. Mr. Bowler manufactures the various kinds of Ale usually kept on sale, and furnishes to all dealers.

W. H. Lewis & Co., dealers in Hardware, Stoves, Tinware &c., Berlin, N. Y., advertise on page 244. They keep a general assortment of all goods usually kept in a first-class Stove Store. Those who have had dealings with Messrs. L. & Co. know them to be fair dealing men, and that customers get their money's worth. Call and see.

C. S. Shattuck, Merchant Tailor, No. 316½ River Street, Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 312. Those who are about to lay in a supply of clothing this spring will consult their own interest by calling at Shattuck's and examining his new and choice selection of goods. After selecting the materials they can have them made up in the best style and in the most substantial manner. Mr. S's stock of Furnishing Goods is large and fine. Give him a call.

Charles P. Craig, Lock and Gun Smith, No. 382 River Street, Troy, N. Y., publishes a card on page 204. Mr. Craig is prepared to repair locks, fit keys, file saws, repair cutlery of all kinds, and in fact do almost all kinds of work that requires mechanical skill. A little expense will make an article as good as new, when otherwise it would be worthless. Give him your patronage.

James Fleming, importer of Brandy, Gins, Wines &c., and dealer in all kinds of liquors, No. 200 Fourth Street, Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 152. Those who will use the critter will find it in all forms at Fleming's.

Witbeck & Co., Forwarders and Freighters, Foot of West Tenth Street, Castleton, N. Y., advertise on page 308.—Messrs. Witbeck & Co. are extensive dealers in all kinds of Country Produce and will forward promptly all goods consigned to their care. Farmers will find it for their advantage to bring their produce to this firm. Fertilizers of all kinds supplied to order and in quantities to suit purchasers.

Petersburgh Carriage Factory. We take pleasure in calling the attention of our patrons to this establishment, feeling assured that by so doing we are serving them as well as Messrs. A. L. & H. E. Stillman, the proprietors. Persons in want of a good carriage can procure it of Messrs. Stillman, made of the best materials and in a style to suit. We congratulate the citizens of this part of the County, in having a first-class manufactory in their midst. Let it receive the patronage it deserves. See card, page 168.

William McGuire & Son, Builders and dealers in Ornamental Center Pieces and Trusses, corner of Second and Jefferson Streets, Troy, N. Y., advertise on page 137. These parties have been engaged in business for many years and are among the best mechanics of the city. Persons wishing anything in the line of Plain or Ornamental Plastering, will find Messrs. McGuire & Son ready to do it in the best manner and at reasonable prices. Give them a call.

S. E. Mount, of the National Fur Store, No. 342 River and 11 Fourth Streets, Troy, N. Y., advertise on page 87. This is the finest and best Fur Store in the city, and the stock is large and select. Those who wish for the most valuable goods as well as those who wish for a cheaper article can here be accommodated. As all goods are warranted to be just what they are represented or the money refunded, customers need not fear to purchase.

David Burke, Undertaker and Coffin maker, No. 229 Fourth Street, Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 152. Mr. Burke keeps a good assortment of Coffins and all goods usually kept by Undertakers. All orders for Hearses, Carriages, &c., will meet with prompt attention.

South Petersburg Hotel, under the management of S. H. Eldred, justly merits the patronage it receives. The house has been thoroughly repaired and fitted up with a view to the comfort and convenience of guests. The rooms are large and airy, the Landlord and all employes about the house, attentive and polite, and the charges moderate. In connection with the house is a good Livery, and stages leave twice a day for North Petersburg and Berlin. We refer our readers to Mr. Eldred's card on page 168.

Paper Boats were first introduced at Troy, N. Y., in the fall of 1867; but it was not until the season of 1868 that they were regularly manufactured for sale. The inventors and patentees, Messrs Geo. A. and Elisha Waters, associated with Colonel Geo. T. Balch, late of the U. S. Army, under the firm name of Waters, Balch & Co., are at present the only manufacturers of these boats in the United States. At their manufactory in the northern part of the city, they employ ten men in the business, and as it is rapidly increasing they expect to find it necessary to enlarge their facilities and their force during the present year. These boats have been sold and used all over the United States and in Canada, and their shell boats for racing, were rowed by the winners of fourteen matched races in 1868, and twenty-six in 1869, a record unapproached by the work of any other builder. Continual improvement, in model, workmanship and speed, are being made, and they bid fair to come into general use wherever boats are used for racing, hunting, traveling, exercise or pleasure. See advertisement, page 87.

Troy Artificial Hair Store, No. 462 Fulton Street, Troy, N. Y., is advertised on page 137. Madam M. Ellis, the proprietor, thoroughly understands her business and is prepared to dress ladies' hair and manufacture Wigs, Toupees, and indeed all kinds of Hair Work and Jewelry. Those who have lost the covering that nature has given them for the head, can, by applying to Madam Ellis, have an artificial one that can with difficulty be distinguished from the original. Give her a call.

Enoch Copley, House, Sign and Carriage Painter, No. 469 River Street, Troy, N. Y., publishes a card on page 192. Mr. Copley will do any kind of Decorative Painting and Paper Hanging in good style and at short notice. Call and see.

Edward Noble & Co., dealers in Doors, Sash and Blinds, Oils, Glass, Putty, Paper Hanging &c., No. 469 River Street, Troy, N. Y., keep a good assortment of all articles in their line and sell at prices which cannot fail to suit. We advise all our patrons to call and examine their stock before purchasing elsewhere. See card on page 188.

J. J. Dulley, Wood Carver, 407 River St., Troy, N. Y., publishes a card on page 137. Mr. Dulley is prepared to do all kinds of work in his line in a manner to suit the most exacting. We commend him to all parties interested.

Flagg & Frear, dealers in Dry Goods, 3 and 4 Cannon Place, Troy, N. Y., publish an advertisement on page 260. We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to this large and reliable establishment. Their stock of fine dress Goods is such as to commend them to the ladies, and their stock of Cloaks and Shawls is always up with the times and adapted to all seasons. They do business upon the one price system, and guarantee satisfaction or refund the money. Dealers in the country will find no better place to purchase their stock of Dry Goods than at 3 and 4 Cannon Place. Let those interested call and satisfy themselves on this point.

Loth & Baudoin, Architects and Mechanical Draughtsmen, No. 88 Congress Street, Troy, N. Y., advertise on page 294. This firm are prepared to furnish plans and specifications for all kinds of public or private buildings, and superintend their construction. Parties who contemplate building will consult their own interest by calling on Messrs. Loth & Baudoin. We take pleasure in commending them to the patronage of our readers. Their rooms are 5 and 6, second floor of A. McCusker's Building.

The New Light.—That anything new in the line of Cooking Stoves should be invented, that is really worthy to take the place of the many that have hitherto been before the public, is indeed a wonder. We have not the space to give a full description of the many excellent qualities of the New Light Cooking Stove, but from an examination of its new features and from the recommendations of those who have tested it, we are satisfied that it is destined to become a general favorite. It is manufactured by Buswell, Durant & Co., Troy, N. Y., and is advertised on colored page 282.

Clifford Newell, Stereotyper, corner of River and Fourth Streets, Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 278. Mr. N. has facilities for executing all kinds of Book and Job Work, and from his thorough knowledge of the business is prepared to satisfy the reasonable demands of all customers. Give him a call.

Stephen Holland, proprietor of Picture Store and News Depot, No. 53 Congress Street, Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 314. Mr. H. keeps one of the finest assortments of Chromos and Steel Engravings to be found this side of New York City. He has adopted the system of selling and receiving his pay in weekly or monthly installments, thereby accommodating persons of moderate means. Works of Art are important educators, and have such an elevating and refining influence that few people can afford to do without them. Persons in want of Pictures or Mirrors will do well to call and examine his stock.

J. W. Kennedy, dealer in Furniture, No. 466 and 468 River Street, Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 276. Mr. Kennedy has had many years experience in all Fancy Cabinet work, employs none but experienced workmen and uses the best of materials. He is prepared to execute all orders for Upholstery and repairing Furniture, making use of French Polishing, Oil Polish, Waxing and Varnishing, thereby making old Furniture appear like new.

A. O. Johnson, dealer in Boots, Shoes, Rubbers &c., No. 20 King Street, Troy, N. Y., publishes a neatly illustrated advertisement on page 300. Mr. J. has recently removed to his new quarters where he has a very pleasant store and a fine assortment of all goods in his line, and of a quality and price that cannot fail to suit his customers. We commend him to the patronage of all interested parties. Persons wishing any kind of repairing will have it neatly and promptly done at Johnson's.

American Tea Company, No. 8 Wotkyns Block, Congress Street, Troy, N. Y., advertise on page 318. Mr. R. Quackenbush, the proprietor, is offering to the public a choice lot of Teas, Coffee, Sugar and Spices, at greatly reduced prices. As he makes a specialty of these goods, customers will find it for their advantage to call on him.

G. D. Golden, Undertaker, William Street, near State, Troy, N. Y., advertises on page 292. Mr. Golden is the oldest Undertaker in Troy, and keeps a good assortment of Coffins, Caskets and all articles usually kept in a first-class establishment. He gives his personal attention to all orders and furnishes at short notice all articles required in his line. We commend him to our patrons.

P. W. Bishop, advertises his Billiard, Dining and Ice Cream Rooms, No. 12 Third Street, Troy, N. Y.; on page 252. These rooms are elegantly fitted up and supplied with everything for the comfort and convenience of patrons. The old and reliable waiter, D. B. Chew, has charge of the eating department, and Charles Efer, the champion billiard player, is in charge of the Billiard Rooms. The Bar is one of the finest in the City. All the luxuries of the season are provided for the table, and meals are served up at all hours.
